3. New Accounting Pronouncements:

The following is a summary of new standards, interpretations and improvements to the International Financial Reporting Standards issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB) and rules issued by the Superintendency of Banks and Financial Institutions (SBIF), as per the following detail:

3.1 Accounting rules issued by IASB:

IAS 32 Financial Instruments: Presentation

The amendments issued in December 2011, clarify the meaning of currently has a legally enforceable right to set-off. The amendments also clarify the application of the IAS 32 offsetting criteria to settlement systems (such as central clearing house systems) which apply gross settlement mechanisms that are not simultaneous. The standard is effective for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2014 and early adoption is permitted.

According to current rules about netting force in Chile, this rule has no impact on the consolidated financial statements of Banco de Chile and its subsidiaries.

IAS 36 Impairment assets

On May 29, 2013, the IASB issued amendments to IAS 36 respect to disclosures information related to recoverable amount of impaired assets, if this amount corresponded to fair value less disposal cost. These modifications are related to IFRS 13: Fair Value measurement.

The amendments will be applied retrospectively to annual periods beginning in January 1, 2014. Early adoption is permitted for the periods that the entity has applied IFRS 13.

The Bank and its subsidiaries appraises that this amendment will not have impact in the consolidated financial statements.

IAS 39 Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement

On June 27, 2013 the IASB issue amendments to IAS 39 related to continuing hedge accounting after novation. This amendment provides an exception to the requirement to discontinue hedge accounting in situations where over-the-counter (OTC) derivatives designated in hedging relationships are directly or indirectly, novated to a central counterparty (CCP) as a consequence of laws or regulations, or the introduction of laws or regulations.

The effective date for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2014. Early adoption is permitted.

IFRS 9 Financial Instruments: Financial liabilities

In October, 2010, the IASB published the requirements for classifying and measuring financial liabilities were added to IFRS 9. Most of the added requirements were carried forward unchanged from IAS 39. However, the requirements related to the fair value option for financial liabilities were changed to address the issue of own credit risk in response to consistent feedback from users of financial statements and others that the effects of changes in a liability's credit risk ought not to affect profit or loss unless the liability is held for trading.

The mandatory effective date for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2015.

IFRS 9 Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement

In November 2009, the IASB issued IFRS 9, Financial Instruments, the first step in its project to replace IAS 39, Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement. IFRS 9 introduces new requirements for classifying and measuring financial assets that are in the scope of the application of IAS 39. This new regulation requires that all financial assets be classified in function of the entity's business model for the management of financial assets and of the characteristics of the contractual cash flows of financial assets. A financial asset shall be measured at amortized cost if two criteria are fulfilled: (a) the objective of the business model is to maintain a financial asset to receive contractual cash flows, and (b) contractual cash flows represent principal and interest payments. Should a financial asset not comply with the aforementioned conditions, it will be measured at fair value. In addition, this standard allows a financial asset that fulfills the criteria to be valued at amortized cost to be designated at fair value with changes in income under the fair value option, as long as this significantly reduces or eliminates an accounting asymmetry. Likewise, IFRS 9 eliminates the requirement of separating embedded derivatives from the host financial assets. Therefore, it requires that a hybrid contract be classified entirely in amortized cost or fair value.

IFRS 9 requires, mandatory and prospective way, that the entity makes reclassifications of financial assets when the entity modifies the business model.

Under IFRS 9, all equity investments of are measured at fair value. However, the Management has the option of present the changes of fair value in the item Other Comprehensive Income in equity. This accounting treatment is available for the initial recognition of an instruments and it is irrevocable. The unrealized income (loss) recognized in Other Comprehensive Income, derived from the changes of fair value, and must be not included in income statements.

IFRS 9 is effective for annual periods commencing as of January 1, 2015, and allows adoption prior to that date. IFRS 9 must be applied retroactively, however if it is adopted before January 1, 2012, there is no need to reformulate comparative periods.

Banco de Chile and its subsidiaries are assessing the possible impact of adoption of these changes on the consolidated financial statements, however, that impact will depend on the assets maintained by the institution as of the adoption date. It is not practicable to quantify the effect on the issuance of these consolidated financial statements. To date, neither of these standards has been approved by the Superintendency of Banks, event that is required for their application.

IFRS 10 Consolidated Financial Statement, IFRS 12 Disclosure of Interests in Other Entities and IAS 27 Separate Financial Statements

The Amendments to IFRS 10, IFRS 12 and IAS 27 incorporate a definition of an investment entity and also introduce an exception to consolidate certain subsidiaries owned investment entities. These amendments require an entity to measure investment considered its investments in subsidiaries at fair value through profit or loss in accordance with IFRS 9 instead of consolidating such subsidiaries.

Amendments also introduce new disclosure requirements related to investment entities IFRS 12 and IAS 27.

If an entity applies these amendments but not applies IFRS 9 yet, any reference in this document to IFRS 9 must be interpreted as a reference to IAS 39 Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement.

The standard is effective for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2014 and early adoption is permitted.

The financial information used to measure the performance of the Bank's business segments is not necessarily comparable with similar information from other financial institutions because it is based on internal reporting policies. The accounting policies used to prepare the Bank's operating segment information are similar as those described in Summary of Significant Accounting Principles. The Bank obtains the majority of its income from: interest, revaluations and fees, discounted the credit cost and expenses. Management is mainly based on these concepts in its evaluation of segment performance and decision-making regarding goals, allocation of resources for each unit individually. Although the results of the segments reconcile with those of the Bank at total level, it is not thus necessarily concerning the different concepts, since the management is measured and controls in individual form and additionally applies the following criteria:

- The net interest margin of loans and deposits is measured on an individual transaction and individual client basis, stemming from the difference between the effective customer rate and the related Bank's fund transfer price in terms of maturity, re-pricing and currency.
- The internal performance profitability system considers capital allocation in each segment in accordance to the Basel guidelines.
- Operating expenses are distributed at each area level. The Bank allocates all of its indirect operating costs to each business segment by utilizing a different cost driver in order to allocate such costs to the specific segment.

The Bank did not enter into transactions with a particular customer or third parties that exceed 10% or more of its total income during the nine-month period ended September 30, 2013 and 2012.

Transfer pricing between operating segments are on an arm's length basis in a manner similar to transactions with third parties.

Taxes are managed at a corporate level and are not allocated to business segments.

The aforementioned hedge instruments change the effective cost of long-term issuances from a fixed interest rate to a variable interest rate, decreasing the duration and modifying the sensitivity to the shortest segments of the curve.

Below is a detail of the hedged elements and hedge instruments under fair value hedges as of September 30, 2013 and December 31, 2012:

(c) Cash flow Hedges:

(c.1) The Bank uses cross currency swaps to hedge the risk from variability of cash flows attributable to changes in the interest rates of bonds and foreign exchange of bonds issued abroad in Mexican pesos to rate TIIE (Interbank Interest Rate Balance) plus 0.6 percentage points, Hong Kong dollars, Peruvian nuevo sol and Swiss franc. The cash flows of the cross currency swaps equal the cash flows of the hedged items, which modify uncertain cash flows to known cash flows derived from a fixed interest rate.

Additionally, these cross currency swap contracts used to hedge the risk from variability of the Unidad de Fomento (CLF) in assets flows denominated in CLF until a nominal amount equal to the portion notional of the hedging instrument CLF, whose readjustment daily impact the item interest revenue of the financial statements.

39. Fair Value of Financial Assets and Liabilities:

Banco de Chile and its subsidiaries have defined a corporate framework for the Fair Value measurement and control to accomplish the Fair Value process according to local regulations, market standards and best practices in the industry. This framework is contained into the Banco de Chile's Fair Value Policy.

One of the most important definition in this framework is the Product Control Unit, hereinafter PCU, function. This area is independent from both the principal management and the business unit, and reports to the CFO of Banco de Chile. This area is responsible for the independent verification of Profit and Losses, and Fair Value measurement and control for all Treasury transactions; Trading, Funding and gapping and Investments deals.

To accomplish the measurements and controls, Banco de Chile and its subsidiaries, take into account at least the following aspects:

- (i) Industry standards of fair value measurements

In the fair value calculation process, Banco de Chile uses standard methodologies; closing prices, discounted cash flows and option models, Black-Scholes models, in case of options. The input parameters are rates, prices and volatility levels for each term and market factor that can change the fair value of any instrument in the portfolio.

- (ii) Quoted prices in active markets

The fair value for instruments with quoted prices in active markets is determined using daily quotes from electronic systems information as Bloomberg and Bolsa de Comercio de Santiago terminals. This quote represents the price at which the instrument is frequently buy and sell in financial markets.

- (iii) Valuation techniques

Edgar Filing: BANK OF CHILE - Form 6-K

If there is not market quotes in active markets for the financial instrument, valuation techniques will be used to determine the fair value.

Due to the fact that fair value models requires a set of market parameters as inputs, it is part of the fair value process to maximize the utilization based in observable quoted prices or derived from similar instruments in active markets. Nevertheless there are some cases for which neither quoted prices nor derived prices are available; in these cases external data from specialized providers, brokers such as ICAP, price for similar transactions and historical information it is used for validate the parameters that will be used as inputs.

(iv) Fair value adjustments

Part of the fair value process consist in adjustment, Market Value Adjustments or MVA for short, to take into account two different market facts; bid/offer spreads and market factors liquidity. These adjustments are calculated and analyzed by the PCU and Risk Market areas.

The bid/offer spread adjustment reflects the expected impact on fair value due to close long or short positions in a specific market factor and term, valued at midpoint. For example, long positions in an asset will be impacted in order to reflect the fact that in selling that position will be quoted at bid instead at midpoint. For the bid/offer spread adjustment, market quotes or indicative prices for each position, instrument, currency and term are used. Bid, mid and offer market quotes are considered.

The liquidity adjustment considers the relative size to the market of each position in the portfolio. This adjustment is intended to reflect the relative size of Banco de Chile and the deepness of the markets. For this adjustment, the size of each position, recent transaction in active markets and recently observed liquidity are taking into account.

(v) Fair value control

To ensure that the market input parameters that Banco de Chile is using for fair value calculations represent the state of the market and the best estimate of fair value, the PCU unit runs on a daily basis an independent verification of prices and rates. This process aims to set a preventive control on the official market parameters provided by the respective business area. A comparative control based on Mark-to-Market differences, using one set of inputs prepared by the business area and one set prepared by the PCU, is conducted before fair value calculations. The output of this process is a set of differences in fair value by currency, product and portfolio. These differences are compared with specific ranges by grouping level; currency, product and portfolio.

In the event when significant differences were detected, these differences are scaled according to the amount of materiality for each grouping level, from a single report to the trader until a report to the Board. These ranges of materiality control are approved by the Assets and Liabilities Committee (ALCO).

Edgar Filing: BANK OF CHILE - Form 6-K

Complementary and in parallel, the PCU generates daily reports of P&L and risk market exposure. These two kind of reports allows adequate control and consistency of the parameters used in the valuation, looking backwards revision.

(vi) Judgmental analysis and information to Senior Management.

In particular no cases where there is no market quotations for the instrument, similar transaction prices or indicative parameters, a reasoned analysis and specific controls should be made to estimate the fair value of the operation or transaction. Within the Banco de Chile's framework for fair value, described in the Fair Value Policy approved by the Board of Banco de Chile, the approval level required for operate this kind of instruments, there is no market information or cannot be inferred from prices or rates, is established.

(a) Fair value hierarchy

Banco de Chile and his subsidiaries, taken into account the preceding statements, classify all the financial instruments among the following levels:

Level 1: Observable, quoted price in active markets for the same instrument or specific type of transaction to be evaluated.

In this level are considered the following instruments: currency futures, Chilean central bank and treasury securities, mutual funds investments and equity.

For the Chilean central bank and treasury securities, all instruments that belong to one of the following benchmark groups will be considered as Level 1: Pesos-02, Pesos-05, Pesos-07, Pesos-10, UF-02, UF-05, UF-07, UF-10, UF-20, UF-30. A benchmark group is composed by a number of instruments that have similar duration and share the same quoted price within the group. This condition allows for a greater depth of the market, assuring daily observable quotes.

For each and every one of these instruments exist daily observable market valuation parameters; internal rates of return and closing prices, respectively, therefore no assumptions are needed to calculate the fair value. For currency futures as well as mutual funds and equity, closing prices times the number of instruments is used for fair value calculations. For Chilean central bank and treasury securities the internal rate of return is used to discount every cash flow and obtain the fair value of each instrument, for each currency; CLP or CLF.

The preceding described methodology corresponds to the one utilized for the Bolsa de Comercio de Santiago (Santiago's main Exchange) and is recognized as the standard in the market.

Level 2: No market quotes are available for the specific financial instrument. For instruments in this level the valuation is done based on inference from observable market parameters; quoted prices for similar instruments in active markets.

This level is composed mostly by derivatives, currency and rate derivatives, bank's debt securities, mortgage claims, money market instruments and less liquid Chilean Central Bank and treasury securities.

For derivatives the fair value process depend upon his value is impacted by volatility as a relevant market factor; if is the case, Black-Scholes-Merton type of formula it is used. For the rest of the derivatives, swaps and forwards, net present value through discounted cash flows is used. For securities classified as level 2, the obtained internal rate of return is used to discount every cash flow and obtain the fair value of each instrument, for each currency.

In the event that there is no observable price for an instrument in a specific term, the price will be inferred from the interpolation between periods that do have observable quoted price in active markets. These models incorporate various market variables, including foreign exchange rates and interest rate curves. In some cases external data from specialized providers, brokers such as ICAP and Riskamerica, price for similar transactions and historical information it is used for validate the parameters that will be used as inputs.

The techniques described above are used by the Santiago Stock Exchange in Chile, Bloomberg or the Over-the-Counter, and correspond to the standard methodology used in the local and international markets.

Level 3: The input parameters used in the valuation are not observable through market quotes in active markets neither can be inferred directly from other transaction information in active markets. This category also includes instruments that are valued based on quoted prices for similar instruments where adjustments or assumptions are needed to reflect the differences between them.

Instruments classified as level 3 correspond to Corporate Debt issued mainly Chilean and foreign companies, issued both in Chile and abroad. These instruments are classified, for accounting purposes, as Available for Sale. For this securities classified as level 3, the indicative internal rate of return is used to discount every cash flow and obtain the fair value of each instrument, for each currency. In this case only external data from specialized providers, brokers such as ICAP, Riskamerica and Interactive Data, it is used to for validate the parameters that will be used as inputs.

For this level corresponds to the described technique used by both the Bolsa de Comercio de Santiago de Chile as Bloomberg, and correspond to the standard methodology used in the local and international market.

With the purpose to determine the sensitivity of the financial investments to changes in significant factors market, the Bank has made alternative calculations at fair value, changing those key parameters for the valuation and which are not directly observables in screens. In the case of financial assets presented above table, which corresponds to bank bonds and corporate bonds, considering that these instruments do not have current prices or observables, was used as inputs prices, prices based on broker quotes or runs. Prices are generally calculated as a base rate plus a spread. For local bonds, this was determined by applying only a 10% impact on the price, while for offshore bonds this was determined by applying only a 10% impact on the spread because the base rate is hedged with instruments on interest rate swaps so-called hedge accounting. The impact of 10% is considered a reasonable move considering the market performance of these instruments and comparing it against the adjustment bid/offer that is provided for by these instruments. The methodology described above begins in March 2013. Before that date, the methodology consisted in compare the valuation of these instruments using market rates given by Trading Desk of the Bank, with the same calculate, but using rates of independent sources. If this methodology had used in balances as of December 31, 2012, the effect would have been a charge to income of MCh$5,276 million.

The fair value of assets not presented at fair value in the Statement of Financial Position is derived from balance sheet stocks and cash flows that Banco de Chile expects to receive, discounted using the relevant market interest rate for each type of transaction. These last cash flows are obtained from regulatory reports, in particular the C40 report.

The C40 report contains cash flows, in future value, for assets and liabilities, by maturity and currency. For long term assets and liabilities, contractual cash flows are used to calculate the fair value. The cash flows are discounted by type of asset and currency to obtain their present value. The discount rates used to calculate the present value for each type of asset and liability correspond to the marginal rates of each product, considering specific rates by currency and term to capture both the risk inherent to the term as well as the expected level of each currency.

For financial assets and liabilities that have a short term maturity (less than three months) it is assumed that the carrying amounts approximate their fair value. This assumption is also applied to demand deposits and savings accounts without specific maturity.

For loans, contractual cash flows and loan loss provisions are used to calculate the fair value. The cash flows are discounted by type of asset and currency to obtain their present value. Consecutively, the loan loss provision, by type of asset, is subtracted from the present value to take into account the fact that the Bank has already model the estimate probability that his customers do not fulfill their obligations.

In the case of held to maturity investment, the fair value is based on market prices. The fair value of liabilities that do not have quoted market prices, it is based on discounted cash flows, using interest rates to similar terms.
