Infosys Technologies Limited (the "Company") hereby furnishes the United States Securities and Exchange Commission with the information contained in this Report on Form 6-K. The following information shall not be deemed "filed" for purposes of Section 18 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"), or incorporated by reference in any filing of the Company under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or the Exchange Act, except as shall be expressly set forth by specific reference in such a filing.

The information furnished in this Report on Form 6-K relates to two recent incidents involving the Company's Insider Trading Rules. Pursuant to the terms of the Insider Trading Rules, a director, officer or certain other designated employees of the Company ("Designated Individuals") may buy or sell the Company's securities only after prior notification to the Company pursuant to a pre-clearance process prescribed by the Company, may only buy or sell securities during an open trading window, and must notify the Company within one business day following any change in such Designated Individual's shareholding. The process prescribed by the Company requires a Designated Individual to apply to the Company's Compliance Officer for pre-clearance of each such transaction and to provide certain information and undertakings to the Company through its Compliance Officer.

On December 7, 2007, Mr. Jeffrey Sean Lehman, an independent director of the Company, sold 900 American Depositary Shares ("ADSs") of the Company. Mr. Lehman notified the Company of his intent to sell his ADSs, sold such ADSs during an open trading window and notified the Company within one business day following the execution of the transaction. However, Mr. Lehman inadvertently failed to seek the approval of the Company's Compliance Officer and also failed to provide the Company with the requisite information and undertakings in advance of such sale, which failures were a violation of the Company's Insider Trading Rules. The audit committee of the Company's board of directors, which is responsible for oversight of compliance with the Company's standards of business conduct, on January 2, 2008, determined that Mr. Lehman's failure to seek the approval of the Company's Compliance Officer and to provide the requisite information and undertakings in advance of the sale of ADSs was a technical violation of the Insider Trading Rules, which forms a part of the Company's Code of Conduct, and therefore imposed upon Mr. Lehman a penalty of $2,000, which Mr. Lehman was directed to donate to a charitable organization of his choice. Mr. Lehman has made the donation as directed by the Company's audit committee.

Additionally, on December 24, 2007, Mr. S. Gopalakrishnan, the Chief Executive Officer and Managing Director of the Company, inherited 12,800 equity shares from his mother. Mr. Gopalakrishnan inadvertently failed to notify the Company within one business day following the change in his shareholding, which failure was also a violation of the Company's Insider Trading Rules. On January 10, 2008, the audit committee of the Company's board of directors determined that Mr. Gopalakrishnan's failure to provide notification was a technical violation of the Insider Trading Rules, although it noted that it believed that Mr. Gopalakrishnan had no intention of contravening the Insider Trading Rules. However, given the position of responsibility held by Mr. Gopalakrishnan in the Company, the audit committee imposed upon him a penalty of Rs. 5,00,000/-, which Mr. Gopalakrishnan was directed to donate to a charitable organization of his choice. Mr. Gopalakrishnan has made the donation as directed by the Company's audit committee.
