MESSAGE FROM THE MANAGEMENT

The year 2014 was one of major achievements for GPA. During this complex period, we made use of many levers that guaranteed the success of our strategy and the achievement of our goals, despite the challenges imposed by Brazil's macroeconomic scenario. Through sustainable and structured actions, we managed to guarantee profitability in all businesses, along with higher sales and market share gains.

This was a year of advances in operating efficiency, in which we improved our control of working capital and optimized capital expenditure, while also adopting greater discipline in the execution of our strategic plan. We posted net income⁽¹⁾ growth of 20.1% to R$2.084 billion. The period was also marked by strong cash generation, which allowed us to close the year with net cash 2.4 times higher than in 2013.

Anchored by our multi-format, multichannel and multi-region model and supported by the exchange of experiences and synergies with the Casino Group, we maintained a solid growth pace and improved our results. The diversity of the business, supported by a solid financial structure, attests to the effectiveness of our strategy, our competitive advantages and our strong focus on the customer.

GPA has over 2,000 points of sale that operate under the most recognized brands in Brazil's retail industry in various different formats. In the food segment, we have Assaí, with its Cash and Carry model, Extra, with 344 supermarkets and hypermarkets, and Pão de Açúcar, with a premium positioning, as well as our food e-commerce operation Pão de Açúcar Delivery. We also have the convenience store format with the Minimercado Extra and Minuto Pão de Açúcar stores, the latter launched in May 2014 to target the "AB" income segment.

In the non-food segment, we maintained our absolute leadership, with Via Varejo operating under the brands Casas Bahia and Pontofrio. In e-commerce, we were very proud to create, jointly with Casino and Via Varejo, Cnova, a company that combines the e-commerce operations in Brazil, France and nine other countries and is one of the largest international players in the segment, with shares listed on the NASDAQ and on the Euronext Paris.

To ensure the fulfillment of our strategic planning, we improved our management processes, adopting methods for the systematic monitoring of goals that includes the respective action plans and implementation of adjustments, if needed. This process is being carried out by GPA's executive team, whose professionals are recognized for vast experience in their respective operating segments.

In line with our strategic advantage as a multi-format company, we accelerated our operations on the multichannel platform by expanding the Click & Collect project, which is available at 100 stores, and also invested in organic growth by opening 212 new stores, 84 more than in the previous year. Through these initiatives, we reinforce our commitment to organic growth over the coming years in all our models, while strengthening our presence in current markets and expanding our operations in new markets.

In 2014, this expansion had a significant impact on Multivarejo. We opened 97 new stores in the convenience format, which included Minimercado Extra and Minuto Pão de Açúcar stores, and built a Distribution Center dedicated exclusively to the operation. In the premium supermarket segment, we strengthened our presence and competitive advantages through Pão de Açúcar by offering an innovative assortment and renovating and modernizing the store base, as well as by opening new units and converting existing units, adding a total of 17 new stores to the chain. In delivery, the e-commerce food segment in which Pão de Açúcar was a pioneer, we posted growth of over 20% in the year.

In the Extra banner, we launched a series of new measures to drive sales at hypermarkets, including operational improvements at stores, adjustments to assortments, better communication and continuous reinforcement of the price competitiveness strategy. These measures supported better customer traffic trends at stores and a recovery in market share. Within the one-stop shop concept and as a way to offer a complete shopping solution for our customers, we expanded the area of the commercial centers located inside our stores, adding 35,000 square meters in GLA under the management of GPA Malls, and including new services.

At Assaí, we continued to expand, opening nine new stores, which included the expansion of our operations in the Northeast, while reinforcing the strategy to grow the Cash and Carry operation. The chain's footprint currently covers 13 Brazilian states. This expansion has been making an important contribution to driving sales at Assaí, which registered net sales growth of 32.7% in the year.

At Via Varejo, the year was marked by important profitability gains, with EBITDA⁽¹⁾ margin expanding 220 bps to 10.4% significantly above retail industry benchmarks. During the year, the company focused on its expansion plan by opening 88 new stores and launching pioneering initiatives, such as opening of 20 new Mobile stores under the Casas Bahia and Pontofrio brands and expanding in the furniture segment by opening units focused on selling customized furniture, a segment in frank expansion.

One of the year's major achievements was the launch of Cnova, the product of the consolidation of Nova Pontocom and Cdiscount, present in France and another ten other countries, with the new company carrying out its IPO on the NASDAQ and Euronext Paris. In the year, the new company posted strong growth in gross merchandize volume of 28.6% as well as strong cash generation.

With sustainability as a strategic pillar, GPA also invested in dialogue and in creating value for its stakeholders. We made progress on our sustainable management platform by defining our social and environment principles based on five agents of change: valuing our people, conscientious consumerism and supply, transforming the value chain, environmental impact management and social engagement.

GPA is the largest private employer in the retail industry and one of Brazil's largest, with 160,000 employees firmly committed to meeting the Group's targets. This commitment is confirmed by the very positive results achieved in 2014, such as the 200 bps reduction in employee turnover, which reinforces GPA's position as one of the companies with the highest retention rates in the industry, as well as the 800 bps improvement in employee engagement. We also made progress on diversity and on our goal of promoting a workplace that represents the universe of society and our customers. In 2014, we developed special projects for hiring professionals with disabilities and created the career advancement program for women in leadership positions, which were important initiatives on this front.

Our workforce, combined with the value of our brands, operations in various business formats and, most importantly, the firm commitment to our stakeholders, reinforces our role as an agent of change in the value chain that works to mitigate negative impacts on the environment and expand its commitment to society in order to assure its sustainable growth.

Lastly, it is important to highlight the support provided by the Board of Directors, which in turn was supported by the committees and the company's commitment to continuous advances in governance processes. It is this principle that guides us to deliver results in each period, but that also ensures our continuous growth in the long run and establishes GPA as a company poised for further growth.

OPERATING AND FINANCIAL PERFORMANCE

We present on the following pages our comments regarding the operating and financial performance of Grupo Pão de Açúcar (GPA) in 2014. The comments refer to the consolidated results of the Group or, where specifically stated, the operating units. GPA maintains a multi-business and multichannel platform formed by brick and mortar stores and e-commerce operations, divided as follows: GPA Food, formed by supermarkets (Pão de Açúcar and Extra Supermercado), hypermarkets (Extra Hiper), convenience stores (Minimercado Extra and Minuto Pão de Açúcar), Cash & Carry (Assaí), delivery (Pão de Açúcar and Extra), GPA Malls (Conviva and commercial centers), fuel stations and drugstores; Via Varejo, with brick-and-mortar electronics and home appliance stores under the Casas Bahia and Pontofrio banners; and Cnova, the e-commerce segment, which is formed by the operations of Cnova Brasil and Cdiscount in France, including their international websites.

NET OPERATING REVENUE

Net sales grew 13.3% to R$65,525 million, with the highlight the strong organic growth in the period, with 212 new stores opened, with 124 launched by GPA Food and 88 by Via Varejo. With this volume of openings, GPA registered 84 more new stores than in 2013.

GROSS PROFIT

Gross profit grew 12.2%, from R$15,104 million to R$16,945 million. Gross margin stood at 25.9% in 2014, down 20 basis points from 2013, impacted primarily by the higher revenue contributions by Assaí and Cnova.

OPERATING EXPENSES

Operating expenses before depreciation and amortization increased by 6.6%, from R$11,368 million in 2013 to R$12,121 million in 2014. The ratio of operating expenses to net sales decreased from 19.6% in 2013 to 18.5% in 2014, mainly owing to the reduction in corporate expenses, the better control of selling expenses at GPA Food and the operating efficiency gains at Via Varejo.

FINANCIAL PERFORMANCE

The net financial result was an expense of R$1,508 million, increasing 26.3% from 2013, lagging the cumulative increase in the CDI overnight rate in the period (33.9%). The higher cash generation and evolution in working capital, with improvement of 19 days (in days of

Edgar Filing: BRAZILIAN DISTRIBUTION CO COMPANHIA BRASILEIRA DE DISTR CBD - Form 6-K
COGS) in the difference between inventories and trade accounts payable in relation to 2013, had a positive impact on the financial result.

INDEBTEDNESS

Gross debt, comprising loans, borrowings and debentures, stood at R$6.852 billion at the end of December 2014, stable in comparison with the position a year earlier. However, due to the higher cash generation in the period, improvement in working capital and inflow of proceeds from the Cnova IPO, the Company ended 2014 with a net cash position including the debt from the Via Varejo payment book operation of R$1.421 billion, compared to the net debt position including the payment book operations of R$1.104 billion in 2013.

The company held cash reserves of approximately R$11.1 billion, compared to R$8.4 billion at the end of 2013, which attests to its solid capital structure, especially given the economic environment marked by high volatility.

NET INCOME

Consolidated net income amounted to R$1,760 million in 2014, representing growth of 26.0% from 2013. Net margin in the period increased by 30 basis points, from 2.4% in 2013 to 2.7% in 2014, mainly due to the higher profitability of GPA Food and Via Varejo.

CAPITAL EXPENDITURE

In 2014, the Group's investments came to R$1.896 billion, with the highlight the unprecedented number of openings in a single year, with 212 new stores opened, of which 124 stores were in the Food segment and 88 Via Varejo stores, which represents 84 more stores than in 2013.

The expansion in the Group's sales area, excluding the effect from the closure of Via Varejo stores due to the decision of Brazil's antitrust agency CADE, reached 5% in 2014.

An important factor in the period was the optimization in expansion and renovation capex compared to 2013, due to the greater discipline in expenditures due to better negotiations and a review of construction methods, among other initiatives.

The Company plans to maintain the same pace of organic growth in the coming years.

As regards the monitoring of related balances by Legal Counsel, it was requested an analysis of amounts deposited as guarantees of the cases having in mind the large number of employees of the Company and, in consequence, the also large number of labor claims open against the Company.

The Committee was informed about an Action Plan already under way aiming to adopt more effective and modern systems and processes to monitor legal claims against the Company, under supervision of the Head of Legal Counsel and his team.

Related Party Transactions – In 2014 it was approved by the Board of Directors, as recommended by the Corporate Governance Committee, a policy for Related Party Transactions. Under such policy it was determined that the Audit Committee is required to assess whether the guidance contemplated in said policy was observed in certain transactions of this nature to be brought to the Board of Directors for approval. In several Audit Committee meetings such transactions among related parties were analyzed to ensure the policy had been complied with.

Information Technology and Security – the Audit Committee prioritized the monitoring of progress of the processes and controls involving information technology issues as well as related long and medium term action plans aiming at improvements in Information Security.

Highlighting this last subject, it is worth mentioning that an Information Security Committee was formed, reporting to senior Management; its members are the heads of IT, Risks and Legal Counsel, who meet on a monthly basis to deal with the matters of greater risk and monitor the action plans for improvement and mitigation. Matters discussed in this information security committee are reported on a quarterly basis to the Audit Committee.

To monitor this work it was requested the assistance of the independent auditors to test and validate the manual journal entries.

Inventory controls and taxes on purchases, transfers and sales – The Audit Committee was informed about an Action Plan that intends to optimize the management of inventories involving Distribution Centers, Transfers to and Controls at stores, as well as timing and amounts of taxes applicable in each of these steps. The Plan contemplates to achieve significant improvements in issues related to inventory shrinkage and risk of inexistence of products at sales areas in stores, checking of quantities shipped at Distribution Centers and quantities arrived at stores, scheduled physical count of inventories and logistic procedures related to such inventories.

Another work of the auditors supervised by the Audit Committee was Management of Fraud Risks, where an extensive mapping was carried out in all areas of the Company by interviews with key personnel to identify potential risks and design preventive or mitigation procedures.

Internal Audit

The Audit Committee had an intensive and constant interaction with the Internal Auditors, and among the subjects discussed it is worth mentioning:

- Monthly report of claims and wrongdoing reports (“whistleblowing”) received through the internal communication channel, that come in to the Internal Audit area in a confidential way - without identification of the whistleblower. The flows to investigate the claims and the steps taken when they proved valid, as well as the financial impact of each confirmed claim, were discussed.

- Revision of the corporate standards and procedures of the Company’s internal audit department.

- Accompanying the studies and beginning of implementation of an IT-based system for Continuous Auditing of several areas of the Company, like sales, information from electronic checkout points, inventory controls, tax information, accounts receivable and accounts payable, among other. This project was named Continuous Auditing and based in the initial analyses the Audit Committee agreed that large benefits shall stem from improvement in controls and time saving in processing the audited information.

The Audit Committee approved the 2015 work plan developed by the former Internal Audit Director, and such plan is being implemented.

The Audit Committee also approved a revision of the Company's Internal Audit ruling; subsequent updates of it must be submitted to approval of the Audit Committee.

Recommendations of the Audit Committee

4. Significant accounting policies

4.1. Financial instruments

Financial assets are initially recognized at fair value when the Company or its subsidiaries assume contractual rights to receive cash or other financial asset contracts in which they are part. Financial assets are derecognized when the rights to receive cash linked to the financial asset expire or have been transferred substantially all the risks and benefits to third parties. Assets and liabilities are recognized when rights and obligations are retained by the company.

Financial liabilities are recognized when the Company or its subsidiaries assume contractual obligations for settlement in cash or in the assumption of third-party obligations through a contract in which they are part of. Financial liabilities are initially recognized at fair value and are derecognized when they are settled, extinguished or expired.

Financial instruments measured at amortized cost are subsequently measured at initial recognition at the effective interest rate. Interest income and expenses, monetary and exchange variation, net of estimated losses for not receiving financial assets, are recognized when incurred in the statement of income as financial income and expenses.

The Company, monthly, evaluates the monthly estimated amount of loss by not received financial assets. An estimate of loss is recognized when there is objective evidence that the Company or its subsidiaries will not collect all amounts to receive based on their due dates. For the calculation, the Company considers historical losses, historical statistical data, portfolio aging and the assessment of the likelihood of further deterioration of the portfolio, taking into account macro-economic factors and market. When the collection of accounts receivable is unlikely, both book value and its loss estimate are recognized in the income statement. Subsequent recoveries are recognized when incurred under the caption selling expenses in the income statement for the year.

Edgar Filing: BRAZILIAN DISTRIBUTION CO COMPANHIA BRASILEIRA DE DISTR CBD - Form 6-K
Note 19 provide detailed information about financial instruments and further details on how it is measured.

(i) Financial assets

Initial recognition and measurement

The financial assets held by the Company and its subsidiaries within the scope of IAS 39 are classified according the purpose for which they were acquired or contracted within the following categories: (i) assets measured at fair value through profit or loss; (ii) loans and receivables, and (iii) investments held to maturity. The Company determines the classification of their financial assets at inception.

Financial assets are initially recognized at fair value, and transaction costs are expensed in the income statement. Loans and receivables are accounted for at amortized cost.

Purchases or sales of financial assets that require the assets to be delivered within a time frame established by regulations or market conventions (negotiations under regular conditions) are recognized on the trade date, i.e., on the date that the Company commits to purchase or sell the asset.

The financial assets of the Company and its subsidiaries includes cash and cash equivalents, trade accounts receivable, related parties receivables and derivative financial instruments.

Subsequent measurement

- Financial assets measured at fair value through profit or loss: represent assets acquired for short-term realization purposes and are measured at fair value at the end of the reporting period. Interest rates, monetary restatement, exchange rate variation and variations arising from fair value measurements are recognized in the income statement for the year as financial income or expense, as incurred.
- Loans and receivables: represent non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market. After initial recognition, they are measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method. Interest income, monetary restatement, exchange rate variation, less any impairment loss, as applicable, are recognized in the income statement as finance income or expense, when incurred; and
- Held-to-maturity financial assets: represent financial assets and liabilities that cannot be classified as loans and receivables (as they are quoted in an active market), and are acquired with the intent and ability to hold to maturity. They are stated at their acquisition cost plus income earned which is recorded as finance income or expense in profit or loss for the year using the effective interest rate method.

Derecognition of financial assets

A financial asset (or, as applicable, a part of a financial asset or a part of a group of similar financial assets) is derecognized when:

- Its right to receive cash flows has expired; or
- The Company and its subsidiaries have transferred their rights to receive cash flows from the asset or has assumed an obligation to pay the received cash flows in full to a third party under an on lending agreement; and (a) the Company has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards related to the asset, or (b) the Company has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards related to the assets, but has transferred its control.

When the Company and its subsidiaries have transferred their rights to receive cash flows from an asset or have entered into an on lending agreement, and have neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards related to the asset or transferred control of the asset, the asset is maintained and an associated liability is recognized. The transferred asset and the associated liability are measured on a basis that reflects the rights and obligations retained by the Company and their subsidiaries.

Impairment of financial assets

At the end of the reporting periods, the Company and its subsidiaries assess whether there is any indication of impairment of a financial asset or group of financial assets. The impairment of a financial asset or group of financial assets is only considered (and only if) when there is objective evidence resulting from one or more events that have occurred after the asset's initial recognition ("loss event"), and if said event affects the estimated future cash flows of the financial asset or group of financial assets that can be reliably estimated. The evidence of impairment may include indications that debtors (or group of debtors) are going through relevant financial constraints, moratorium or default in the amortization of interest or principal; likelihood that they will file for bankruptcy or another type of financial reorganization; and when this data indicates a measurable decrease in future cash flows, such as default interest variations or economic conditions related to default.

Specifically in relation to financial assets held to maturity, the Company, and its subsidiaries, firstly, verify whether there is objective evidence of impairment individually for financial assets that are individually significant, or collectively for assets that are not individually significant, if Should the Company and its subsidiaries determine the nonexistence of objective evidence of impairment of a financial asset measured individually – whether or not this significant loss – the Company and its subsidiaries classify it in a group of financial assets with similar credit risk characteristics which are evaluated collectively. The assets individually assessed as to impairment, or for which the impairment is (or continues to be) recognized, are not included in the collective assessment of the loss.

Impairment is measured as the difference between the carrying amount of an asset and the present value of the estimated future cash flows (excluding future credit losses that have not been incurred) discounted by the original effective interest rate of the financial asset. The asset's carrying amount decreases through the use of a provision and the impairment loss is recognized in the income statement, Interest revenue is recorded in the financial statements as part of finance income, In the case of loans or investments held to maturity with a variable interest rate, the Company and its subsidiaries measure the non-recovery based on the fair value of the instrument adopting an observable market price.

If, in a subsequent period, impairment decreases and this reduction can be objectively associated with an event that has occurred after the recognition of the provision (such as an improvement in a debtor's credit rating), the reversal of the previously recognized impairment loss is recognized in the income statement, If a write-off is later recovered, this recovery is also recognized in the income statement.

(ii) Financial liabilities

The financial liabilities under the scope of IAS 39 are classified as loans, borrowings or derivative financial instruments designated as hedge instruments in an effective hedge relationship, as applicable. The Company defines the classification of its financial liabilities at initial recognition.

All financial liabilities are initially recognized at fair value and, in the case of loans and borrowings, plus directly attributable transaction costs.

The Company and its subsidiaries' financial liabilities include trade accounts payable, loans and financing, debentures, financing related to acquisition of real state and derivative financial instruments.

Subsequent measurement

After initial recognition, interest-bearing loans and financings are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest rate method. Gains and losses are recognized in the income statement for the year when the liabilities are written off, or through amortization according to the effective interest rate method.

Derecognition of financial liabilities

A financial liability is derecognized when the underlying obligation is settled, cancelled or expired.

When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender, on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, this replacement or modification is treated as a derecognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability, and the difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognized in income.

Offsetting of financial instruments

Financial assets and liabilities are offset and stated net in the financial statements only if there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognized amounts and there is an intention of settling them on a net basis or realizing the assets and settling the liabilities simultaneously.

4.2. Foreign currency transactions

Foreign currency transactions are initially recognized at market value of the corresponding currencies on the date the transaction is qualified for recognition.

Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated to Real according to the market price at the end of the reporting periods. Differences arising on payment or translation of monetary items are recognized as financial income or expense.

4.3. Hedge accounting

The Company uses derivative financial instruments such as interest rate and exchange rate swaps. These derivative financial instruments are initially recognized at fair value on the date on which a derivative contract is entered into and are subsequently re-measured at fair value at the end of each reporting period. Derivatives are accounted for as financial assets when their fair value is positive and as financial liabilities when their fair value is negative. Any gains or losses arising from changes in the fair value of derivatives are directly recorded in the income statement.

At the inception of a hedge relationship, the Company formally designates and documents the hedge relationship to which it wishes to apply hedge accounting and its objective and risk management strategy for contracting the hedge. The documentation includes identification of the hedging instrument, the hedged item or transaction, the nature of the risk being hedged and how the Company will assess the effectiveness of the changes in the hedging instrument's fair value in offsetting the exposure to changes in the fair value of the hedged item or cash flow attributable to the hedged risk. These hedges are expected to be highly effective in offsetting changes in the fair value or cash flow and are assessed on an ongoing basis to determine if they actually have been highly effective throughout the periods for which they were designated.

For the purposes of hedge accounting, these are classified as fair value hedges when hedging the exposure to changes in the fair value of a recognized asset or liability.

The following are recognized as fair value hedges, in accordance with the procedures below:

- The change in the fair value of a derivative financial instrument classified as interest rate hedging is recognized as financial result. The change in the fair value of the hedged item is recorded as a part of the carrying amount of the hedged item and is recognized in the income statement;
- For fair value hedges relating to items accounted for at amortized cost, the adjustment to the carrying amount is amortized in profit or loss over the remaining term to maturity. Effective interest rate amortization may begin as soon as an adjustment exists and shall begin no later than when the hedged item ceases to be adjusted for changes in its fair value attributable to the hedged risk;
- If the hedge item is derecognized, the unamortized fair value is immediately recognized in profit or loss; and
- In order to calculate the fair value, debts and swaps are measured through rates disclosed in the financial market and projected up to their maturity date. The discount rate used in the calculation by the interpolation method for borrowings loans denominated in foreign currency is arrived at through DDI curves, clean coupon and DI, indices disclosed by the BM&FBovespa (the Brazilian Securities, Commodities and Futures Exchange), whereas for loans denominated in reais, the Company uses the DI curve, an index published by the CETIP and calculated through the exponential interpolation method.

4.4. Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents consist of cash, bank accounts and highly liquid short-term investments that are readily convertible into a known cash amount, and are subject to an insignificant risk of change in value, with intention and possibility to be redeemed in the short term, up to 90 days.

4.5. Trade accounts receivable

Trade receivables are stated and maintained in the balance sheet at their nominal sales amounts less an allowance for doubtful accounts, which is recorded based on historical loss experience and risk analysis of the entire customer portfolio and the respective likelihood of collection.

Trade accounts receivables refers to non-derivative financial assets with fixed payments or which may be calculated, without quotation in an active market. After the initial measurement, these financial assets are subsequently measured at amortized cost according to the effective interest method ("EIM"), less impairment. The amortized cost is calculated taking into account eventual discounts or premiums over the acquisition and tariffs or costs comprising the EIM. The EIM amortization is included in net finance income (costs) in the income statement. Impairment expenses are recognized in the income statement.

At the end of each reporting period, the Company and its subsidiaries assess if the financial assets or group of financial assets are impaired.

4.5. Trade accounts receivable - Continued

Impairment of receivables are based on historical rates observed in the last 24 months, besides observation of economic events like unemployment rates, consumer trends and past due receivables in the portfolio.

Receivables are considered uncollectable, therefore, written off definitely after 180 days past due.

4.6. Inventories

Inventories are accounted for at cost or net realizable value, whichever is lower. Inventories purchased are recorded at average cost, including warehouse and handling costs, to the extent these costs are necessary to make inventories available for sale in the stores, less bonuses received from suppliers.

Net realizable value is the selling price in the ordinary course of business, less the estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

Inventories are reduced by an allowance for losses and breakage, which is periodically reviewed and evaluated as to its adequacy.

4.7. Supplier Bonuses

Bonuses received from suppliers are measured and recognized based on contracts and agreements signed, and recorded in income insofar as the corresponding inventories are sold. Includes purchase volume agreement, logistics and specific negotiations to recompose margin or marketing agreements, among others, and are deducted from payables to the respective suppliers, once the Company is contractually entitled to settle trade payables net of amounts receivable by way of bonus.

4.8. Present value adjustment of assets and liabilities

Current monetary assets and liabilities, when relevant, and long-term assets and liabilities are adjusted to their present value. The present value adjustment is calculated taking into account contractual cash flows and the respective explicit or implied interest rates.

Interest rates embedded in revenue, expenses and costs associated with said assets and liabilities are adjusted for appropriate recognition in conformity with the accrual basis of accounting. The present value adjustment is recorded in those items, against the financial result.

The present value of the installments sales has a counterparty effect on the accounts receivable and its realization is recorded in net financial income.

Other accounts in the balance sheet, over which present value adjustment is recorded, the unwinding is made against financial result.

4.9. Impairment of non-financial assets

Impairment testing is designed so that the Company can present the net realizable value of an asset. This amount may be realized directly or indirectly, respectively, through the sale of the asset or the cash generated by the use of the asset in the Company and its subsidiaries activities.

The Company and its subsidiaries tests its tangible or intangible assets for impairment annually or whenever there is internal or external evidence that they may be impaired.

4.9. Impairment of non-financial assets - Continued

An asset's recoverable amount is defined as the asset's fair value or the value in use of its cash-generating unit (CGU), whichever is higher, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or groups of assets.

If the carrying amount of an asset or CGU exceeds its recoverable amount, the asset is considered impaired and an allowance for impairment is recorded to adjust its carrying amount to its recoverable amount. In assessing the recoverable amount, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to present value using a pre-tax discount rate that represents the Company's weighted average cost of capital ("WACC"), reflecting current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset.

Impairment losses are recognized in profit or loss for the year in expense categories consistent with the function of the respective impaired asset. Previously recognized impairment losses are only reversed in case of change in the assumptions used to determine the asset's recoverable amount at its initial or most recent recognition, except for goodwill, which cannot be reversed in future periods.

4.10. Property and equipment

Property and equipment is stated at cost, net of accumulated depreciation and/or impairment losses, if any. This cost includes the cost of acquisition of equipment and financing costs for long-term construction projects, if the recognition criteria are met. When significant components of property and equipment are replaced, they are recognized as individual assets with specific useful lives and depreciation. Likewise, when a major replacement is performed, its cost is recognized at the carrying amount of the equipment as a replacement, if the recognition criteria are met. All other repair and maintenance costs are recognized in profit or loss for the year as incurred.

Asset category	Average annual depreciation rate
Buildings	2.50%
Improvements	4.41%
Data processing equipment	20.93%
Software	11.81%
Facilities	7.88%
Furniture and fixtures	10.21%
Vehicles	21.52%
Machinery and equipment	9.17%
Decoration	20.00%

Property and equipment items and eventual significant parts are written off when sold or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or sale. Any eventual gains or losses arising from the write off of the assets are included in profit or loss for the year.

The residual value, the useful life of assets and the depreciation methods are reviewed at the end of each financial year-end and adjusted prospectively, if applicable. The Company reviewed the useful lives of fixed and intangible assets in fiscal year 2014 with no significant changes.

4.11. Capitalization of interest

Interest on loans directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of an asset that requires a substantial period of time to be prepared for its intended use or sale (qualifying asset) are capitalized as part of the cost of the respective assets during its construction phase. From the date that the asset is placed in operation, capitalized costs are depreciated over the estimated useful life of the asset.

4.12. Investments properties

Investment properties are measured at historical cost, including transaction costs. After the initial recognition, they are stated at cost, net of accumulated depreciation and or impairment loss, if is applicable

Investment properties are written off when they are sold or when they are no longer used and no future economic benefit is expected from the sale. An investment property is also transferred when there is an intention to sell it and, in this case, it is classified as a non-current asset available for sale. The difference between the net amount obtained from the sale and the book value of the asset is recognized in the statement of income for the period in which the asset is written off.

4.13. Intangible assets

Intangible assets acquired separately are measured at cost at initial recognition, less amortization and eventual impairment losses. Internally generated intangible assets, excluding capitalized software development costs, are reflected in the income statement in which they were incurred.

Intangible assets consist mainly of software acquired from third parties, software developed for internal use, commercial rights (stores' rights of use), customer lists, advantageous lease agreements, advantageous furniture supply agreements and brands.

Intangible assets with definite useful lives are amortized by the straight-line method. The amortization period and method are reviewed, at least, at the end of each year. Changes in the expected useful life or the expected pattern of consumption of future economic benefits embodied in the asset are accounted for by changing the amortization period or method, as appropriate, and are treated as changes in accounting assumptions.

Software development costs recognized as assets are amortized over their 10-year definite useful lives.

Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives are not amortized, but tested for recovery at the end of each year or whenever there are indications that their carrying value may be impaired either individually or at the level of the cash-generating unit. The assessment is reviewed annually to determine whether the indefinite life assumption remains valid. Otherwise, the useful life is changed prospectively from indefinite to definite.

Where applicable, gains or losses arising from the derecognition of an intangible asset are measured as the difference between the net proceeds from the sale of the asset and its carrying amount, any gain or loss being recognized in the income statement in the year when the asset is derecognized.

4.14. Classification of assets and liabilities as current and noncurrent

Assets (except for deferred income and social contribution taxes) that are expected to be realized in or are intended for sale or consumption within twelve months as of the end of the reporting periods are classified as current assets. Liabilities (except for deferred income and social contribution taxes) that are expected to be settled within twelve months as of the end of the reporting periods are classified as current. All other assets and liabilities (including deferred tax assets and liabilities) are classified as “noncurrent”.

The deferred tax assets and liabilities are classified as “noncurrent”, net by legal entity, according to the related accounting standard.

4.15. Leases

The definition of an agreement as lease is based on its initial date, i.e., if compliance with the arrangement depends on the use of a specific asset or assets or the arrangement transfers the right to use the asset.

The company rents equipments and commercial rooms, including stores and distribution centers, through cancelable and non cancelable lease agreements. The agreements length vary from from 5 to 20 years.

Company and its subsidiaries as lessees

Financial lease agreements, which transfer to the Company and its subsidiaries substantially all the risks and benefits incidental to ownership of the leased item, are capitalized at the commencement of the lease at the fair value of the leased property or at the present value of the minimum lease payments, whichever is lower. Lease payments are allocated between financial charges and reduction of lease liabilities so as to achieve a constant interest rate in the remaining balance of liabilities. Financial charges are recognized as an expense in the year.

Leased assets are depreciated over their useful lives. However, if there is no reasonable certainty that the Company and its subsidiaries will obtain ownership by the end of the lease term, the asset is depreciated over its estimated useful life or the lease term, whichever is shorter. The leasehold improvements and rebuilding follow the same rule.

Lease agreements are classified as operating leases when there is no transfer of risk and benefits incidental to ownership of the leased item.

The installment payments of leases (excluding service costs, such as insurance and maintenance) classified as operating lease agreements are recognized as expenses, on straight-line basis, during the lease term.

Contingent rentals are recognized as expenses in the years they are incurred.

Company and its subsidiaries as lessors

Lease agreements where the Company does not transfer substantially all the risks and benefits incidental to ownership of the asset are classified as operating leases. Initial direct costs incurred in negotiating an operating lease are added to the carrying amount of the leased asset and recognized over the agreement term on the same basis as rental income.

Contingent rentals are recognized as revenue in the years in which they are earned.

4.16. Provisions

Provisions are recognized when the Company and its subsidiaries have present obligation (legal or not formalized) as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation and the obligation can be reliably estimated. Where the Company and its subsidiaries expect a provision to be fully or partially reimbursed, for example under an insurance contract, the reimbursement is recognized as a separate asset but only when the reimbursement is virtually certain. The expense relating to the eventual provision is recognized in profit or loss for the year, net of any reimbursement. In cases of attorney's fees in favorable court decisions, the Company and its subsidiaries' policy is to make a provision when fees are incurred, i.e., upon final judgment on lawsuits, as well as disclose in notes the amounts involved in lawsuits in progress.

4.17. Dividend distribution

Dividend distribution to the Company's shareholders is recognized as a liability at the year-end, based on the minimum mandatory dividends established by the Bylaws. Exceeding amounts are only recorded at the date on which said additional dividends are approved by the Company's shareholders.

4.18. Deferred Revenue

The Company records deferred revenue related to amounts received from business partners for the exclusivity intermediation services of additional or extended warranties, recognized in income by evidence of the service rendered in the sale of these warranties jointly with the business partners.

4.19. Equity

Common and preferred shares are classified as equity.

When the Company purchases its own shares (treasury shares), the remuneration paid, including any directly attributable incremental costs, is deducted from equity, and are recorded as treasury shares until the shares are cancelled or reissued to the market. When these shares are subsequently reissued, any remuneration received, net of any directly attributable incremental transaction costs, is included in equity. No gain or loss is recognized on the purchase, sale, issue or cancellation of the Company's own equity

4.20. Share-based payment

Employees (including senior executives) receive compensation in the form of share-based payment, whereby employees render services in exchange for equity instruments (“equity-settled transactions”).

Equity-settled transactions

The cost of equity-settled transactions is recognized as an expense in the year, together with a corresponding increase in equity, over the period in which the performance and/or service conditions are met. Cumulative expenses recognized for equity instruments at each reporting date until the vesting date reflect the extent to which the vesting period has expired and the Company’s best estimate of the number of equity instruments that will ultimately vest.

Each year’s expenses or income represents the change in the cumulative expenses recognized at the beginning and the end of that year. No expense is recognized for services that will not complete the vesting period, except for equity-settled transactions where vesting is conditional upon a market or non-vesting condition, which are treated as vested irrespective of whether or not the market or non-vesting condition is met, provided that all other performance and/or service conditions are met.

Where an equity instrument is modified, the minimum expense recognized is the expense that would have been incurred if the terms had not been modified, an additional expense is recognized for any modification that increases the total fair value of the share-based payment transaction or is otherwise beneficial to the employee, as measured at the date of modification.

When an equity instrument is cancelled, it is treated as fully vested on the date of cancellation, and any expense not yet recognized related to the premium are immediately recognized in profit or loss for the year, This includes any premium whose non-vesting conditions within the control of either the Company or the employee are not met. However, if the cancelled plan is replaced by another plan and designated as a replacement grants on the date that it is granted, the cancelled grant and the new plan are treated as if they were a modification of the original grant, as described in the previous paragraph. All cancellations of equity-settled transactions are treated equally.

The dilutive effect of outstanding options is reflected as an additional share dilution in the calculation of diluted earnings per share (see note 31).

4.21.Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share are calculated based on the weighted average number of outstanding shares of each category during the year, and treasury shares.

Diluted earnings per share are calculated as follows:

- numerator: profit for the year adjusted by dilutive effects from stock options granted by subsidiaries; and
- denominator: the number of shares of each category adjusted to include potential shares corresponding to dilutive instruments (stock options), less the number of shares that could be bought back at market, if applicable.

Equity instruments that will or may be settled in Company and subsidiaries' shares are only included in the calculation when said settlement has a dilutive impact on earnings per share.

4.22.Determination of net income

Revenue is recognized to the extent that it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Company, and it can be reliably measured. Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received, excluding discounts, rebates, and sales taxes or duty.

The Company assesses its revenue arrangements against specific criteria in order to determine if it is acting as principal or agent. The Company and its subsidiaries have concluded that it is acting as a principal in all of its revenue arrangements, except for those referring to extended warranties and insurance policy brokerage. Specifically in these cases, the Company and its subsidiaries operate as agents, and revenue is recognized on a net basis, which reflects the commission received from insurance companies. The following specific recognition criteria must also be met before revenue is recognized:

(i) Revenue

a) Sale of goods

Revenue from sale of goods are recognized at their fair value and, when all the risks and benefits inherent to said good are transferred to the buyer, the Company and its subsidiaries cease to hold control or responsibility for the goods sold and the economic benefits generated to the Company and its subsidiaries are probable. No revenue is recognized if their realization is uncertain.

b) Service revenue

Due to the Company and its subsidiaries' actions as agents in insurance extended warranty, financial protection insurance, personal accident insurance, sales agents in technical assistance and mobile phone recharge, revenues earned are presented net of related costs and recognized in profit or loss when probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Company and their values can be measured reliably.

c) Finance service revenue

As the activity of customer financing is an important part of the Company and its subsidiaries' business, for all financial instruments measured at amortized cost, revenue is recorded using the effective interest rate, which discounts exactly the estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial instrument, or a shorter period of time, where applicable, to the net carrying amount of the asset, Interest income is included under financial services, composing the Company's gross profit in the income statement.

d) Interest income

For all financial instruments measured at amortized cost, interest income is recorded using the effective interest rate, which is the rate that discounts the estimated future cash payments or receipts through the expected life of the financial instrument or a shorter period, where appropriate, to the net carrying amount of the financial asset or liability. Interest income is included in the financial result in the income statement for the year.

e) Barter revenue

Revenues are recognized: (i) at the time of conclusion of the swap of land owned by GPA M&P at the fair value of the consideration received on the barter date, (ii) upon delivery of the units sold by GPA M&P. The cost of the units sold comprises the fair value of the initially recognized barter.

f) Returns and cancellations

Returns and cancellations are recognized when incurred. When the sales are recorded, the assumptions are based in the volumes of sales and historic of returns in each reporting segment. Revenue is recorded net of returns and cancellations.

(ii) Cost of goods sold

The cost of goods sold comprises the cost of purchases net discounts and bonuses received from vendors, changes in inventories and logistics costs.

Rebates received from suppliers are measured based on contracts and agreements signed with them.

The cost of sales includes the cost of logistics operations managed or outsourced by the Company and its subsidiaries', comprising warehousing, handling and freight costs incurred until the goods are available for sale. Transport costs are included in the acquisition costs.

(iii) Selling expenses

Selling expenses comprise all store expenses, such as salaries, marketing, occupancy, maintenance, expenses with credit card companies, etc.

Marketing expenses refer to advertising campaigns for each segment in which the Group operates. The main media used by the Group are: radio, television, newspapers and magazines. These expenses are recognized in profit or loss for the year at the time of realization, net of amounts received from suppliers joining the campaigns.

(iv) General and administrative expenses

General and administrative expenses correspond to overhead and the cost of corporate units, including the purchasing and procurement, IT and financial areas.

(v) Other operating expenses, net

Other operating income and expenses correspond to the effects of major events occurring during the year that do not meet the definition for the other income statement lines.

(vi) Financial result

Financial expenses include substantially all expenses generated by net debt and receivables sold during the year, offset by capitalized interest, losses related to the measurement of derivatives at fair value, losses on disposals of financial assets, financial charges on lawsuits and taxes and interest charges on financial leases, as well as discount charges.

Financial income includes income generated by cash and cash equivalents and restricted deposits, gains related to the measurement of derivatives at fair value.

4.23. Taxation

Current income and social contribution taxes

Current income and social contribution tax assets and liabilities for the current and prior years are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the tax authorities. The tax rates and tax laws used to calculate taxes are those in force or substantially in force at the end of the balance sheet dates.

Income taxes comprise Corporate Income Tax (“IRPJ”) and Social Contribution on Net Income (“CSLL”), calculated based on taxable income (adjusted income), at the applicable rates set forth in the legislation in force: 15% on taxable income plus a additional 10% on annual taxable income exceeding R$240 for IRPJ, and 9% for CSLL.

Deferred income and social contribution taxes

Deferred income and social contribution taxes are generated by temporary differences at the end of the reporting periods between the tax basis of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts.

Deferred income tax and social contribution tax assets are recognized for all deductible temporary differences and unused tax loss carryforwards to the extent that it is probable that taxable income will be available against which to deduct temporary differences and unused tax loss carryforwards, except where the deferred income and social contribution tax assets relating to the deductible temporary difference arise from the initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither accounting profit nor tax income or losses.

Deferred income and social contribution tax liabilities are recognized for all temporary taxable differences, except when the deferred tax liability arises from the initial recognition of goodwill or of an asset or liability in a transaction other than a business combination and which, at the time of the transaction, affects neither accounting profit nor tax losses.

With respect to deductible temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries and associates, deferred income and social contribution taxes are recognized only to the extent that it is probable that the temporary differences will reverse in the foreseeable future and taxable income will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilized.

The carrying amount of deferred income and social contribution tax assets is reviewed at the end of each reporting period and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable income will be available to allow all or part of the deferred income and social contribution taxes to be utilized. Unrecognized deferred income and social contribution tax assets are reassessed at the end of each reporting period and are recognized to the extent that it has become probable that future taxable income will allow these assets to be recovered.

Deferred income and social contribution tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the year when the asset is realized or the liability is settled, based on tax rates (and tax laws) in effect or substantively in effect at the end of the reporting period.

Deferred taxes related to items directly recognized in equity are also recognized in equity and not in the income statement.

Deferred income and social contribution tax assets and liabilities are offset if there is a legal or contractual right to offset tax assets against income tax liabilities, and the deferred taxes refer to the same taxpayer entity and to the same tax authority.

Other taxes

Revenue from sales of goods and services are subject to taxation by State Value-Added Tax (“ICMS”) and Services Tax (“ISS”), calculated based on the rates applicable to each region, as well as contribution for the Social Integration Program (“PIS”) and contribution for Social Security Financing (“COFINS”), and are presented net of sales revenue.

Revenue and expenses are recognized net of taxes, except where the sales tax incurred on the purchase of assets or services is not recoverable from the tax authority, in which case the sales tax is recognized as part of the cost of acquisition of the asset or as part of the expense item, as applicable.

4.24. Business combinations and goodwill

Business combinations are recorded using the acquisition method. The cost of an acquisition is measured as the sum between the consideration transferred, measured at fair value on the acquisition date, and the remaining amount of non-controlling interest in the acquiree. For each business combination, the acquirer measures the non-controlling interest in the acquired at fair value or through the proportional interest in the acquiree identifiable net assets. The acquisition costs incurred are treated as an expense and included in administrative expenses.

When the Company acquires a business, it assesses its financial assets and liabilities in order to appropriately classify and designate them in accordance with contractual terms, economic circumstances and relevant conditions on the acquisition date. This includes the separation of derivatives embedded in agreements by the acquiree.

If the business combination occurs in phases, the fair value on the acquisition date of the interest previously held by the acquirer in acquiree is adjusted to fair value on the acquisition date through profit or loss.

Any contingent payment to be transferred by the acquirer will be recognized at fair value on the acquisition date. Subsequent changes in the fair value of the contingent payment considered as an asset or liability will be recognized through profit or loss or as a change in other comprehensive income.

Goodwill is initially measured at cost and is the excess between the consideration transferred and the non-controlling interest in assets and assumed liabilities. If this payment is lower than the fair value of the acquirer's net assets, the difference is recognized in profit or loss as bargain purchase gain.

After initial recognition, goodwill is measured at cost, less any impairment losses. For impairment testing purposes, the goodwill acquired in a business combination is, as of the acquisition date, allocated to the operating segment level that will benefit from the business combination, regardless of whether other assets or liabilities of the acquire will be assigned to these units.

When goodwill is part of a cash-generating unit and part of the operation at this unit is sold, the goodwill related to the sold operation is included in the book amount of the operation when calculating profit or loss from the sale of the operation. This goodwill is then measured based on the relative amounts of the sold operation and part of the cash-generating unit which was maintained.

4.25. Accounting for equity investments at cost deriving from corporate restructuring and performed with related parties

Company accounts at historical cost the interest deriving from corporate restructuring performed with related parties. Difference between the acquiring value and historical cost is recorded in shareholders' equity, when the interest acquired is from companies under common control. Such transactions do not qualify as business combination in the terms of CPC 15/ IFRS 3.

4.26. Foreign currency translation

The financial statements are presented in Reais, the functional currency of the Group's Parent Company. Each entity determines its own functional currency and all their financial transactions are measured in that currency.

The financial statements of subsidiaries that use a different functional currency from the Parent Company are translated into Reais, at closing date according to the following:

- Assets and liabilities, including goodwill and fair value adjustments, are translated into reais at the closing rate;
- Income statement and cash flow items are translated into reais using the average rate of the period unless significant variances occurs, when is used the rate of the transaction date
- Equity is recorded into Reais at historical cost and the exchange rate variation is recorded in equity valuation adjustments as other comprehensive income.

Exchange differences are recognized within a separate component of equity. When a foreign operation is sold, the accumulated value of exchange differences on the equity is reclassified to profit or loss.

The resulting exchange differences are recognized directly within a separate component of equity. When a foreign operation is disposed of, the cumulative amount of the exchange differences in equity relating to that operation is reclassified to profit or loss.

Foreign currency transactions (i.e transactions that use currency different from functional currency of entity) are translated using the exchange rate at the transaction date. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the closing rate and the resulting exchange differences are recognized in the income statement. Non-monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the exchange rate at the transaction date.

4.27. Pension plan

The pension plan is funded through payments to insurance companies, which are classified as a defined contribution plan according to CPC 33 (IAS 19). A defined contribution plan is a pension plan whereby an entity pays fixed contributions to a separate legal entity. The Company and its subsidiaries' have no legal or constructive obligation to pay additional contributions in relation to the plan's assets.

The defined benefit plan is granted only to employees of GPA subsidiaries headquartered in France, since its employees are eligible to a compensation to be paid in retirement. The French entities obligation is measured using the projected unit credit method based on the agreements effective in each company. Under this method, each period of service gives rise to an additional unit of benefit entitlement and each unit is measured separately to build up the final obligation. The final obligation is then discounted to the present value. The obligation is evaluated by independent actuaries, at least, annually for the employment termination benefit. Assumptions include expected rate of future salary increases, estimated average working life of employees, life expectancy and staff turnover rates.

Actuarial gains and losses arise from the effects of changes in actuarial assumptions and historical adjustments (differences between results based on previous actuarial assumptions and what has actually occurred). All gains and losses arising on defined benefit plans are recognized in equity.

The past service cost related to an increase in the obligation resulting from the introduction of, or changes to, benefit plans, is recognized as an expense on the period.

Expenses related to defined benefit plans are recognized in operating expenses (service cost) or other financial income and expense (interest cost and expected return on plan assets).

Curtailments, settlements and past service costs are recognized in operating expenses or other financial income and expense depending on their nature. The liability recognized in the balance sheet is measured as the net present value of the obligation, less the fair value of plan assets and unrecognized past service cost.

4.28. Customer loyalty programs

Are used by the Company and its subsidiaries to provide incentives to its customers in the sale of products or services. If customers buy products or services, the Company and its subsidiaries grant them credits. Customers may redeem the credits free of charge as a discount in the amount of products or services, in next purchases.

The Company and its subsidiaries estimate the fair value of the points granted according to the “Programa Mais” customer loyalty plan, by applying statistical techniques, considering the two-year expiration of the plan defined in the regulations, the percentages of points conversion, and the cost of conversion, which starts by converting 3,000 points into twenty reais (R$20.00) in products.

The Company and its subsidiaries recognize the points initially granted and the reversal of points expired under net sales.

In 2014, GPA applied amendments and new interpretations to IFRSs and CPCs issued by IASB and CPC, entering necessarily effective for accounting periods beginning on or after January 1, 2014. The mainly changes are:

Statement	Description	Impact
Amendments to IFRS 10 / CPC 36 (R3), IFRS 12 / CPC 45 and IAS 27 / CPC 35 (R2) - Investment Entities	The amendments define an investment entity and requires an entity that meets the definition of Investment Bank does not consolidate its subsidiaries, but rather evaluate its subsidiaries at fair value as reflected in the income statement in its consolidated and separate financial statements.	As the Company is not an investment entity (using the criteria defined by IFRS 10 / CPC 36 (R3) from January 2014), the application of adjustments brought no impact on disclosures or in amounts recognized in the individual and consolidated financial statements.

5. Adoption of new standards, amendments to and interpretations of existing standards issued by the IASB and CPC and standards issued but not yet effective

5.2. Revised standard already issued and adopted in advance

On August 12, 2014, IASB published amendments to IAS27, including the equity method as one of the options for financial evaluation of investments in subsidiaries, joint ventures and associates in separated financial statements. These changes will be effective for periods beginning on or after January 1st, 2016, with earlier application permitted.

In December 2014, CPC edited and issued a document amending the Technical Pronouncements CPC 18, CPC 35 and CPC 37, incorporating in Brazil the amendments introduced by IASB in IAS27, which was approved by CVM by Resolution No.733/14, applicable for financial statements prepared after December,2014.

The Company adopted this standard, although there is no consequence, since it had already adopted the equity method in the individual financial statements as required by the accounting practices adopted in Brazil. As a result there are no differences between CPCs and IFRS related to investments in subsidiaries and affiliates in the individual financial statements.

6. Significant accounting judgments, estimates and assumptions

The preparation of the individual and consolidated financial statements of the Company requires Management to make judgments, estimates and assumptions that impact the reported amounts of revenue, expenses, assets and liabilities, and the disclosure of contingent liabilities at the end of the year; however, uncertainty about these assumptions and estimates could result in outcomes that require material adjustments to the carrying amount of the asset or liability impacted in future periods. In the process of applying the Company's accounting policies, Management has made the following judgments, which have the most significant impact on the amounts recognized in the parent company and consolidated financial statements:

6.1. Financial lease commitments – Company as a lessee

The Company and its subsidiaries have entered into commercial property lease agreements in their leased property portfolio and, based on an evaluation of the terms and of conditions of the agreements, it retains all the significant risks and of rewards of ownership of these properties and recorded the agreements as financial lease.

6.2. Impairment

According to the method disclosed in note 4.1, the Company performed test to verify that the assets might not be recoverable and the year ended December 31, 2014, based on those tests, there was no need for the provision.

The procedure for verification of non-recoverability of property and equipment, consisted in allocating operating assets and intangible assets (such as Commercial rights) directly attributable to the Cash Generating Units – UGC (stores), The steps of the test were as follows:

- Step 1: compared the carrying amount of UGCs with a multiple of sales (15% to 30%), representing transactions between retail companies, For UGCs multiple-valued lower than the carrying amount, we come to a more detailed method, described in Step 2;

- Step 2: we prepare the discounted cash flow of UGC, using sales growth between 5.9% and 7.5% (6.6% and 6.7% on December 31, 2013) for the next 5 years. The discount rate used was 11.37% (10.8% on December 31, 2013).

For the purposes of impairment test, goodwill acquired through business combinations and licenses with indefinite life was allocated to 4 cash generating units, which are also operational segments that disclose financial information, being Retail, Home Appliances, Whole service and E-commerce.

Segments' recoverable value is calculated using the value in use based on estimated cash from financial budgets approved by senior management for the following three years. The discount rate before income tax on cash flow projections is 11.37% (10.8% on December 31, 2013), and the cash flows exceeding three years are extrapolated using a growth rate of 6.7% (6.5% on December 31, 2013). Based on this analysis, a provision for impairment was not necessary.

The self-service wholesale brand refers to "ASSAÍ", and the home appliance brands refer to "PONTO FRIO" and "CASAS BAHIA". These brands were recorded due to the business combinations with companies that held right over them.

The amount was tested for impairment based on the income approach methodology - relief from royalty, which consists of determining the asset value by measuring the fair value of future benefits. Given the brand's indefinite useful life, we considered a perpetuity growth rate of 6.7% during the preparation of the discounted cash flow. The royalty rate used was 0.4% for "ASSAI" brand, 0.8% for "PONTO FRIO" and 0.9% for "CASAS BAHIA".

6. Significant accounting judgments, estimates and assumptions

6.3. Income taxes

Given the nature and complexity of the Group business, the differences between actual results and assumptions, or future changes to such assumptions, could result in future adjustments to already recorded tax revenue and expenses. The Company and its subsidiaries record provisions, based on reasonable estimates, for the eventual consequences of audits by the tax authorities of the respective countries in which it operates. The amount of these provisions is based on various factors, such as previous tax audits and different interpretations of tax regulations by the taxpayer and the appropriate tax authority. Such differences in interpretation may refer to a wide range of issues, depending on the conditions prevailing in the respective entity's domicile.

Deferred income and social contribution tax assets are recognized for all unused tax losses to the extent that it is probable that taxable income will be available against which to offset the tax credits. Significant Management judgment is required to determine the amount of deferred income and social contribution tax assets that can be recognized, based on income estimates and future taxable income, based on the annual business plan approved by the Board of Directors.

The Company and its subsidiaries' tax losses carryforward amounting to a tax benefit of R$354 at December 31, 2014 (R$794 at December 31, 2013). These losses do not expire; therefore their use is limited by law to 30% of taxable income for each year. The amounts relate to the Company and its subsidiaries that have tax planning opportunities for the use of these balances.

Further details on taxes are disclosed in Note 21.

6.4. Fair value of derivatives and other financial instruments

When the fair value of financial assets and liabilities recorded in the financial statements cannot be obtained in active markets, it is determined according to the hierarchy set by technical pronouncement CPC 38 (IAS39), which establishes certain valuation techniques, including the discounted cash flow model. The data for these models are obtained, whenever possible, from observable markets or from information on comparable operations and transactions in the market. The judgments include the analyses of data, such as liquidity risk, credit risk and volatility. Changes in assumptions about these factors may affect the reported fair value of financial instruments.

The fair value of financial instruments actively traded on organized markets is determined based on market quotes, at the end of the reporting periods, without deducting transaction costs. For financial instruments not actively traded, the fair value is based on valuation techniques defined by the Company and compatible with usual market practices. These techniques include the use of recent market arm's length transactions, the benchmarking of the fair value of similar financial instruments, the analysis of discounted cash flows or other valuation models.

When the fair value of financial assets and liabilities recorded in the balance sheet cannot be observed in active markets, it is determined by valuation techniques, including the discounted cash flow method. The inputs used by these methods are collected from the market, where applicable, when these inputs are not available, judgment is required to determine the fair value, this judgment considers liquidity risk, credit risk and volatility. Changes in assumptions for these factors may affect the fair value of the financial instruments.

6.5. Share-based payments

The Company measures the costs of transactions with employees eligible to share-based remuneration based on the fair value of the equity instruments on the grant date. Estimating the fair value of share-based payment transactions requires determining the most appropriate valuation model, which depends on the terms and conditions of the grant. This estimate also requires determining the most appropriate inputs for the valuation model, including the expected useful life of the stock options, volatility and dividend yield, as well as making assumptions about them. The assumptions and models used to estimate the fair value of share-based payment transactions are disclosed in Note 26.6.

6.6. Provision for contingencies

The Company and its subsidiaries are parties to several judicial and administrative proceedings, (see note n° 23), Provisions for legal claims are recognized for all cases representing reasonably estimated probable losses. The assessment of the likelihood of loss takes into account available evidence, the hierarchy of laws, former court decisions and their legal significance, as well as the legal counsel's opinion. The Company's management concluded that the provisions for tax, civil and labor claims are adequately presented in the parent company and consolidated financial statements.

6.7. Estimated losses in allowance for doubtful accounts

The subsidiary Via Varejo has in its accounts receivable the amount of installment sales to be received by individual customers, over which, the estimation of losses is made in accordance with the expected percentage of losses, obtained through the observation of the historical behavior of the portfolio, as well as, other economic circumstances.

6.8. Tax recoverable

The Company and its subsidiaries have tax recoverable mainly related to ICMS, ICMS from Tax Substitution, PIS and Cofins. The utilization of its taxes is made based on the projections prepared by management, operational issues and the consumption of the credits by the companies in the group. Further details, see note 11 of credits and compensation.

Since 2008, the Brazilian States have been substantially changing their laws aiming at implementing and broadening the ICMS (State VAT) tax substitutes system. Referred system implies the prepayment of ICMS throughout the commercial chain, upon goods outflow from manufacturer or importer or their inflow into the State. The creation of such system to a wider range of products traded at retail is based on the assumption that the trading cycle of these products will end in the State, so that ICMS is fully owed thereto.

In order to supply its stores, the Company and its subsidiaries maintain distribution centers strategically located in certain States and in the Federal District, which receive goods with ICMS of the entire commercial chain (by force of tax replacement) already prepaid by suppliers or the Company and subsidiaries, and then, goods are sent to locations in other States. Such interstate shipment remittance entitles the Company and subsidiaries to a refund reimbursement of prepaid ICMS, i.e., the ICMS of the commercial chain paid in acquisition becomes a tax credit to be refunded, pursuant to the State laws.

The refund process requires the evidence through tax documents and digital files referring to the operations that entitled the Company to refund. Only after its previous legal ratification by State Tax Authorities and/or compliance with specific ancillary obligations aiming such evidence then credits may be used by the Company, which occurs in periods after these are generated.

11. Recoverable taxes -- continued

Since the number of items traded at retail, subject to tax replacement, has been continuously increasing, the tax credits to be refunded by the Company and subsidiaries have also grown.

The Company and its subsidiaries have been realizing these credits with authorization for immediate offset with those credits due in view of its operations, for having obtained the Special Regime and also for complying with other procedures contained in the state rulings.

Referring to the credits which still cannot be offset immediately, the Company's Management based on a technical feasibility study, based on the growth future expectation and offset against debts deriving from its operations, understands its future offset is feasible. These studies were prepared based on information extracted from strategically planning report previously approved by the Company's Board of Directors.

The Company takes extemporaneous credits of taxes, every time that brings together legal, documentary and factual understanding of such credits that allow their recognition, including the estimation of realization. Such credits are recognized as a reduction of cost of Goods sold. In 2014, among other credits, there was an unused credits by member companies of R$302, in Via Varejo subsidiary. The elements that support the registration and utilization of such credit were obtained during the year.

(i) Fair value of investment held in Bartira

It refers to the measurement of the investment currently held by Via Varejo of 25% of Bartira's capital stock at fair value by the income approach, considering the present value of directly or indirectly generated future benefits assessed and quantified in the form of cash flow. The asset was recognized at the time of the business combination between CB and Casa Bahia and the Company.

With the acquisition of subsidiary Bartira, this amount was reclassified to goodwill and interest was re-measured, previously held at 25%, also against goodwill, earning a gain of R$71, as per note 14.

(ii) Public offering of shares – Via Varejo

At December 27, 2013, the Via Varejo's Secondary Public Offering of Share Certificates or Units (each Unit is composed of one common share and two preferred shares) was concluded. Considering the over-allotment, a total amount of one hundred, twenty-three million, six hundred, ninety-six thousand, nine hundred, eighty-four (123,697) Units were offered, totaling R$2,845.

The Company sold a total amount of thirty-eight million, nine hundred, ninety-one thousand, four hundred, forty-one (38,991,441) Units for R$897, so that its interest in Via Varejo decreased to 62.25% of common shares and 43.35% of total capital. The proceeds from such divestment were recorded as credits in equity, as this is a transaction with non-controlling shareholders, being represented by a sale of the Company's interest and kept the control over Via Varejo. The effect of income tax on capital gain, transaction costs and write-off of related investments were also recorded in the equity. The equity effect deriving from this transaction was R$200.

Also pursuant to Clauses 4.1.3 and 10.1.4.2 of the Shareholders' Agreement, a Sufficient Minimum Fragmentation was verified, considering the fulfillment of the following conditions cumulatively: (i) CB Group (represented by Messrs. Samuel Klein, Michael Klein and Mrs. Eva Lea Klein, and other entities) sold more than 23.64% of their shares representing Via Varejo's capital stock; and (ii) Via Varejo's total free float reached a level higher than 20% of total capital. On this present date, CB Group holds 27.31% of shares representing Via Varejo's capital and its free float reached 29.34% of total.

14. Business combinations

Business combinations are recorded according to the acquisition method in compliance with CPC 15R1 (IFRS 3)

14.1. Acquisition of Bartira

Until October 31, 2013, Via Varejo and Casa Bahia Comercial Ltda. ("CB") were partners in Bartira, subsidiary Via Varejo, holding interests of 25% and 75%, respectively. Since the association between Company and CB (November 1, 2010), the Company held a purchase option to buy the other 75% of interest, which could be exercised between 3 and 6 years of association.

In 2013, this option fair value was calculated through the Black & Scholes method, using a volatility of 28% and a risk-free rate of 5.8% p.a., which resulted in a fair value of R$314 (R$307 on December 31, 2012) on the exercise date. Up to the exercise date, this option was recorded as financial instrument in the consolidated financial statements.

On October 31, 2013, the Company's Shareholders' Meeting approved the exercise of option to purchase the remaining interest in Bartira ("Purchase Option"), followed by the submission to CB of the exercise notification on November 1, 2013. The quotas of Bartira's capital stock were transferred on December 2, 2013. The price paid for the exercise of the purchase option on November 1, 2013 was R$212. After the transaction, the subsidiary Via Varejo holds Bartira's entire capital stock.

As of the date of notification to CB, Via Varejo holds substantive rights on Bartira, and November 1, 2013 was defined as the of the business combination date.

Prior to the business combination, the subsidiary Via Varejo held a 25% interest in Bartira. The fair value of the previously held interest was measured at fair value on the acquisition date, as defined in IFRS 3 (R), CPC15 (R1), the fair value of interest was measured through the discounted cash flow method, and amounted to R$176. The fair value of remeasurement of the investment previously held, compared to the book value of the investment, resulted in a gain of R$71, presented in 2013 and recorded in "Other operating expenses and income".

Thus, the consideration transferred for the execution of the business combination is determined by (i) the exercise price of the call option in the amount of R$212; (ii) the fair value of the call options held by the Company prior to the business combination in the amount of R$314; and (iii) the remeasurement at fair value of the investment previously held in the amount of R$176.

Below are the fair values of identifiable assets and liabilities acquired from Bartira on the business combination date:

Call option fair value	314	314
Previous interest fair value	176	176
Goodwill	603	627

The main Intangible identified in Bartira business combination refers to:

- (i) Brands - R$46 - Related to mark "BARTIRA," which was calculated using the method of "royalties", whose useful life is indefinite.
- (i) Contractual relationship (Rent on favorable terms) - R$36 million - related to favorable terms compared to the market in the rent of the property used as a manufacturing plant pro Bartira. This asset will be amortized over the remaining term of 7-year contract.

Goodwill relating to the acquisition of control of Bartira is supported by the strategic nature to ensure a continuous supply of important supplier. In addition, the acquisition also enabled Via Varejo (i) to vertically integrate its mobile retail operation, (ii) benefiting the low cost structure of Bartira given its scale as one of the largest plants in Latin America in terms of volume production, and (iii) maintain operational efficiencies and synergies (including logistics, sales and administrative costs) developed through the historical development between the Company and Bartira. The combined outcomes of these effects cause the Company to have the largest margin in products sold at Via Varejo shops.

The ultimate factor is that a replacement supplier for Bartira would be difficult to find in the local market and would negatively affect the furniture line of products that are traded by Via Varejo.

For purposes of consolidated cash flow statement, the amount paid must be deducted from the net cash acquired. Thus, the amount recorded will be R$212, less 75% of Bartira's cash equivalent, totaling R$211. Goodwill on acquisition was fully allocated in the home appliance segment.

Subsequent measurement – provisional allocation of the purchase price.

The acquisition of Bartira's control was accounted for under the acquisition method, in accordance with CPC 15 (IFRS 3R). In compliance with this standard, in 2014 the Company concluded collecting the data and assessing the fair value of the net assets acquired on November 1, 2013, adjusting R$23, and, consequently affected the goodwill on acquisition. The adjustments, mainly, refer to effects on measuring income tax, as well as inventories adjustments on acquisition date.

The sales result of Bartira is eliminated against the Cost of Goods Sold, as sales are done 100% by Via Varejo. Consolidated lingering effects are not significant.

16.1. Impairment testing of goodwill and intangible assets

At December 31, 2014, for impairment testing purposes, the goodwill acquired through business combinations and licenses with indefinite useful lives was allocated to four cash generating units, which are also operating segments that disclose information: retail, home appliances, cash and carry and e-commerce.

The recoverable amount of the segments was defined by means of a calculation based on the value in use based on cash projections arising from the financial budgets approved by senior management for the next three years. The discount rate before taxes applied to cash flow projections is 11,4% (10,8% at December 31, 2013), and cash flows exceeding 3 years are extrapolated by using a growth rate of 6,7% (6,4% at December 31, 2013). Based on this analysis, a charge for impairment was not necessary.

16.2. Trade names

Trades, substantially, refer to “ASSAÍ”, “PONTO FRIO” and “CASAS BAHIA”.

The value was subject to impairment tests through the income approach – Relief from Royalty, which consists of determining the value of an asset by measuring the present value of future benefits, Given the indefinite useful life of the trade name, we consider a perpetual growth of 6.7% in the preparation of the discounted cash flow, The royalty rate used was 0.4% for “ASSAÍ”, 0.8% for “PONTO FRIO” and 0,9% for “CASAS BAHIA”.

As a result of this analysis, it was not identified the need of record a provision for reducing the recoverable amount of these assets.

GPA uses the issue of debentures to strengthen its working capital, maintain its cash strategy, lengthen its debt profile and make investments. The debentures issued are unsecured, without renegotiation clauses and not convertible into shares, except for the debentures issued by the subsidiaries, which are guaranteed by the Company.

These debentures are amortized according to the issue. The methods of amortization are as follows: (i) payment only at maturity with annual remuneration (10th issue of CBD), (ii) payment only at maturity with semiannual remuneration (11th issue of GPA and 3rd issue of Via Varejo) and (iii) annual installments payments as of the 4th anniversary of the issue (12th issue of CBD) and semiannual payments.

The 10th 11th and 12th issues are entitled to early redemption, at any time, in accordance with the conditions established in the issue. The 3rd issues of Via Varejo can only be redeemed after 18 months.

19. Financial instruments – Continued

The fair value of other financial instruments described in table above is an approximation of the carrying amount based on the existing payment conditions. The financial instruments through amortized cost that their values differ from carrying amount are described in Note 19.3.

19.1. Considerations on risk factors that may affect the business of the Company and its subsidiaries

The Company adopts risk control policies and procedures, as outlined below:

(i) Credit risk

- Cash and cash equivalents: in order to minimize credit risk of these investments, the Company adopts investment policies at financial institutions approved by the Company's Cash Flow Committee, also taking into consideration monetary limits and financial institution evaluations, which are frequently updated (see Note 7).
- Accounts receivable: credit risk related to accounts receivable is minimized by the fact that big portion of the sales are paid with credit cards, and the Company sells these receivables to banks and credit card companies itself, aiming strength working capital. The sales of receivables result in derecognition of the accounts receivable due to the transfer of the credit risk, benefits and control of such assets.
- The Company also has counterparty risk related to the derivative instruments; such risk is mitigated by the Company's policy of carrying out transactions, according to policies approved by governance boards.
- Financed sales (CDCI): sales are made through operating agreements (credit lines) with banks Bradesco, Safra and Banco do Brasil for granting loans to their customers, through intervention with their financial institutions, with the aim of enabling and encouraging the sale of goods in their stores. In this type of sale, the subsidiary Via Varejo has ultimate responsibility for the settlement of loans and the credit risk of the operation.
- There are no amounts receivable that are individually, higher than 5% of accounts receivable or sales, respectively.

(ii) Interest rate risk

The Company and its subsidiaries raise loans and financing with major financial institutions for cash needs for investments and growth. As a result, the Company and its subsidiaries are, mainly, exposed to relevant interest rates fluctuation risk, especially in view of derivatives liabilities (foreign currency exposure hedge) and CDI-pegged debt, The balance of cash and cash equivalents, indexed to CDI, partially offsets the interest rate risk.

(iii) Exchange rate risk

The Company and its subsidiaries are exposed to exchange rate fluctuations, which may increase outstanding balances of foreign currency-denominated borrowings. The Company and its subsidiaries use derivatives, such as swaps, with a view to mitigating the exchange exposure risk, converting the cost of debt into currency and domestic interest rates.

(vi) Derivative financial instruments

Certain swap operations are classified as fair value hedge, whose objective is to hedge against foreign exchange exposure (U.S. dollars) and fixed interest rates, converting the debt into domestic interest rates and currency.

At December 31, 2014 the reference value of these contracts were R$842 (R$460 at December 31, 2013). These operations are usually contracted under the same terms of amounts, maturities and fees, and preferably carried out with the same financial institution, observing the limits set by Management.

According to the Company's treasury policies, swaps cannot be contracted with restrictions ("caps"), margins, as well as return clauses, double index, flexible options or any other types of transactions different from traditional "swap" operations to hedge against debts.

The Company's internal controls were designed so that to ensure that transactions are conducted in compliance with this treasury policy.

The Company calculates the effectiveness of operations and hedge accounting is applied on inception date and on continuing basis. Hedge operations contracted in the year ended December 31, 2014 were effective in relation to the covered risk. For derivative transactions qualified as hedge accounting, according to technical pronouncement CPC 38 (IAS 39), the debt, which is the hedge object, is also adjusted at fair value.

Fair value is the amount for which an asset could be exchanged, or a liability settled, between knowledgeable, willing parties in an arm’s length transaction.

Fair values are calculated by projecting the future cash flows of operations, using the curves of CDI and discounting them to present value, using CDI market rates for swaps both disclosed by BM&FBovespa.

The market value of exchange coupon swaps versus CDI rate was obtained applying market exchange rates effective on the date the interim financial information are drawn up and rates are projected by the market calculated based on currency coupon curves, In order to calculate the coupon of foreign currency indexed-positions, the straight-line convention - 360 consecutive days was adopted and to calculate the coupon of CDI indexed-positions, the exponential convention - 252 business days was adopted.

19. Financial instruments – Continued19.2. Sensitivity analysis of financial instruments

According to the Management's assessment, the most probable scenario is what the market has been estimating through market curves (currency and interest rates) of BM&FBovespa, on the maturity dates of each operation. Therefore, in the probable scenario (I), there is no impact on the fair value of financial instruments already mentioned in item (vi) above. For scenarios (II) and (III), for the sensitivity analysis effect, according to CVM rules, a deterioration of 25% and 50% was taken into account, respectively, on risk variables, up to the maturity date of the financial instruments.

For the probable scenario, exchange rate weighted was R$3.17 on the due date, and the interest rate weighted was 12.91% per year.

In case of derivative financial instruments (aiming at hedging the financial debt), changes in scenarios are accompanied by respective hedges, indicating effects are not significant, see note 19 (ii).

The Company disclosed the net exposure of the derivatives financial instruments, corresponding financial instruments and certain financial instruments in the sensitivity analysis chart below, for each of the scenarios mentioned:

23.3. Taxes

Tax claims are indexed, by law, by monthly restatement, which refers to an adjustment in the amount of provisions for legal claims in accordance with the indexation rates used by each tax jurisdiction. In all cases, both the interest charges and fines, when applicable, were computed and fully provisioned with respect to unpaid amounts.

The main provisioned tax claims are as follows:

COFINS and PIS

With the non-cumulativeness system when calculating PIS and COFINS, the Company and its subsidiaries are discussing at court the right to exclude the ICMS from the calculation basis of these two contributions.

With the systematic of calculation of PIS/Cofins, the Company and its subsidiaries start questioning the right to exclude the ICMS the basis for calculation of these taxes. The amount accrued on December 31, 2014 was R$ 72 (R$ 92 on December 31, 2013). The difference is related to reclassification to possible related to claims of PIS/Cofins with IPI (Taxes over industrialized products), which had final decision.

The Company questioned the off set of Finsocial, PIS and Cofins, which classified as likelihood of loss as probable and on September 30, 2014, the claims were paid with the benefits given by law 12.996/14 (R$ 173 on December 31, 2013).

In addition, the Company offset tax debts related to PIS and COFINS against excise tax - IPI credits – inputs subject to a zero rate or exempt - acquired from third parties (transferred based on final and unappealable court decision). The amount for PIS and COFINS claims at December 31, 2014 is R$72 (R$92 at December 31, 2013).

In addition, in 2013 there were progresses in the claims related to the offset of Finsocial, COFINS and PIS, which lead our legal counsel to change their estimation of losses from possible to probable in the amount of (R$173 at December 31,2013).

Taxes and other

Taxes

The Company and its subsidiaries have other tax claims, which after analysis of its legal counsels, were deemed as probable losses; therefore, accrued by the Company. These are: (i) tax assessment notices related to purchase, industrialization and sale of soybean and byproducts exports (PIS, COFINS and IRPJ); (ii) disagreement on the non-application of Accident Prevention Factor - FAP for 2011; (iii) disagreement on the “Fundo de Combate à Pobreza” (State Government Fund Against Poverty), enacted by the Rio de Janeiro State government; (iv) disagreement on tax losses carryforwards, as well as suppliers contracted considered disqualified before the registration of the State Internal Revenue Service, error when applying rate, ancillary obligations by State tax authorities; and (v) other less relevant issues.

The provision amounts at December 31, 2014 is R$108 (R$100 at December 31, 2013).

During the second quarter of 2013, procedural events occurred that led to change in the likelihood of loss from probable to possible of a claim related to income taxes of R$44. The amount accrued for December 31, 2014 is disclosed in note 23.6.

The Supreme Court ("STF") on October 16, 2014, decided that the taxpayers of ICMS marketing products that make up the basic food basket have no right to fully use the credits of this tax, unless there is a specific rule governing the subject. The Company, with the aid of its legal advisors, evaluated and recorded a provision on this matter amounting to R$147 in December 31, 2014, due to the fact that this claim is considered "probable". The amounts accrued represent the best management's estimation of losses.

In addition, the Company discusses in court the eligibility to not pay the contributions provided for by Supplementary Law 110/01, referring to the FGTS (Government Severance Indemnity Fund for Employees) costs. The accrued amount at December 31, 2014 is R$48 (R$39 at December 31, 2013).

Other

Provisions for tax contingent liabilities were recorded in Via Varejo subsidiary, which upon business combinations are recorded, under technical pronouncement CPC 15 (IFRS 3). At December 31, 2014, the amount recorded was R$87 (R$165 at December 31, 2013) in tax contingent liabilities. This difference is justified by the payments made in connection with the law 12.996/14.

These accrued claims refer to administrative court claims related to the off set of fiscal debts with credits over coffee export.

Contingencies Bartira

In line with the business combination of Bartira, which happened in 2013 (details are shown in note 15 of the 2013 financial statements) contingencies were evaluated at fair value, as expressed by CPC 15 (IFRS 3R), whose assessment differs from CPC 25 (IAS 37), the standard used for the evaluation of other contingencies. The main raw relates to possible failure supporting documentation of transactions, totaling R$106 between income and social contribution taxes, PIS, COFINS and ICMS, and the total contingent liabilities amounted to R$118 (tax R$106 and labor R$12).

REFIS

Law 12.996/2014 amended by MP 651, introduced interest reduction benefits and penalties for payments to cash and in installments on federal debts. The Company understands is reasonable to enroll the REFIS program to pay part of its debts, utilizing also part of the income tax over net operating losses to offset it.

There was a reduction of the provision for contingencies in the amount of R$296. The gain net of other negative effects is shown on note 29. .

23.4.Labor

The Company and subsidiaries are parties to numerous lawsuits involving disputes with its employees, primarily arising from layoffs in the ordinary course of business, At December 31, 2014, the Company recorded a provision of R$521 (R$297 at December 31, 2013) referring to lawsuits whose risk of loss was considered probable. Management, assisted by its legal counsels, evaluates these claims recording provision for losses when reasonably estimable, bearing in mind previous experiences in relation to the amounts claimed. Labor claims are indexed to the benchmark interest rate (“TR”) 0,86% at December 31, 2014 (0,19% at December 31, 2013) plus 1% monthly interest rates.

23.5.Civil and other

The Company and subsidiaries are defendant in civil actions, at several court levels (indemnifications and collections, among others) and at different courthouses. The Company and subsidiaries’ Management set up provisions in amounts considered sufficient to cover unfavorable court decisions when its internal and external legal advisors consider losses probable.

Among these lawsuits, we point out the following:

- The Company and subsidiaries file and answer various lawsuits in which it requests the renewals of lease agreements and the review of the lease paid. The Company recognizes a provision for the difference between the amount originally paid by the stores and the amounts pleaded by the adverse party (owner of the property) in the lawsuit, when internal and external legal advisors agree on the likelihood of changing the lease paid by the entity. Former Option Plan

Our Former Option Plan is administered by a committee elected by our Board of Directors, called Stock Option Plan Administration Committee of Stock Option ("Stock Option Committee"). This committee determined the employees to be included periodically with stock options, based on their roles, responsibilities and performance, defining the applicable conditions.

Our Stock Option Committee developed annual cycles of grant of options. Each grant cycle received a serial number beginning with the letter A. In the fiscal year ended December 31, 2014, were in force options granted of Series A5 to A7 Former Option Plan.

Options were classified as follows: "Silver" and "Gold", what means that they could have different exercise prices.

The exercise price for the Silver-type option will correspond to the average of closing price of the Company preferred shares occurred over the last 20 trading sessions of BM&FBOVESPA, prior to the date on which the Committee resolves on the granting of option. After calculating the exercise price a 20% discount was applied on it. The price for the Gold-type option will correspond to R$0,01. In both cases, the prices will not be restated.

The Stock Option Committee approved in 2013 new criteria to calculate the reducer or accelerator index of the number of options granted classified as "Gold" in each series of the Stock Option Plan, according to the analysis of compliance with the concept of return on invested capital (ROIC). For the series after A6, inclusive, the committee decided that the reducer or accelerator index of number of options classified as "GOLD" would be calculated according Return on Capital Employed (ROCE) of CBD.

There is no limit for reduction or acceleration in this new criterion approved. Upon option vesting, the average ROIC/ROCE of the last three fiscal years will be calculated, compared to ROIC/ROCE calculated upon granting of each series.

As a general rule of the Stock Option Plan, which may be altered by the Stock Option Committee in each series, the option vesting right will be granted between 36th and the 48th month as of the signature date of related adherence agreement and the beneficiary will be entitled to acquire 100% of shares whose option was classified as "Silver". The option exercise classified as "Gold" will occur in the same period, but the percentage of these options subject to exercise will be determined by the Stock Option Committee in the 35th month as of the signature date of related adhesion agreement, according to the aforementioned criteria.

The options granted under the Stock Option Plan may be exercised in whole or in part, it is worth noting that "Gold" options are additional to "Silver" and thus the "Gold" options may only be exercised jointly with "Silver" options.

The price on the exercise of options granted under the Stock Option Plan shall be fully paid in local currency by beneficiary, and the exercise price must be paid in first installment, due 30 days after the subscription date of their shares.
