VOTING SECURITIES

The Company's Common Stock is the only class of equity securities that is currently outstanding and entitled to vote at a meeting of the Company's shareholders. Each share of common stock entitles the holder thereof to one vote. As of October 5, 2004, there were 255,000 shares of the Company's Common Stock outstanding.

COMPANY'S BUSINESS

The Company is currently a public "shell" company with nominal assets whose sole business has been to identify, evaluate and investigate various companies with the intent that, if such investigation warrants, a reverse merger transaction be negotiated and completed pursuant to which the Company would acquire a target company with an operating business with the intent of continuing the acquired company's business as a publicly held entity.

AAG'S BUSINESS

AAG is a diversified producer of aluminum extrusions and manufactured parts located in the United Kingdom. Formed in October 2003, AAG brought together several well-established companies in order to provide complete one-stop aluminum extrusion services. AAG operates through the following wholly owned subsidiaries:

Seco Aluminium Limited. Since 1965, Seco Aluminium Limited ("Seco") has been a leading provider of aluminum extrusion design and production services and specializes in meeting just-in-time delivery schedules. Seco provides complete supply-chain management including component design, fabrication, warehousing and delivery. Seco currently has about 130 employees. AAG acquired Seco in October 2003.

WHJ Fagg and Son. WHJ Fagg and Son ("Fagg"), formed in 1965, provides precision engineering, tool making and volume production of machined aluminum components primarily for the automotive industry. Fagg currently has about 60 employees. AAG acquired Fagg in January 2004.

Extrusions Direct. Extrusions Direct, a division of Seco, specializes in extrusion design, aluminum forming and machining, and aluminum welding and provides complete product manufacturing, assembly, warehousing and delivery.

Climatix. Climatix specializes in the architectural design and manufacturing of heating and ventilating air conditioning systems.

Aluminum is a high strength, lightweight, corrosive resistant, structural material that continues to replace steel, wood and other traditional materials due to its design versatility, low cost tooling and recycling ability. Aluminum extrusions are used by AAG's customers in a variety of products and industries including aerospace, automotive, hospitals, railway coaches and architectural applications (doors, windows and conservatories).

AAG's companies are ISO accredited and its facilities are located in Essex, United Kingdom. It is presently negotiating for the purchase of a new factory in the Czech Republic in order to supply new and existing clients whose manufacturing facilities are located in the Czech Republic and southern Poland.

DIRECTORS AND OFFICERS

The following table sets forth the names, positions and ages of the Company's current executive officers and directors. All of the Company's directors serve until the next annual meeting of shareholders or until their successors are elected and qualify. Officers are elected by the board of directors and their terms of office are at the discretion of the board of directors.

COMMITTEES OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The Company intends to form an audit committee shortly after the Closing Date. The Company's board of directors has determined that its members do not include a person who is an "audit committee financial expert" within the meaning of the rules and regulations of the SEC. The board of directors has determined that each of its members is able to read and understand fundamental financial statements and has substantial business experience that results in that member's financial sophistication. One of the director positions to be filled within 30 days of the Closing Date will be a director who is an "audit committee financial expert". Accordingly, the board of directors believes that each of its members have the sufficient knowledge and experience necessary to fulfill the duties and obligations that an audit committee would have.

The Company does not have a standing compensation or nominating committee or committees performing similar functions because it has no meaningful operations and has no employees. The Company determined not to establish a nominating committee at this time in view of changes in the composition of the Board of Directors that will occur on the Closing Date. Previously, nominations were determined by the members of the then existing Board of Directors.
