Nuveen Municipal Closed-End Exchange-Traded Funds (NAZ, NUM, NMP, NUO, NTX)

Portfolio Managers'

COMMENTS

Portfolio managers Mike Davern and Tom Futrell discuss national and state economic conditions, key investment strategies, and the performance of the Nuveen Municipal Closed-End Exchange-Traded Funds for Arizona, Michigan, Ohio, and Texas. Mike has managed NAZ, NUM, NMP, and NTX since 1998, and Tom also assumed portfolio management responsibility for NUO in 1998.

WHAT MAJOR FACTORS AFFECTED THE U.S. ECONOMY AND THE MUNICIPAL MARKET DURING THIS REPORTING PERIOD?

The major factor affecting the fixed-income markets for the past two years has been the Federal Reserve's interest rate policies. After a period of significant tightening, the Fed has cut interest rates twice since the beginning of this year, first by 50 basis points on January 3 and then another 50 basis points on January 31. This marked the first time in Alan Greenspan's 13-year tenure at the Fed that rates have been reduced by a full percentage point within a single month. Currently, the Fed appears to consider economic weakness a more serious risk than the possibility of inflation that it was fighting last year. The consensus among many market observers is that the Fed may continue to ease as long as signs of a significant economic slowdown remain.

In the municipal market, indications of economic slowing and tight new issue supply helped many bonds perform well. For the 12 months ended January 31, 2001, new issuance of municipal bonds totaled just over $202 billion nationwide, down 8% from the previous 12-month period (February 1999 through January 2000). Part of this decline stemmed from higher rate concerns in early 2000, which made it less attractive for some issuers to offer bonds. In addition, generally favorable economic conditions in most cities and states enabled many issuers to use pay-as-you-go funding for necessary projects, rather than financing obtained through new issuance.

At the same time, demand for municipal bonds continued to be strong from individual investors looking for diversification, income, and an alternative to a volatile stock market. As a result, municipal bond prices generally were higher, and yields were correspondingly lower, at the end of January 2001 than they were 12 months earlier. Nevertheless, we believe municipals continued to represent good value. As of January 31, 2001, long-term municipal yields were 97.3% of 30-year Treasury yields, compared with 97.7% in January 2000 and the historical average of 86.0% for the period 1986-1999.

MIKE, WHAT ABOUT THE ECONOMIC AND MARKET ENVIRONMENT IN ARIZONA, MICHIGAN, AND TEXAS?

Arizona can boast of having the second fastest growing state economy in the nation (behind Nevada) over the past year, as well as the most rapidly growing metropolitan area (Tucson). The key drivers of the state's booming economy were robust growth in the manufacturing sector and rapid employment gains in semiconductor manufacturing, Internet, and business services. Many expect this growth to continue at an aggressive pace, based on Arizona's large number of innovative, rapidly expanding companies, which may enable the state to take continued advantage of its emerging high-tech economy. Additional infusions of venture capital also are expected to lead to strong near-term employment gains, especially in communications and business services. In addition, Arizona should continue to benefit from the North American Free Trade Agreement because of exports to Mexico. The influx of new residents, both retirees as well as younger people, should continue to stimulate the housing market, increase demand for service industries, and help to alleviate some of the constraints imposed by a tight job market. Arizona's municipal market continued to see tight new issue supply, with issuance over the past six months (August 2000-January 2001) totaling $1.16 billion, down 16% from levels seen during the previous six months.

Michigan's supply of municipal bonds, on the other hand, was somewhat more plentiful over the six months ended January 2001, with $3.46 billion in new issuance, compared with $2.18 billion for the previous six months. The state also benefited from Moody's and Standard &

Poor's recent upgrades of its credit rating to Aaa and AAA, respectively, reflecting continued strong budget performance and Michigan's low debt burden. A third major rating agency, Fitch, maintained its rating at AA+. The Michigan economy, which remains heavily reliant on manufacturing, especially auto production, continued to grow more moderately than the national average. Growing efficiency in the auto manufacturing process and weaker consumer demand for automobiles led to numerous job cuts for autoworkers in recent years. Tight labor markets and lower capital goods spending could also further negatively impact the auto industry. While Michigan remains hampered by above-average business costs, the state is attempting to become more competitive in attracting new businesses by implementing aggressive economic development initiatives and by gradually phasing out the state's single business tax. In the years ahead, Michigan's construction and service industries are expected to lead the state's employment growth, although the manufacturing sector, which should continue to diversify, will likely remain the anchor of the state economy.

Municipal issuance in Texas followed the pattern seen in most other states, with new issue supply for the period August 2000 through January 2001 totaling $1.38 billion, a decline of 27% from the previous six months. Over the past year, Texas showed strong growth, as the state economy continued to diversify away from energy-related industries into high-tech businesses, especially in the Dallas and Austin metropolitan areas. In terms of the total number of high-tech jobs, Texas is second only to California. The growing presence of technology has helped to offset the recent volatility the state experienced in the oil and gas industry. In addition, the resurgence of the Mexican economy led to significant increases in state exports, which reached record levels during the second quarter of 2000.

TOM, WHAT ABOUT OHIO?

Ohio also saw its supply of new municipal bonds continue to decline, as issuance over the most recent six-month period totaled $2.79 billion, down 12% from the previous six months. Given Ohio's high marginal income tax rate, demand from individual investors continued to be very strong, and this, in turn, caused Ohio municipal bonds to trade at high prices relative to the national market. The Ohio economy continued to rely heavily on manufacturing, while the financial and business service sectors, which led the state's moderate economic expansion in recent years, began to slow. The state's economy is primarily anchored by Cleveland, Cincinnati, and Columbus, which account for 47% of Ohio's population and 53% of the state's total income. The Columbus and Cincinnati metropolitan areas, in particular, have strong, diverse economies, which should continue to grow at a faster pace than that of the state as a whole. Overall, however, Ohio's near-term economic growth is projected to continue to lag national levels due to slowing construction activity and labor shortages resulting from continued population losses. During 2000, the Ohio Supreme Court again declared the state's school district funding formulas unconstitutional, and funding remains a hotly debated issue. In June, the court is expected to hear testimony on methods to alleviate the funding concerns of low-wealth districts.

HOW DID THESE NUVEEN FUNDS PERFORM OVER THE PAST YEAR?

Early in 2000, as the Fed's interest rate hikes pushed yields higher, municipal bond prices took a corresponding drop. Over the summer, however, the tight supply of new municipal issues and generally favorable technicals helped to prompt a shift in market outlook, rallying the municipal market and boosting the prices of many bonds. The Funds' participation in the recovery of the municipal market is reflected in the total returns on NAV listed in the previous table, which show dramatic improvement over the performance results presented in the Funds' annual report for the period ending July 31, 2000.

During the 12 months ended January 31, 2001, the yield on the Bond Buyer 25 Revenue Bond Index fell from 6.31% to 5.43%. In this environment of falling yields (and rising bond values), you would expect funds with longer durations⁴ to perform well. As of January 31, 2001, the duration of the unleveraged Lehman Brothers Municipal Bond Index was 7.51. By comparison, the durations of NAZ, NUM, NMP, and NTX ranged from 8.50 to 9.86, while NUO's duration was 6.28. The relative performance of the Funds was also impacted by their weightings of U.S. guaranteed bonds, which ranged from 24% in NUO to 6% in NMP. In the current environment, the extremely short durations of these prerefunded and escrowed bonds, which benefited the Funds through higher yields, limited the Funds' degree of participation in the market rally.

WERE THE FUNDS' DIVIDENDS AFFECTED BY THE MARKET ENVIRONMENT?

Changes in the interest rate environment over the past 12 months had an impact on the dividends of the five Nuveen Funds covered in this report. All of these Funds use leverage as a way to potentially enhance the dividends paid to common shareholders. The extent of this benefit is tied in part to the short-term rates that the Funds pay their MuniPreferred(R) shareholders. When short-term rates rise, the Funds must pay out more income to preferred shareholders, decreasing the amount of income available for common shareholders. As the Federal Reserve raised short-term rates between June 1999 and May 2000, these increases had a corresponding impact on short-term municipal rates. The increase in short-term municipal rates, as well as the pressure of bond calls, was sufficient to cause decreases in the common share dividends of all five Funds during 2000. Despite these dividend adjustments, the Nuveen Funds continued to provide competitive market yields, as shown in the earlier table.

Recently, the Fed's interest rate cuts have contributed to a steepening of the slope in the municipal yield curve. The lower rates offered by municipal securities with shorter maturities could potentially have beneficial effects on the dividend stability of these leveraged Funds by reducing the amount the Funds pay their MuniPreferred(R) shareholders. This, in turn, could leave more Fund earnings to support common share dividends. However, this trend could be offset by the effect of bond calls on higher-yielding bonds held by these portfolios. All five of these Funds reach the 10-year point of the bond market cycle between October 2001 and December 2002, a period when they will experience increased risk of bond calls.

WHAT ABOUT THE FUNDS' SHARE PRICE PERFORMANCE?

During the first part of 2000, uncertainties about inflation and interest rates, coupled with investors' focus on equity market performance, tended to dampen interest in most fixed-income products. The lack of demand put pressure on the prices of many municipal bond investments. In recent months, as the bond market showed signs of recovery and the stock market continued to be volatile, many investors once again appeared to be considering tax-free fixed-income alternatives. As a result, the share prices of these Funds improved (see the charts on the individual Performance Overview pages).

As investors recognized this opportunity, robust demand for these Nuveen Funds caused the premiums (share price above NAV) on NAZ and NUO to widen, while the discounts (share price below NAV) on NMP and NTX narrowed substantially over the past 12 months. For NUM, the discount was virtually eliminated. While the market prices of NMP and NTX continue to lag the actual value of the bonds in their portfolios, shareholders

- 1 The Funds' performances are compared with that of the national Lehman Brothers Municipal Bond Index, an unleveraged index comprising a broad range of investment-grade municipal bonds. Results for the Lehman index do not reflect any expenses.
- 2 The total returns of NAZ, NUO, and NTX are compared with the average annualized return of the 19 funds in the Lipper Other States Municipal Debt Funds category, while the returns of NUM and NMP are compared with the average return of the 6 funds in the Lipper Michigan Municipal Debt Funds category. Fund and Lipper returns assume reinvestment of dividends.
- 3 The taxable-equivalent yield represents the yield that must be earned on a taxable investment in order to equal the yield of the Nuveen Fund on an after-tax basis. The taxable-equivalent yield is based on the Fund's market yield on the indicated date and a federal income tax rate of 31% plus the applicable state income tax rate. The combined federal and state tax rates used in this report are as follows: Arizona 34.5%, Michigan 34%, and Ohio 35.5%. Because Texas has no state income tax, NTX's taxable-equivalent yield is based on the federal income tax rate of 31%.
- 4 Duration is a measure of a Fund's NAV volatility in reaction to interest rate movements. Fund duration, also known as leverage-adjusted duration, takes into account the leveraging process for a Fund and therefore is generally longer than the duration of the actual portfolio of individual bonds that make up the Fund. Unless otherwise noted, references to duration in this commentary are intended to indicate Fund duration.

WHAT KEY STRATEGIES WERE USED TO MANAGE THESE FUNDS DURING THE YEAR ENDED

Edgar Filing: NUVEEN MICHIGAN QUALITY INCOME MUNICIPAL FUND INC - Form N-30D

JANUARY 31, 2001?

Despite a slow start, the 12-month period ended January 31, 2001, turned out to be generally positive for fixed-income markets, including municipal bonds. As evidenced by their strong 12-month total returns on NAV, these Nuveen Funds were well structured going into this period. Given the tight supply of new issuance over the past 12 months, we found fewer opportunities to make trades that would substantially enhance the Funds' holdings. As opportunities did become available, we focused on strengthening long-term dividend-payment capabilities, enhancing call protection, and purchasing bonds with the potential to add value and diversification to the Funds' portfolios.

For example, in all of the funds covered in this report, we recently leveraged our understanding of the complexities of bonds secured by payments under the $250 billion master settlement agreement between four major tobacco companies and 46 states in 1998 by purchasing Puerto Rico Children's Trust Fund bonds backed by these revenues. These Aa3 rated bonds, which we purchased in late October, offered attractive yields as well as federal and state income tax exemption and have performed well since our purchase. If prices remain attractive, we plan to continue to add to our holdings of these bonds, especially through purchases in the secondary market.

To enhance NUO's ability to participate in market gains, we also worked to lengthen the Fund's duration by purchasing appropriate issues as they became available in the market. For example, in January, we added zero coupon bonds issued by Hamilton County that we found very attractive versus historical spread relationships. These Aaa bonds have a maturity date of 2028 and are noncallable. As the municipal market rallied, many of the bonds in our portfolio registered substantial gains. In view of this, we took advantage of opportunities to sell bonds with short calls or lower yields, reinvesting the proceeds in bonds offering higher yields. This enabled us to generate tax loss carryforwards to offset future realized capital gains while improving the Fund's call structure and enhancing potential dividend-paying capabilities.

Another area of the market in which we continued to identify value opportunities was the healthcare sector, where credit spreads remained wide relative to historical levels. Although this industry continues to face challenges, healthcare providers on the whole are adjusting to the new environment, and signs indicate that improvement could be on the way. This is a sector where our considerable research expertise is crucial in identifying undervalued situations and credits with the potential to improve over time. Over the past six months, we found several such situations. In the Michigan Funds, we purchased the Michigan State Hospital Finance Authority - Ascension Health Credit Group, while NAZ added bonds issued by the Arizona Health Facilities Authority - John C. Lincoln Health Network. The Ascension Health and Lincoln Health bonds provided yields 100 and 200 basis points, respectively, over insured bonds currently available in the market. In NTX, we also found opportunities to pick up additional yield, including the purchase of AAA bonds issued by the Grand Prairie Housing Finance Corporation - Landings at Carrier Project, a GNMA-insured multifamily housing project, which provided 80 basis points of incremental yield over AAA-insured general obligation bonds.

In terms of performance, the top two sectors of the municipal market over the past 12 months were hospitals and water and sewer. During this period, the Funds' performances benefited from their weightings in these two sectors, which ranked among the top five holdings in NUM, NMP, NUO, and NTX. At the same time, NAZ increased its healthcare weighting to 16% from 14% a year earlier.

All five Funds continued to offer excellent credit quality, with between 57% and 84% of their portfolios invested in bonds rated AAA/U.S. guaranteed as of January 31, 2001. Over the past 12 months, bonds rated AAA were among the market's top performers, and the Funds' overweighting in this credit sector helped to enhance performance. The Funds also had allocations of BBB and non-rated bonds that ranged from 5% (NUM) to 22% (NTX), which generally provided higher yields over the past year. For NAZ, NUM, and NMP, an additional strategy over the past six months involved increasing the Funds' exposure to BBB and non-rated bonds as credit spreads widened.

WHAT IS YOUR OUTLOOK FOR THESE NUVEEN FUNDS?

In general, our outlook for the fixed-income markets over the next 12 months is positive. Current projections call for continued strong demand for municipal bonds. Although we could see the pace of refundings pick up if interest rates remain low or drop further, new municipal issuance nationwide in 2001 is expected to remain around $200 billion. These supply-and-demand dynamics should continue to provide support for the municipal market and municipal bond prices. We will, of course, continue to closely monitor the economy, including the progress of proposed tax reduction plans and Federal Reserve policy, in order to be prepared to respond appropriately to any developing situations.

Looking specifically at these Nuveen Funds, both NAZ and NMP offer excellent levels of call protection over the next two years, with a total of 12% and 16%, respectively, of each portfolio subject to calls during 2001 and 2002. In October 2001, NUM, NUO, and NTX reach the 10-year anniversary of their inception, a period when they will experience the increased potential for bond calls normally associated with this point of the bond market cycle. Over the next two years, these three Funds could each see 29-40% of their portfolios affected by bond calls, depending on market interest rates during this time. In general, we believe these positions are very manageable, and we foresee no problems in working through them.

While we cannot control the direction of interest rates, we continue to work to reduce the Funds' call exposure and to actively manage the Funds to mitigate the longer-term effects of the bond call process. These strategies include selling bonds with short call dates and prerefunded bonds with short maturities. At the present time, we anticipate holding older bonds with higher yields until six months to a year before their call dates and then selling these bonds and reinvesting the proceeds in the longer end of the primary market. In this way, we can keep the principal gains achieved over the past 12 months while maximizing tax-exempt income.

In addition to bond calls, we plan to continue to focus on keeping the Funds fully invested and working for shareholders and on strengthening the Funds' dividend-payment capabilities as market conditions allow. This will include exploring additional opportunities to add to our allocations of BBB and non-rated bonds where Nuveen Research has made favorable assessments of credit quality. Depending on the interest rate environment, bond calls in NUM, NUO, and NTX could create opportunities to further enhance the structure of these Funds. In NUO, we will also seek to purchase bonds that can further extend the Fund's duration. As value-oriented investors, we will continue to look for areas of the market that can add value for our shareholders. We believe these Nuveen Funds will continue to serve as a dependable source of tax-free income and portfolio diversification, two essential elements of a comprehensive investment strategy.

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (Unaudited)

1. GENERAL INFORMATION AND SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The state funds (the "Funds") covered in this report and their corresponding New York Stock Exchange symbols are Nuveen Arizona Premium Income Municipal Fund, Inc. (NAZ), Nuveen Michigan Quality Income Municipal Fund, Inc. (NUM), Nuveen Michigan Premium Income Municipal Fund, Inc. (NMP), Nuveen Ohio Quality Income Municipal Fund, Inc. (NUO) and Nuveen Texas Quality Income Municipal Fund (NTX).

Each Fund seeks to provide current income exempt from both regular federal and designated state income taxes, where applicable, by investing primarily in a diversified portfolio of municipal obligations issued by state and local government authorities within a single state. The Funds are registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 as closed-end, diversified management investment companies.

The following is a summary of significant accounting policies followed by the Funds in the preparation of their financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States.

Securities Valuation

The prices of municipal bonds in each Fund's investment portfolio are provided by a pricing service approved by the Fund's Board of Directors/Trustees. When price quotes are not readily available (which is usually the case for municipal securities), the pricing service establishes fair market value based on yields or prices of municipal bonds of comparable quality, type of issue, coupon, maturity and rating, indications of value from securities dealers and general market conditions. Temporary investments in securities that have variable rate and demand features qualifying them as short-term securities are valued at amortized cost, which approximates market value.

Securities Transactions

Securities transactions are recorded on a trade date basis. Realized gains and losses from such transactions are determined on the specific identification method. Securities purchased or sold on a when-issued or delayed delivery basis may have extended settlement periods. The securities so purchased are subject to market fluctuation during this period. The Funds have instructed the custodian to segregate assets in a separate account with a current value at least equal to the amount of the when-issued and delayed delivery purchase commitments. At January 31, 2001, Texas Quality (NTX) had an outstanding when-issued purchase commitment of $2,407,789. There were no such outstanding purchase commitments in any of the other Funds.

Investment Income

Interest income is determined on the basis of interest accrued, adjusted for amortization of premiums and accretion of discounts on long-term debt securities when required for federal income tax purposes.

Income Taxes

Each Fund is a separate taxpayer for federal income tax purposes. Each Fund intends to comply with the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code applicable to regulated investment companies and to distribute all of its net investment income to its share holders. Therefore, no federal income tax provision is required. Furthermore, each Fund intends to satisfy conditions which will enable interest from municipal securities, which is exempt from regular federal and designated state income taxes, where applicable, to retain such tax-exempt status when distributed to shareholders of the Funds.

Dividends and Distributions to Shareholders

Tax-exempt net investment income is declared monthly as a dividend and payment is made or reinvestment is credited to shareholder accounts after month-end. Net realized capital gains and/or market discount from investment transactions, if any, are distributed to shareholders not less frequently than annually. Furthermore, capital gains are distributed only to the extent they exceed available capital loss carryforwards.

Distributions to shareholders of tax-exempt net investment income, net realized capital gains and/or market discount are recorded on the ex-dividend date. The amount and timing of distributions are determined in accordance with federal income tax regulations, which may differ from accounting principles generally accepted in the United States. Accordingly, temporary over-distributions as a result of these differences may occur and will be classified as either distributions in excess of net investment income, distributions in excess of net realized gains and/or distributions in excess of net ordinary taxable income from investment transactions, where applicable.

Preferred Shares

The Funds have issued and outstanding $25,000 stated value Preferred shares. Each Fund's Preferred shares are issued in one or more Series. The dividend rate on each Series may change every seven days, as set by the auction agent. The number of shares outstanding, by Series and in total, for each Fund is as follows:

	ARIZONA PREMIUM (NAZ)	MICHIGAN QUALITY (NUM)	MICHIGAN PREMIUM (NMP)	OHIO QUALITY (NUO)	TEXAS QUALITY (NTX)

Number of shares:

Series F	--	560	--	--	--

Total	1,200	3,760	2,240	3,080	2,760

Derivative Financial Instruments

The Funds may invest in certain derivative financial instruments including futures, forward, swap, and option contracts, and other financial instruments with similar characteristics. Although the Funds are authorized to invest in such financial instruments, and may do so in the future, they did not make any such investments during the six months ended January 31, 2001.

Custodian Fee Credit

Each Fund has an arrangement with the custodian bank whereby certain custodian fees and expenses are reduced by credits earned on each Fund's cash on deposit with the bank. Such deposit arrangements are an alternative to overnight investments.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of increases and decreases in net assets from operations during the reporting period. Actual results may differ from those estimates.

Audit Guide

In November 2000, the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA) issued a revised version of the AICPA Audit and Accounting Guide for Investment Companies (the "Guide"). The Guide is effective for annual financial statements issued for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2000. It is not anticipated that the adoption of the Guide will have a significant effect on the financial statements.

Build Your Wealth
AUTOMATICALLY

NUVEEN EXCHANGE-TRADED FUNDS DIVIDEND REINVESTMENT PLAN

Your Nuveen Exchange-Traded Fund allows you to conveniently reinvest dividends and/or capital gains distributions in additional fund shares.

By choosing to reinvest, you'll be able to invest money regularly and automatically, and watch your investment grow through the power of tax-free compounding. Just like dividends or distributions in cash, there may be times when income or capital gains taxes may be payable on dividends or distributions that are reinvested.

It is important to note that an automatic reinvestment plan does not ensure a profit, nor does it protect you against loss in a declining market.

EASY AND CONVENIENT

To make recordkeeping easy and convenient, each month you'll receive a statement showing your total dividends and distributions, the date of investment, the shares acquired and the price per share, and the total number of shares you own.

HOW SHARES ARE PURCHASED

The shares you acquire by reinvesting will either be purchased on the open market or newly issued by the Fund. If the shares are trading at or above net asset value at the time of valuation, the Fund will issue new shares at the then-current market price. If the shares are trading at less than net asset value, shares for your account will be purchased on the open market. Dividends and distributions received to purchase shares in the open market will normally be invested shortly after the dividend payment date. No interest will be paid on dividends and distributions awaiting reinvestment. Because the market price of shares may increase before purchases are completed, the average purchase price per share may exceed the market price at the time of valuation, resulting in the acquisition of fewer shares than if the dividend or distribution had been paid in shares issued by the Fund. A pro rata portion of any applicable brokerage commissions on open market purchases will be paid by Plan participants. These commissions usually will be lower than those charged on individual transactions.

FLEXIBILITY

You may change your distribution option or withdraw from the Plan at any time, should your needs or situation change. Should you withdraw, you can receive a certificate for all whole shares credited to your reinvestment account and cash payment for fractional shares, or cash payment for all reinvestment account shares, less brokerage commissions and a $2.50 service fee.

You can reinvest whether your shares are registered in your name, or in the name of a brokerage firm, bank, or other nominee. Ask your investment advisor if his or her firm will participate on your behalf. Participants whose shares are registered in the name of one firm may not be able to transfer the shares to another firm and continue to participate in the Plan.

The Fund reserves the right to amend or terminate the Plan at any time. Although the Fund reserves the right to amend the Plan to include a service charge payable by the participants, there is no direct service charge to participants in the Plan at this time.
