A. HECO 2009 test year rate case

The following is an update to the discussion in Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations Electric utility under Most recent rate requests HECO 2009 test year rate case, and under Decoupling proceeding, which is incorporated herein by reference to pages 66-68 of HEI's and HECO's Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended March 31, 2010, and pages 59-60 of HEI's and HECO's Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended September 30, 2010, respectively.

On December 29, 2010, the Public Utilities Commission of the State of Hawaii (PUC) issued a final decision and order (D&O) in HECO's 2009 test year rate case proceeding, which allows HECO to implement immediately the decoupling mechanism approved by the PUC in the decoupling proceeding in August 2010. In the final D&O, the PUC determined that the appropriate return on common equity for the 2009 test year is 10.0% and a return on rate base of 8.16%, which reflect the PUC's approval of decoupling, and other cost-recovery mechanisms for HECO that the PUC concluded will cumulatively lower HECO's financial risk. In that regard, the PUC also approved the power purchase adjustment clause which will allow HECO to recover purchase power expenses through a surcharge mechanism rather than through base rates as currently recovered, which is also intended to lower financial risk of recovery of such expenses. The final D&O also made certain adjustments (both upward and downward and cumulatively minor) to test year expenses and rate base used in determining the interim increases.

Based on the final D&O, HECO will file the final revenue requirements in a couple weeks. The Consumer Advocate and Department of Defense (parties in the proceeding) will have an opportunity to review the filing. HECO expects the final annual revenue requirements will be slightly lower (approximately $1 million) than the interim increases totaling $73.8 million in annual revenues granted by the PUC in their interim decisions that became effective in August 2009 and February 2010. HECO will refund to its customers the excess amounts collected under interim decisions, with interest. HECO will also implement decoupling including the revenue adjustment mechanism and immediately begin tracking the target revenues and actual recorded revenues as established by the decoupling D&O.

HEI and HECO intend to continue to use HEI's website, www.hei.com, as a means of disclosing material and other important information and for complying with its disclosure obligations under SEC Regulation FD. Such disclosures will be included on HEI's website under the headings News & Events and Financial Information in the Investor Relations section. Accordingly, investors should routinely monitor such portions of HEI's website, in addition to following HEI's, HECO's and American Savings Bank's press releases, SEC filings and public conference calls and webcasts. Investors should also refer to the PUC website at dms.puc.hawaii.gov/dms in order to review documents filed with and issued by the PUC.
