Item 9. Regulation FD Disclosure

Today Sabre Inc., the direct subsidiary of Sabre Holdings Corporation, announced a multi-year master services agreement with WNS North America, Inc. (WNS). Under the agreement, Travelocity.com LP (Travelocity), an indirect subsidiary of Sabre Holdings Corporation, will globally source to WNS a portion of its contact center operations, primarily front line customer service calls and back-office fulfillment. The agreement is part of Travelocity's ongoing efforts to maintain its competitiveness and to position itself for profitability in 2004 and beyond.

While specific savings from this agreement will depend upon the volume of transactions, Travelocity anticipates approximately $10 million in such savings during 2004. Travelocity also expects these savings to increase over the term of the agreement as transaction volumes increase.

Travelocity worked diligently over several years to improve the cost structure of its contact centers, but ultimately attrition levels and competition with other online players has regrettably forced it to take outsourcing actions similar to its competitors. Travelocity is committed to providing its customers with an outstanding customer experience both online and offline and believes that a business focused specifically on contact centers, such as WNS, will consistently provide excellent support and service to Travelocity customers. WNS concentrates on providing call center services and has significant travel industry expertise.

Travelocity employees will continue to handle sales calls, as well as advanced customer service issues and quality control. By the end of the first quarter of 2005, WNS should be handling Travelocity's front-line customer service calls and emails, as well as some mid- and back-office functions (including ticketing/queues/reissues). WNS will transition these day-to-day operations of the customer service functions to its contact centers located in India.

Travelocity plans to close its contact center in Clintwood, Virginia by the end of 2004, and expects that some staff reductions will also occur in San Antonio, Texas. Although the transition of services to WNS will take place over 7 to 12 months, Travelocity is advising its employees today to give them as much transition time as possible. Travelocity will be working to minimize the impact of this decision on its employees by offering them opportunities to move to other positions, job transition services, relocation options, and a severance program.

Attached hereto as Exhibit 99.1 is a document containing scripted Questions and Answers that the Company intends to use when discussing this contract with representatives of the financial community.
