SUMMARY

This Term Sheet relates to five separate offerings of Securities. Each Security offered is linked to one, and only one, of the Underlying Shares described on the cover page. The purchaser of any offering will acquire a Security linked to only one of the Underlying Shares not to a basket or index of some or all of the Underlying Shares. You may participate in any of the offerings or, at your election, in several or all of the offerings.

The following summary does not contain all the information that may be important to you. You should read this summary together with the more detailed information that is contained in Product Supplement No. 1-IV and in the accompanying Prospectus and Prospectus Supplement. You should carefully consider, among other things, the matters set forth in “Risk Factors” in Product Supplement No. 1-IV, which are summarized on page 9 of this Term Sheet. In addition, we urge you to consult with your investment, legal, accounting, tax and other advisors with respect to any investment in the Securities.

What are the Securities?

The Securities are non-principal protected securities issued by us, The Royal Bank of Scotland N.V., and are fully and unconditionally guaranteed by our parent company, RBS Holdings N.V. The Securities will pay periodic cash payments at a fixed rate. We refer to the payments as the coupon or coupon payments and the fixed rate as the coupon rate. The Securities are senior notes of The Royal Bank of Scotland N.V. These Securities combine certain features of debt and equity by offering a fixed coupon rate on the face amount while the payment at maturity is determined based on the performance of the common stock, which we refer to as the Underlying Shares of an Underlying Company. Therefore your principal is at risk but you have no opportunity to participate in any appreciation of the applicable Underlying Shares.

Any payment on the Securities is subject to the creditworthiness (ability to pay) of The Royal Bank of Scotland N.V. and RBS Holdings N.V., as guarantor.

What will I receive at maturity of the Securities?

The payment at maturity of the Securities will depend on (i) whether or not the closing price of the applicable Underlying Shares to which the Security is linked fell below the applicable knock-in level on any trading day during the period from but not including the pricing date, to and including the determination date (which we refer to as the knock-in period) and if so, (ii) the closing price of the applicable Underlying Shares on the determination date. Except in certain circumstances described under “Description of Securities — Closing Price” in the accompanying Product Supplement No. 1-IV, we will usually determine the closing price for any listed Underlying Shares by reference to the last reported sale price, during regular trading hours (or if listed on The NASDAQ Stock Market LLC, the official closing price), on the primary U.S. securities exchange on which the Underlying Shares are traded.

- If the closing price of the applicable Underlying Shares has not fallen below the applicable knock-in level on any trading day during the knock-in period, we will pay you the face amount of each Security in cash.

- If the closing price of the applicable Underlying Shares has fallen below the applicable knock-in level on any trading day during the knock-in period, we will either:
- deliver to you the applicable redemption amount, in exchange for each Security, in the event that the closing price of the applicable Underlying Shares on the determination date is below the applicable closing price on the pricing date (subject to adjustment), which we refer to as the initial price of such Underlying Shares (the market value of the applicable redemption amount on the determination date will always be less than the face amount of $1,000 per Security); or
- pay you the face amount of each Security in cash, in the event that the closing price of the applicable Underlying Shares is at or above the applicable initial price on the determination date.

If due to events beyond our reasonable control, as determined by us in our sole discretion, the applicable Underlying Shares are not available for delivery at maturity we may pay you, in lieu of the applicable redemption amount, the cash value of the applicable redemption amount, determined by multiplying the applicable redemption amount by the closing price of the applicable Underlying Shares on the determination date.

THE ROYAL BANK OF SCOTLAND N.V.

Reverse Exchangeable Securities (REXs)

The “redemption amount” is, for each $1,000 face amount of a Security, a number of the Underlying Shares equal to $1,000 divided by the applicable initial price of the applicable Underlying Shares. The applicable initial price and consequently the applicable redemption amount may be adjusted for certain corporate events, such as a stock split or merger, affecting the Underlying Company.

The payment at maturity is further subject to adjustment in certain circumstances, such as a stock split or merger, which we describe in “Description of Securities — Adjustment Events” in the accompanying Product Supplement No. 1-IV.

Any payment at maturity is subject to the creditworthiness (ability to pay) of The Royal Bank of Scotland N.V. and RBS Holdings N.V., as guarantor.

Why is the coupon rate on the Securities higher than the interest rate payable on your conventional debt securities with the same maturity?

The Securities offer a higher coupon rate than the yield that would be payable on a conventional debt security with the same maturity issued by us or an issuer with a comparable credit rating because you, the investor in the Securities, indirectly sell a put option to us on the applicable Underlying Shares. The premium due to you for this put option is combined with a market interest rate on our senior debt to produce the higher coupon rate on the Securities. As explained below under “What are the consequences of the indirect put option that I have sold you?” you are being paid the premium for taking the risk that you may receive the applicable Underlying Shares with a market value less than the face amount of your Securities at maturity, which would mean that you would lose some or all of your initial principal investment.

What are the consequences of the indirect put option that I have sold you?

The put option you indirectly sell to us creates the feature of exchangeability. This feature could result in the delivery of the applicable Underlying Shares to you, at maturity, with a market value which is less than the face amount of $1,000 per Security. If the closing price of the applicable Underlying Shares falls below the applicable knock-in level on any trading day during the knock-in period, and on the determination date the closing price of the Underlying Shares is less than the initial price, you will receive the applicable redemption amount. The market value of the applicable Underlying Shares on the determination date will be less than the face amount of the Securities and could be zero. In such a case, you may lose some or all of your initial principal investment. If the price of the applicable Underlying Shares rises above the applicable initial price you will not participate in any appreciation in the price of the applicable Underlying Shares.

How is the redemption amount determined?

The redemption amount for each $1,000 face amount of any Security is equal to $1,000 divided by the applicable initial price of the Underlying Shares linked to such Security. The value of any fractional shares of the applicable Underlying Shares that you are entitled to receive, after aggregating your total holdings of the Securities linked to the applicable Underlying Shares, will be paid in cash based on the closing price of the applicable Underlying Shares on the determination date.

Do I get all my principal back at maturity?

You are not guaranteed to receive any return of principal at maturity. If the closing price of the applicable Underlying Shares falls below the applicable knock-in level on any trading day during the knock-in period, and the closing price of the applicable Underlying Shares is below the applicable initial price on the determination date, we will deliver to you applicable Underlying Shares. The market value of such Underlying Shares on the determination date will be less than the face amount of the Securities and could be zero. Accordingly, you may lose some or all of your initial principal investment in the Securities.

What coupon payments can I expect on the Securities?

The coupon rate is fixed at issue and is payable in cash on each coupon payment date, irrespective of whether the Securities are redeemed at maturity for cash or shares.

Any coupon payment is subject to the creditworthiness (ability to pay) of The Royal Bank of Scotland N.V. and RBS Holdings N.V., as guarantor.

THE ROYAL BANK OF SCOTLAND N.V.

Reverse Exchangeable Securities (REXs)

Can you give me an example of the payment at maturity?

If, for example, in a hypothetical offering, the coupon rate was 10% per annum, the initial price of the Underlying Shares was $45.00 per share and the knock-in level for such offering was 80%, then the redemption amount would be 22.222 Underlying Shares, or $1,000 divided by $45.00, and the knock-in level would be $36.00, or 80% of the initial price.

If the closing price of the hypothetical Underlying Shares fell below the knock-in level of $36.00 on any trading day during the knock-in period, then the payment at maturity would depend on the closing price of the Underlying Shares on the determination date. In this case, if the closing price of the Underlying Shares on the determination date is $30.00 per share, which is below the initial price, you would receive 22.222 Underlying Shares for each $1,000 face amount of the Securities. (In actuality, because we cannot deliver fractions of a share, you would receive on the maturity date for each $1,000 face amount of the Securities, 22 Underlying Shares plus $6.66 cash in lieu of 0.222 fractional shares, determined by multiplying 0.222 by $30.00, the closing price of the Underlying Shares on the determination date.) In addition, over the term of the Securities you would have received coupon payments at a rate of 10% per annum. In this hypothetical example, the market value of those 22 Underlying Shares (including the cash paid in lieu of fractional shares) that we would deliver to you at maturity for each $1,000 face amount of a Security would be $666.66, which is less than the face amount of $1,000, and you would have lost a portion of your initial investment. If, on the other hand, the closing price of the Underlying Shares on the determination date is $50.00 per share, which is above the initial price, you will receive $1,000 in cash for each $1,000 face amount of the Securities regardless of the knock-in level having been breached. In addition, over the term of the Securities you would have received coupon payments at a rate of 10% per annum.

Alternatively, if the closing price of the Underlying Shares never falls below $36.00, which is the knock-in level, on any trading day during the knock-in period, at maturity you will receive $1,000 in cash for each Security you hold regardless of the closing price of the Underlying Shares on the determination date. In addition, over the term of the Securities you would have received coupon payments at a rate of 10% per annum.

This example is for illustrative purposes only and is based on a hypothetical offering. For determining the value of the payment at maturity, we have assumed that the closing price of the Underlying Shares will be the same on the maturity date, when they are delivered to investors in the Securities, as on the determination date. It is not possible to predict the closing price of any of the Underlying Shares on the determination date or at any time during the term of the Securities. For each offering, we will set the initial price, knock-in level and redemption amount on the Pricing Date.

In this Term Sheet, we have also provided under the heading “Hypothetical Sensitivity Analysis of Total Return of the Securities at Maturity” the total return of owning the Securities through maturity for various closing prices of the Underlying Shares on the determination date.

Do I benefit from any appreciation in the Underlying Shares over the term of the Securities?

No. The amount paid at maturity for each $1,000 face amount of the Securities will never exceed $1,000.

What is the minimum required purchase?

You may purchase Securities in minimum denominations of $1,000 or in integral multiples thereof.

Is there a secondary market for Securities?

The Securities will not be listed on any securities exchange. Accordingly, there may be little or no secondary market for the Securities and, as such, information regarding independent market pricing for the Securities may be extremely limited. You should be willing to hold your Securities until the maturity date.

Although it is not required to do so, we have been informed by our affiliate that when this offering is complete, it intends to make purchases and sales of the Securities from time to time in off-exchange transactions. If our affiliate does make such a market in the Securities, it may stop doing so at any time.

THE ROYAL BANK OF SCOTLAND N.V.

Reverse Exchangeable Securities (REXs)

In connection with any secondary market activity in the Securities, our affiliate may post indicative prices for the Securities on a designated website or via Bloomberg. However, our affiliate is not required to post such indicative prices and may stop doing so at any time. Investors are advised that any prices shown on any website or Bloomberg page are indicative prices only and, as such, there can be no assurance that any trade could be executed at such prices. Investors should contact their brokerage firm for further information.

In addition, the issue price of the Securities includes the selling agents' commissions paid with respect to the Securities and the cost of hedging our obligations under the Securities. The cost of hedging includes the profit component that our affiliate has charged in consideration for assuming the risks inherent in managing the hedging of the transactions. The fact that the issue price of the Securities includes these commissions and hedging costs is expected to adversely affect the secondary market prices of the Securities. See "Risk Factors — The Inclusion of Commissions and Cost of Hedging in the Issue Price is Likely to Adversely Affect Secondary Market Prices" and "Use of Proceeds" in the accompanying Product Supplement No. 1-IV.

What is the relationship between The Royal Bank of Scotland N.V., RBS Holdings N.V. and RBS Securities Inc.?

RBS Securities Inc., which we refer to as RBSSI, is an affiliate of The Royal Bank of Scotland N.V. and RBS Holdings N.V. RBSSI will act as calculation agent for the Securities, and is acting as agent for each offering. RBSSI will conduct each offering in compliance with the requirements of NASD Rule 2720 of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, Inc., which is commonly referred to as FINRA, regarding a FINRA member firm's distribution of the securities of an affiliate. See "Risk Factors — Potential Conflicts of Interest between Holders of Securities and the Calculation Agent" and "Plan of Distribution (Conflicts of Interest)" in the accompanying Product Supplement No. 1-IV.
