The exact stock price and effective date may not be set forth on the table, in which case:

if the stock price is between two stock price amounts on the table or the effective date is between two dates on the table, the fundamental change conversion rate will be determined by straight-line interpolation between the fundamental change conversion rates set forth for the higher and lower stock price amounts and the two dates, as applicable, based on a 365-day year;

if the stock price is in excess of $50.00 per share (subject to adjustment as described in the mandatory convertible preference share preliminary prospectus supplement), then the fundamental change conversion rate will be the minimum conversion rate, subject to adjustment as described in the mandatory convertible preference share preliminary prospectus supplement; and if the stock price is less than $3.00 per share (subject to adjustment as described in the mandatory convertible preference share preliminary prospectus supplement) (the "minimum stock price"), then the fundamental change conversion rate will be determined (a) as if the stock price equaled the minimum stock price and (b) if the effective date is between two dates on the table, using straight-line interpolation, as described in the mandatory convertible preference share preliminary prospectus supplement, subject to adjustment.

Conversion
Upon a Tax
Event:

If at any time the Issuer becomes obligated to pay any additional amounts on the outstanding mandatory convertible preference shares as a result of a change in tax law, the Issuer may cause all, but not less than all, outstanding mandatory convertible preference shares to be automatically converted into a number of common shares equal to the fundamental change conversion rate, determined as though the tax event conversion date were the effective date and the price paid (or deemed paid) per common share in such transaction were the average of the volume-weighted average prices per common share over the 10 trading day period beginning on, and including, the second trading day immediately following the date on which the Issuer provides notice of the tax event conversion. In addition, the Issuer will pay holders of the mandatory convertible preference shares amounts with respect to accrued and unpaid dividends (in cash, common shares or a combination thereof, at the Issuer's election and subject to the share cap) as described in the mandatory convertible preference share preliminary prospectus supplement.
