Table of ContentsZIX CORPORATION*NOTES TO CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

(Unaudited)

1. Basis of Presentation

The accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements of Zix Corporation (ZixCorp, the Company, we, our, us) should be read in conjunction with the audited consolidated financial statements included in the Company's 2009 Annual Report to Shareholders on Form 10-K. These financial statements are unaudited, but have been prepared in the ordinary course of business for the purpose of providing information with respect to the interim periods. Management of the Company believes that all adjustments necessary for a fair presentation for such periods have been included and are of a normal recurring nature. The results of operations for the three and six month periods ended June 30, 2010, are not necessarily indicative of the results to be expected for the full year.

2. Recent Accounting Standards and Pronouncements

To be adopted in 2010 or beyond:

In October 2009, the FASB issued guidance that provides principles for allocation of consideration among a revenue arrangement's multiple-elements, allowing more flexibility in identifying and accounting for separate deliverables under an arrangement. The guidance introduces an estimated selling price method for valuing the elements of a bundled arrangement if vendor-specific objective evidence or third-party evidence of selling price is not available, and significantly expands related disclosure requirements. It is effective on a prospective basis for revenue arrangements entered into or materially modified in fiscal years beginning on or after June 15, 2010. Alternatively, adoption may be on a retrospective basis, and early application is permitted. The potential impact of this standard is being evaluated. We do not expect the adoption of this statement to have a material impact on our consolidated financial statements or footnote disclosures.

International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) On August 27, 2008, the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) announced that it will issue for comment a proposed roadmap regarding the potential use by U.S. issuers of financial statements prepared in accordance with IFRS. IFRS is a comprehensive series of accounting standards published by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB). Under the proposed roadmap, we could be required in fiscal 2014 to prepare financial statements in accordance with IFRS, and the SEC is expected to make a determination in 2011 regarding the mandatory adoption of IFRS. We will continue to monitor the development of the potential implementation of IFRS.

3. Segment Information

We have concluded that our business has two reportable segments: Email Encryption and e-Prescribing. Our senior management team measures the performance of each segment and determines the related allocation of resources. In 2009 we announced our plan to exit the e-Prescribing business by December 31, 2010. Throughout 2010 we expect to wind down the remaining obligations related to this business segment.

To determine the allocation of resources, the senior management team generally assesses the performance of each segment based on revenue, gross profit, and direct expenses which include research and development expenses and selling and marketing expenses that are directly attributable to the segments. Most assets and most corporate costs are not allocated to the segments and are not used to determine resource allocation. The accounting policies of the reportable segments are the same as those applied to the consolidated financial statements.

Corporate includes charges such as corporate management, compliance and other non-operational activities that cannot be directly attributed to a reporting segment. The following table shows Operating results broken out by segment, including Corporate, for the three month periods ended June 30, 2010 and 2009.

Table of ContentsAllocated costs:

For the periods presented we allocated certain fixed expenses as well as certain shared expenses to our segment businesses. Fixed expenses include expenses related to occupancy, information technology and commercial insurance and are generally allocated to the business segments based on direct headcount. Shared expenses include expenses incurred by our customer service, network operations, quality assurance, research and development and marketing departments and are generally allocated based on percent of effort. Shared expenses are largely fixed in nature and are expected to remain flat or only slightly increase in 2010.

Included in the increase in Email Encryption Cost of revenues and Direct expenses for the second quarter 2010 compared to the same quarter last year was an increase of approximately $500,000 for allocated fixed and shared expenses which were spread approximately evenly between Cost of revenues and Direct expenses. This increase resulted from lower headcount in e-Prescribing and the shift in effort directed toward the Email Encryption business. The remaining increase in Email Encryption resulted from normal planned increases in the budget in support of Email Encryption growth. The expense reductions in e-Prescribing were attributable primarily to lower headcount and other expense reductions resulting from diminished recruiting and deployment activity in this business segment and the impact of lower allocated costs.

The Email Encryption increase in allocated fixed and shared expenses was approximately $1,000,000 for the six month period ended June 30, 2010 compared to the same period last year. This increase was spread approximately evenly between Cost of revenues and Direct expenses. The remaining increase in Email Encryption resulted primarily from planned increases in support of Email Encryption growth.

In our first quarter 2010 Form 10-Q we disclosed $1,148,000 of expenses which included planned increases to the Email Encryption business when it should have only included the fixed and shared allocated expenses absorbed by this business segment. We therefore have adjusted this amount down to approximately $500,000. This revision is only to the supplement disclosure included with the segment data, which was accurately stated.

The expense reductions in e-Prescribing resulted primarily from lower headcount and other expense reductions attributable to diminished recruiting and deployment activity in this business segment combined with the impact of lower allocated costs. We expect the Email Encryption business will absorb approximately $800,000 to $1,000,000 of allocated fixed and shared expenses during the second half of 2010 depending on the pace of the of the e-Prescribing wind down.

The wind down of the e-Prescribing business is progressing well and there have been minimal technical support issues, which have allowed us to utilize some of the e-Prescribing team to support the Email Encryption business as time permits. This movement of resources is producing a shift in expenses between the two businesses and will not change total expense. At the conclusion of the wind down of the e-Prescribing business unit, certain allocated expenses previously absorbed by this business unit will remain. We now anticipate approximately $600,000 to $700,000 depending on the pace of the wind down, of fixed and shared expenses to be absorbed by the remaining business unit, Email Encryption, and those expenses will be reflected in its expenses beginning in 2011.

Other segment information:

Revenues from international customers and long-lived assets located outside of the U.S. are not material to the consolidated financial statements.

Assets assigned to each segment include accounts receivable and related allowances, prepaid and other assets, certain property and equipment and related accumulated depreciation, goodwill, and intangible assets and related accumulated amortization. All other corporate and shared assets are recorded under Corporate.

The allowance for doubtful accounts includes all specific accounts receivable which we believe are likely not collectible based on known information. In addition, we record 2.5% of all accounts receivable greater than 90 days past due, net of those accounts specifically reserved, as a general allowance against accounts that could potentially become uncollectible.

The note receivable represents the remaining outstanding balance of an original note related to the sale of a product line in 2005 in the amount of $540,000.

Table of Contents7. Earnings Per Share and Potential Dilution

Basic earnings per share are computed using the weighted average number of common shares outstanding for the period. The dilutive effect of potential common shares outstanding is included in diluted earnings per share. The computations for basic and diluted earnings per share for the three and six month periods ended June 30, 2010 and 2009 are as follows:

	Three Months ended June 30,		Six Months ended June 30,
	2010	2009	2010	2009
Net income (loss)	$ 1,501,000	$ (1,925,000)	$ 2,213,000	$ (3,467,000)
Basic weighted average shares	63,976,551	63,319,482	63,883,974	63,319,482
Effect of dilutive securities:
Employee and director stock options	845,705		748,190
Warrants	1,546,292		1,345,287
Potential dilutive common shares	66,368,548	63,319,482	65,977,451	63,319,482
Net earnings (loss) per share
Basic	$ 0.02	$ (0.03)	$ 0.03	$ (0.05)
Diluted	$ 0.02	$ (0.03)	$ 0.03	$ (0.05)

During the three and six month periods ended June 30, 2010, weighted average shares related to certain stock options of 7,444,427 and 7,405,497 respectively, were excluded from the calculation of diluted earnings per share because the stock options were anti-dilutive. Anti-dilutive warrants of 3,664,902 in both the three and six month periods ended June 30, 2010, were also excluded from the calculation. For the three and six month periods ended June 30, 2009, the assumed exercise of common stock equivalents would be anti-dilutive, as a net loss was reported. Common shares excluded from the computation of diluted loss per common share for the three and six month periods ended June 30, 2009, was 9,661,326 for stock options and 10,260,246 for warrants.

We have not entered into any material, non-cancelable purchase commitments at June 30, 2010.

Claims and Proceedings

We are, from time to time, involved in various legal proceedings that arise in the ordinary course of business. We do not believe the outcome of those legal proceedings either individually or taken as a whole, will have a material adverse effect on our consolidated financial condition, results of operations or cash flows. However, we cannot predict with certainty any eventual loss or range of possible loss related to such matters.

9. Fair Value Measurements

Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) guidance regarding fair value measurement establishes a three-tier fair value hierarchy, which prioritizes the inputs used in measuring fair value. These tiers include: Level 1, defined as observable inputs such as quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities; Level 2, defined as inputs other than quoted prices for similar assets and liabilities in active markets that are either directly or indirectly observable; and Level 3, defined as unobservable inputs for which little or no market data exists, therefore requiring an entity to develop its own assumptions.

For certain of the Company s financial instruments, including cash and cash equivalents, trade receivables, and accounts payable, the fair values approximate carrying values due to the short-term maturities of these instruments. The carrying values of other current assets and accrued expenses are also not recorded at fair value, but approximate fair values primarily due to their short-term nature.

Overview

We are a leader in providing secure, Internet-based applications in a Software as a Service (SaaS) model. Our focus is the operation of an Email Encryption Service, which has been designed with the customers' most important relationships in mind. More than 1,200 hospitals and over 1,300 financial institutions, including some of the most influential companies and government organizations use our Email Encryption Service. Wellpoint, Humana, and the SEC are among these notable customers. Our Email Encryption Service is enhanced by ZixDirectorySM, which contains more than 22 million email addresses. ZixDirectorySM allows for emails to be sent seamlessly whenever possible, across the largest email encryption community in the world. Email Encryption is one of two reporting segments we currently operate; the other segment we operate is e-Prescribing (see Note 3 to the condensed consolidated financial statements). In 2009 we announced our plan to exit this segment of our business by December 31, 2010. Throughout 2010 we expect to wind down the remaining obligations related to the e-Prescribing business.

The business operations and service offerings are supported by the ZixData Center, a network operations center dedicated to secure electronic transaction processing. The operations of the ZixData Center are independently audited annually to maintain AICPA SysTrustSM certification in the areas of security, confidentiality, integrity and availability. Auditors also produce a SAS70 Type II report on the effectiveness of operational controls used over the audit period. The center is staffed 24 hours a day with a proven 99.99% reliability. Whether it is delivery of email, prescriptions or other sensitive information, we enable communications to be sent in a trusted, safe, and secure manner. This is our core competency and we believe it is a competitive advantage.

Critical Accounting Policies and Estimates

The preparation of financial statements and related disclosures in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States requires the Company's management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the Company's condensed consolidated financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results could differ from these estimates and assumptions. Critical accounting policies and estimates are defined as those that are both most important to the portrayal of the Company's financial condition and results and require management's most subjective judgments.

We describe our significant accounting policies in Note 2, Summary of Significant Accounting Policies, of the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements included in our Annual Report on Form 10-K, for the year ended December 31, 2009. We discuss our Critical Accounting Policies and Estimates in Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2009.

Table of ContentsResults of Operations*Second Quarter 2010 Summary of Operations*Financial Revenue for the quarter ended June 30, 2010, was $8,915,000 compared with $7,371,000 for the same period in 2009 representing a 21% increase.

Gross profit for the quarter ended June 30, 2010, was $6,945,000 or 78% of revenues compared with $5,003,000 or 68% of revenues for the comparable period in 2009.

Email Encryption gross profit was $6,624,000 or 81% of revenues compared with $5,291,000 or 83% of revenues for the comparable period in 2009.

e-Prescribing gross profit was $321,000 or 45% of revenues compared with gross loss of $288,000 or 29% of revenues for the comparable period in 2009.

Net income for the quarter ended June 30, 2010, was $1,501,000 compared with a net loss of $1,925,000 in 2009. Included in net income for the quarter ended June 30, 2010, was approximately $169,000 of non recurring severance costs related to the wind down of our e-Prescribing business.

Ending cash and cash equivalents were $17,477,000 on June 30, 2010, compared with $13,287,000 on December 31, 2009.

Operations

For the Email Encryption service, new first year orders (NFYOs) for the quarter ended June 30, 2010, were $2,108,000. June 30, 2010, Email Encryption backlog was $45,593,000.

The wind down of our e-Prescribing business is progressing well. We have worked out appropriate resolutions with all of our major customers in this business and have protected our brand in the important healthcare vertical market. As disclosed in our July 27, 2010, press release, we expect this business to generate a small amount of profit for 2010.

Revenues

Email Encryption and e-Prescribing are primarily subscription-based services. The following table sets forth a period-over-period comparison of the Company's revenues:

	Three Months Ended		3-month Variance		Six Months Ended June		6-month Variance
	June 30,		2010 vs. 2009		30,		2010 vs. 2009

e-Prescribing	721,000	992,000	(271,000)	(27%)	1,658,000	2,006,000	(348,000)	(17%)
Total

The increase in Email Encryption revenue was due to continued cumulative growth in our subscription model, where strong new orders combined with a sustained high level of customer retention. Our second quarter 2010 Email Encryption revenues include a catch-up entry of approximately $300,000 of deferred revenue we recognized due to our implementing an automated method of closing out our service offering deployments. This method shortens the time for reporting deployments and allows us to more effectively synchronize revenue recognition with service deployment. Because we expected to recognize that deferred revenue during the third and fourth quarters of 2010, the catch-up entry is not anticipated to have any material impact on our projected annual revenue for 2010.

The decrease in e-Prescribing revenue is largely due to a reduction in renewal revenue, which is expected to continue as we exit the business. Due to the ongoing wind down of the e-Prescribing business and the absence of new deployments, we expect e-prescribing revenue to decline throughout 2010, to approximately 60% of the 2009 annual total.

Revenue Indicators Backlog and Orders

Email Encryption backlog Our Email Encryption customer order backlog is a key measurement of our success in signing new customers and retaining existing customers. Our end-user order backlog is comprised of contractually bound agreements that we expect to amortize into revenue as the services are performed. The timing of revenue recognition is affected by both the length of time required to deploy a service and the length of the service contract.

Table of Contents

As of June 30, 2010, Email Encryption backlog was $45,593,000 and we expect approximately 57% of the backlog to be recognized as revenue during the next twelve months. As of June 30, 2010, the Email Encryption backlog was comprised of the following elements: $17,657,000 of deferred revenue that has been billed and paid, $4,830,000 billed but unpaid, and approximately $23,107,000 of unbilled backlog relating primarily to the second and third years of multi-year contracts.

Email Encryption Orders Total orders for Email Encryption were $9,598,000 and $9,966,000 for the three month periods ended June 30, 2010 and 2009, respectively. The decline in total Email Encryption orders in the second quarter 2010 compared to the same period in 2009 was attributable to a higher number of larger sized contacts scheduled for renewal in the second quarter 2009 and the length of those contracts. Total orders includes anticipated revenues from customer orders, which management groups into three categories: first twelve months of renewing contracts, NFYOs, and new and renewing orders beyond the first year of service in a multi-year service contract. NFYOs were $2,108,000 and $1,650,000 for the three month periods ended June 30, 2010 and 2009, respectively. We believe the increase in demand is the result of customers' increased awareness of the need to protect sensitive information in transit and customers' efforts to comply with new federal and state privacy regulations.

e-Prescribing As of June 30, 2010, our e-Prescribing backlog was $663,000, which we expect to recognize as revenue in 2010. As of June 30, 2010, the e-Prescribing backlog was comprised of $600,000 of deferred revenue that has been billed and paid and $63,000 billed but unpaid. This backlog includes revenue from approximately 1,250 actively writing prescribers with subscriptions through our December 2010 exit of the e-Prescribing business. We have concluded appropriate resolutions with our major customers to fulfill our contractual obligations while also renewing contracts for service through the remainder of the wind down period as noted above.

Cost of Revenues

The following table sets forth a period-over-period comparison of the cost of revenues by product line.

	Three Months Ended June 30,		3-month Variance		Six Months Ended June 30,		6-month Variance
			2010 vs. 2009				2010 vs. 2009

e-Prescribing	400,000	1,280,000	(880,000)	(69%)	754,000	2,738,000	(1,984,000)	(72%)
Total cost of revenues	$ 1,970,000	$ 2,368,000	$ (398,000)	(17%)	$ 3,826,000	$ 4,839,000	$ (1,013,000)	(21%)

As we wind down the e-Prescribing business, we have reduced headcount and expenses for activities relating to recruiting new prescribers and deploying new service. Additionally, due to reduced e-Prescribing business activity, that business is absorbing a smaller portion of the allocated costs described in the Segment information and the Email Encryption business has absorbed more of the allocated costs. The increase in Cost of revenues for Email Encryption for both the three and six month periods ended June 30, 2010, compared to the same time periods last year resulted primarily from these higher allocations.

For the three month period ended June 30, 2010, the Cost of revenues improvement resulted primarily from (i) a $210,000 decrease in salary and benefits for individuals performing deployment activities due to a decrease in average headcount in the e-Prescribing product line, (ii) a $108,000 decrease in e-Prescribing device costs, (iii) a $40,000 decrease in travel costs, primarily related to e-Prescribing field services, and (iv) a $40,000 net decrease in other various non-people costs primarily associated with decreased deployments of our e-Prescribing product. Additionally, due to lower than anticipated e-Prescribing technical support requirements, we moved a few people who were previously assigned to e-Prescribing Research and development to Email Encryption Customer support to assist with higher order volumes in that business. That reassignment reduced e-Prescribing Research and development costs and increased Email Encryption Cost of revenues.

For the six month period ended June 30, 2010, the Cost of revenues improvement resulted primarily from (i) a $630,000 decrease in salary and benefits for individuals performing deployment activities due to a decrease in average headcount in the e-Prescribing product line, (ii) a $188,000 decrease in e-Prescribing device costs, (iii) a $90,000 decrease in travel costs, primarily related to e-Prescribing field services, (iv) an $84,000 decrease in stock-based compensation expense, and (v) a $21,000 net decrease in other various non-people costs primarily associated with decreased deployments of our e-Prescribing product. Although to a lesser extent, the year to date results include the aforementioned reassignment of e-Prescribing personnel.

Email Encryption Email Encryption's Cost of revenues is comprised of costs related to operating and maintaining the ZixData Center, a field deployment team, customer service and support and the amortization of Company-owned, customer-based computer appliances. For Email Encryption, a significant portion of the total cost of revenues relates to the ZixData Center, which currently has excess capacity.

e-Prescribing e-Prescribing's Cost of revenues is comprised of costs related to operating and maintaining the ZixData Center and customer service and support.

Research and development expenses consist primarily of salary, benefits, and stock-based compensation for our development staff and other non-people costs associated with enhancing our existing products and services and developing new products and services. For the periods presented, we allocated total Research and development expenses to our segment businesses based on percent of effort applied by our engineering resources to each business segment. With the wind down of the e-Prescribing business, the percentage of shared research and development resources allocated to Email Encryption was increased resulting in a higher Research and development expense to the Email Encryption business.

The increase in Email Encryption Research and development expense for the three and six month periods ended June 30, 2010, compared to the same periods last year is primarily attributable to the increase in shared cost allocation and additional resources. The decrease in e-Prescribing resulted primarily from a reduction in the same allocated shared costs for both the three and six month periods ended June 30, 2010, compared to the same periods in 2009. Further decreases in e-Prescribing Research and development were attributable to decreases in salary and benefits resulting from lower average headcount totaling $379,000 and $607,000 for the three and six month periods ended June 30, 2010, respectively, compared to the same periods in 2009.

In the second quarter of 2010 the on-going investment in our Email Encryption products included delivery of new versions of both ZixGateway and ZixPort that provide advanced protocol handling, security functions and support for multiple languages. We also designed a set of tools to improve the automation level and efficiency of the customer provisioning process for our resellers and distributors. This will allow our third-party channels to deploy our service more quickly.

Selling, General and Administrative Expenses

The following table sets forth a period-over-period comparison of our selling, general and administrative expenses.

Selling, general and administrative expenses (SG&A) consist primarily of salary, stock-based compensation and benefit costs for marketing, selling, executive and administrative personnel as well as costs associated with promotions, professional services, travel and general corporate activities.

Email Encryption selling and marketing expenses for the three month period ended June 30, 2010, increased due to (i) a $68,000 increase in salaries and variable compensation resulting from an increase in average headcount and sales commissions resulting from higher NFYOs, (ii) a $70,000 increase in allocated costs for occupancy and information technology and (iii) a $16,000 net increase in trade show expenses and various other selling and marketing costs.

The year to date increase in Email Encryption selling and marketing expenses resulted from (i) a $398,000 increase in salaries and variable compensation driven primarily by sales commissions resulting from higher NFYOs, and (ii) a $200,000 increase in allocated costs due to the wind down of the e-Prescribing business for occupancy and information technology.

Table of Contents

The reductions for e-Prescribing for both the three and six month periods ended June 30, 2010, compared to the same periods last year, resulted from a reduction in salary and benefit expense, travel expense and other expenses consistent with the wind down of that business segment.

The decrease in Corporate General and administrative expenses for the three month period ended June 30, 2010, compared to the same period last year resulted from (i) a $292,000 decrease in salaries and benefits primarily attributable to a non-recurring severance expense in the second quarter of 2009 and (ii) a $298,000 decrease in professional fees, primarily outside legal fees.

Year to date, the cost decreases in the second quarter of 2010 were substantially offset by higher professional fees, primarily outside legal fees, in the first quarter 2010 compared to the same period last year.

Other Income, net

Other income, net consists primarily of investment income. Investment income was $20,000 and $79,000 for the quarters ended June 30, 2010 and 2009, respectively. The change was primarily due to sublease income of $20,000 related to an operating lease in Ohio that expired in 2009 and a decrease in interest rates between periods. Also included in the three month periods ended June 30, 2010 and 2009, is interest expense of $5,000 and $6,000, respectively, which resulted from a third party note for a 36 month Microsoft license subscription.

Other income, net, consists of $56,000 investment income and $12,000 interest expense for the six month period ended June 30, 2010. For the same period in 2009, Other income, net consists of $147,000 investment income and $6,000 interest expense. Included in 2009 investment income is sublease income of $40,000. In the second quarter of 2009 we also recognized $36,000 of investment income related to an e-Prescribing project which was not generally released and was discontinued by customer request. The remaining variance is due to a decrease in interest rates between periods.

Provision for Income Taxes

The Provision for income taxes was $90,000 and $26,000 for the three month period ended June 30, 2010 and 2009, respectively and $138,000 and $46,000 for the six month period ended June 30, 2010 and 2009, respectively. The operating losses incurred by the Company's U.S. operations and the resulting net operating losses for U.S. Federal tax purposes are subject to a $112,348,000 reserve due to the historical uncertainty of future taxable income. Our 2010 provision for the six month period ended June 30, 2010, of $138,000 consists of taxes on our U.S. operations totaling $53,000, and Canadian operation totaling $69,000, and a small amount of state taxes based on gross revenues. The 2009 provision for income tax of $46,000 consisted of taxes on our Canadian operation totaling $96,000, a small amount of state taxes based on gross revenues and a $56,000 refund for historical U.S. tax credits.

There were no penalty-related charges to selling, general and administrative expenses accrued or recognized for the same comparative periods. Additionally, we have not taken a tax position that would have a material effect on the financial statements or the effective tax rate for the three and six month periods ended June 30, 2010.

The Company previously recorded a $327,000 tax contingency liability related to tax year 2004 for its Canadian operations. That contingency remains unchanged except for currency translation adjustments. As of June 30, 2010, the gross amount of our unrecognized tax benefits, inclusive of the $327,000 tax liability and $50,000 in other uncertain positions in 2008, was approximately $440,000. Included in this balance are tax positions which, if recognized, would impact our effective tax rate.

As indicated earlier, the operating losses incurred by our U.S. operations and the resulting net operating losses for U.S. Federal tax purposes are subject to a reserve. Significant judgment is required in determining any reserve recorded against the deferred tax asset. In assessing the need for a reserve, we consider all available evidence, including past operating results, estimates of future taxable income, and the feasibility of tax planning strategies.

If the facts and circumstances on which our estimates and assumptions are based were to change, thereby impacting the likelihood of realizing the deferred tax assets, we would have to apply judgment to determine the amount of reserve no longer required. Given our current income position and our expectation of continued income in future periods, we are currently in the process of evaluating our ability to utilize all or a portion of our tax reserve. Our ability to utilize all or a part of this reserve could have a significant positive impact on operating results in the period that it becomes more likely than not that certain of our deferred tax assets will be realized. Additionally, deferred tax assets may be limited in whole or in part by Internal Revenue Code Section 382. As a result, our ability to fully utilize the deferred tax assets, including net operating loss carry forwards, against future taxable income may be limited.

Table of ContentsNet Income

The Net income for the second quarter of 2010 of $1,501,000 reflects the achievement of profitability for the second consecutive quarter, and is an improvement of $3,426,000 compared to the net loss of $1,925,000 for the same period last year. The improvement in Net income resulted from higher Gross profit, due to increased revenue and lower Cost of revenues, combined with lower R&D and SG&A expenses, as discussed above. Specifically, these expenses decreased due primarily to reductions in average headcount and other costs related to our wind down of the e-Prescribing business.

Liquidity and Capital ResourcesOverview

Based on our performance over the last four quarters and current expectations, we believe our cash and cash equivalents, and cash generated from operations, will satisfy our working capital needs, capital expenditures, investment requirements, contractual obligations, commitments, future customer financings, and other liquidity requirements associated with our operations through at least the next twelve months. We plan for and measure our liquidity and capital resources through an annual budgeting process. At June 30, 2010, our cash and cash equivalents totaled $17,477,000 and our debt was $250,000. Our debt consists of a note related to a three year subscription for Microsoft software licenses that is paid on a monthly basis at approximately $12,000 per month.

We operate two distinct business segments which are in different stages of their life cycle. We expect our Email Encryption segment to remain profitable with revenue growth at approximately 25% for the full year 2010 as compared to 2009. Our e-Prescribing segment was generating significant losses when we announced in 2009 a plan to wind down this business during 2010. We expect the e-Prescribing business to be slightly profitable in 2010 and we expect to exit this business by December 31, 2010.

For the three month period ended June 30, 2010, we achieved our second consecutive quarter of profitability. Cash and cash equivalents at June 30, 2010, were $17,477,000, an improvement of $4,190,000 from the December 31, 2009, balance. This improvement was primarily driven by cost savings generated by the wind down of our e-Prescribing business and continued growth in the Email Encryption business. In addition, cash collections in our Email Encryption business grew while our accounts payable and accrued expenses remained relatively flat. We expect this trend to continue in the foreseeable future, and believe a significant portion of our spending is discretionary and flexible and that we have the ability to adjust overall cash spending to react, as needed, to any shortfalls in projected cash.

Impact of Current Economic Environment

With the likely continuation of constraints in the capital markets, we expect access to capital to remain somewhat restricted over the next twelve months. Although we anticipate funding our operations internally, if we are unable to do so, our ability to raise capital at costs that are similar to offerings under historic market conditions could be limited.

Sources and Uses of Cash Summary

	Six Months Ended June 30,
	2010	2009
Net cash provided by (used in) operations	$4,421,000	$(239,000)
Net cash used in investing activities	$ (638,000)	$(512,000)
Net cash provided by financing activities	$ 407,000	$

As noted above, our improvement in cash provided by operations results primarily from the cost savings generated by the wind down of our e-Prescribing business, combined with growth in cash collections from our Email Encryption business and relatively flat expenses.

Related to our investing activities in the first six months of 2010, we utilized $663,000 to purchase computing equipment primarily to satisfy customer contracts. Approximately 48% of these capital purchases were for computer servers for our Email Encryption segment, which are required to deliver our *ZixGateway*SM services. These purchases were partially offset by a $25,000 cash inflow from proceeds from the sales of maturing marketable securities. In the first six months of 2009, we utilized $515,000 to purchase computing equipment, of which 60% was for computer servers for our Email Encryption segment.

Cash provided from financing activities in the first six months of 2010 resulted from the exercise of stock options, which was partially offset by $62,000 used to fund a small promissory note associated with computer software licenses. There were no such activities in the first six months of 2009. Prior to the fourth quarter of 2007 we used a significant amount of cash to fund debt obligations. We do not expect significant funding obligations in the immediate foreseeable future.

Table of ContentsLiquidity Summary

The continued growth in our Email Encryption business and the wind down of our e-Prescribing business have driven a significant financial improvement for our Company and are reflected in our financial position for the six month period ended June 30, 2010. Based on our first six months operating results and current 2010 budget plans, we believe we have adequate resources and liquidity to sustain operations for the next twelve months. Management believes that raising capital by issuing new shares of common stock is not attractive at the current price of the Company's common stock. If we were to experience an unanticipated need for cash, we would first utilize our existing cash resources and would also consider altering our business plan to augment our cash flow position through cost reduction measures or other actions. There can be no assurance, however, that we would be successful in carrying out any of these measures if they become necessary.
