Summit Life Corporation and Subsidiaries
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

NOTE A - BASIS OF PRESENTATION

The accompanying unaudited consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles for interim financial information. Accordingly, they do not include all of the information and footnotes required by generally accepted accounting principles for complete financial statements. In the opinion of management, all adjustments (consisting of normal recurring accruals) considered necessary for a fair presentation have been included. Operating results for the three month period ended March 31, 2001 are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for the year ended December 31, 2001. For further information, refer to the consolidated annual financial statements and footnotes thereto for the year ended December 31, 2000.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis or Plan of Operation.

This Report includes "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. All statements other than statements of historical facts included in this Report, including, without limitation, statements regarding the Company's future financial position, business strategy, budgets, projected costs and plans and objectives of Management for future operations, are forward-looking statements. In addition, forward-looking statements generally can be identified by the use of forward-looking terminology such as "may," "will," "expect," "intend," "estimate," "anticipate" or "believe" or the negative thereof or variations thereon or similar terminology. Although the Company believes that the expectations reflected in such forward-looking statements are reasonable, it can give no assurance that such expectations will prove to have been correct. Such statements are based upon numerous assumptions about future conditions which may ultimately prove to be inaccurate and actual events and results may materially differ from anticipated results described in such statements. Important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from the Company's expectations ("cautionary statements") include the risks inherent generally in the insurance and financial services industries, the impact of competition and product pricing, changing market conditions, the risks disclosed in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-KSB for the Year Ended December 31, 2000 under "ITEM 6--Management's Discussion and Analysis or Plan of Operation," as well as the risks disclosed in this Report. All subsequent written and oral forward-looking statements attributable to the Company, or persons acting on its behalf, are expressly qualified in their entirety by these cautionary statements. The Company assumes no duty to update or revise its forward-looking statements based on changes in internal estimates or expectations or otherwise. As a result, the reader is cautioned not to place reliance on these forward-looking statements.

Edgar Filing: SUMMIT LIFE CORP - Form 10QSB

General

The Company's primary focus is its life insurance operations.

Results of Operations

Three Months Ended March 31, 2001 Compared to Three Months ended March 31, 2000

Revenue. Total revenues decreased 65% from $162,804 to $57,322 for the three months ended March 31, 2000 and March 31, 2001, respectively. Revenues attributable to life insurance increased 9% from $29,271 to $32,018 for the three months ended March 31, 2001, compared to the same period ended March 31, 2000. The increase was due primarily to implementation of the Company's marketing and sales programs.

Investment income decreased from $103,505 for the three months ended March 31, 2000 to $80,098 for the three months ended March 31, 2001, primarily as a result of surrenders during the prior year which decreased the asset base of the Company.

Income from the sale of investments decreased from $24,723 for the three months ended March 31, 2000 to a loss of $7,347 for the three months ended March 31, 2001. Net losses on trading securities of $56,431 were reported for March 31, 2001. The Company began trading securities in the fourth quarter of 2000 and is required to report such unrealized gains and losses in operations. The realized gain or loss for each trading security may differ materially depending on the date of sale, the underlying performance of the represented company and other market conditions.

Other income increased 69% from $5,305 for the three months ended March 31, 2000 to $8,984 for the three months ended March 31, 2001, due to the recognition of additional revenues from administrative service contracts.

Edgar Filing: SUMMIT LIFE CORP - Form 10QSB

Costs and Expenses. Total expenses decreased 20% from $261,129 to $208,263 for the three months ended March 31, 2000 and 2001, respectively. Such decrease was primarily attributable to promotional expenses associated with a change in the Company's investor relations firm, as well as efforts to reduce legal and professional expenses. Management continued its cost containment program in other areas as well.

Policy benefits increased slightly from $33,667 to $35,689 for the comparable periods. Policy reserves decreased $16,958 for the comparable periods. Interest expense decreased 44% from $8,570 to $4,826 for the comparable periods due to continuing reduction of Company debt. Depreciation and amortization increased from $18,066 to $28,957 for the three months ended March 31, 2000 and 2001, respectively, as the Company continued to amortize the block of business acquired with Great Midwest Life Insurance Company ("Great Midwest"). General expenses decreased 32% from $136,626 to $93,100 as a result of the reduced promotional, legal and accounting expenses and due to management's cost containment programs.

Losses. The Company reported a net loss for the three months ended March 31, 2001 of $150,941, compared to a net loss for the three months ended March 31, 2000 of $98,325. The Company reported trading losses during the quarter which management believes are temporary.

The Company reported a net loss of $0.07 per share for the three months ended March 31, 2001, compared to a net loss of $0.05 per share for the three months ended March 31, 2000.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Total assets were $6,317,251 at March 31, 2001, compared to $6,162,682 at December 31, 2000, an increase of 2.5%. The increase was due to the receipt of new annuity deposits during the first quarter.

Total liabilities (primarily insurance reserves for future policyholder benefits) were $5,451,871 at March 31, 2001, compared to $5,187,382 at December 31, 2000, an increase of 5%. The increase was due primarily to new annuity deposits received during the first quarter.

Total stockholders' equity was $865,380 at March 31, 2001, compared to $975,300 at December 31, 2000, a decrease of 11.3%. The decrease was attributable to the stock market volatility which impacted the Company's first quarter results.

The principal requirements for liquidity in connection with the Company's operations are its contractual obligations to policyholders and annuitants. The Company's contractual obligations include payments of surrender benefits, contract withdrawals, policy loans and claims under outstanding insurance policies and annuities. Payment of surrender benefits is a function of "persistency," which is the extent to which insurance policies are maintained by the policyholder. Policyholders sometimes do not pay premiums, thus causing their policies to lapse, or policyholders may choose to surrender their policies for their cash surrender value. If actual experience of a policy or block of policies is different from the initial or acquisition date assumptions, a gain or loss could result. Depending on the nature of the underlying policy, a lapse or surrender may result in surrender charge revenue or surrender benefit expense. Such amounts may be less than, or greater than, unamortized acquisition expenses and/or the related policy reserves; accordingly, current period earnings may either increase or decrease. Additionally, policy lapses and surrenders may result in lost future revenues and profits associated with those policies that are lapsed or surrendered.

Although the Company currently has a $200,000 bank line of credit, it funds most of its activity directly from cash flow from operations and cash flow from financing activities, which includes deposits to policyholders' account balances. The line of credit extends to July 2001, with amounts borrowed thereunder bearing interest at prime plus .5%. At March 31, 2001, $150,000 was outstanding under the line of credit and, as of March 31, 2001, the Company has drawn the $50,000 remaining under the credit facility.

On January 13, 1999, the Company acquired 100% of the outstanding common stock of Great Midwest, a Texas-chartered life insurance company. The total cost of the acquisition was approximately $939,000. Of the purchase price, cash of $607,000 was paid to seven of eight stockholders with the eighth stockholder receiving a promissory note for a principal amount of $332,000, payable in three equal annual installments at an annual interest rate of 6% on the unpaid principal balance. The Company partially funded the cash portion of the purchase price with a $350,000 loan from a bank. The loan accrued interest at an index rate plus .5%, payable monthly, and originally matured on July 9, 1999, at which time the Company paid $100,000 of the principal amount owed and renewed the balance for a six-month term maturing January 9, 2000. The balance of the loan was paid December 31, 1999 using operating cash flow and the proceeds from the sale of Benefit Capital. In addition, the Company has paid two of the three installments on the promissory note held by a former stockholder of Great Midwest.

The Company has made and intends to make substantial expenditures in connection with its subsidiary's acquisition and marketing programs. Historically, the Company has funded these expenditures from cash flow from operations.

The Company believes that the liquidity resulting from the transactions described above, together with anticipated cash from continuing operations, should be sufficient to fund its operations and to make required payments under its credit facility, the required payments of principal and interest under the 6% promissory notes payable to a former stockholder of Great Midwest and the annual 10% dividend on the Series A Preferred Stock, for at least the next 12 months. The Company may not, however, generate sufficient cash flow for these purposes or to repay the notes at maturity. The Company's ability to fund its operations and to make scheduled principal and interest payments will depend on its future performance, which, to a certain extent, is subject to general economic, financial, competitive, legislative, regulatory and other factors that are beyond its control.
