LIBO Rate means the applicable British Bankers Association Interest Settlement Rate for deposits in U.S. dollars appearing on the Reuters LIBOR1 screen. The Applicable Percentage for ABR loans varies from 1.00% to 2.000% based upon the Borrower's leverage ratio. The CDOR Rate is based on the average rate applicable to Canadian dollar bankers' acceptances appearing on the Reuters screen CDOR Page. The Credit Agreement contains representations, warranties and covenants that are customary for similar credit arrangements, including, among other things, covenants relating to (i) financial reporting and notification, (ii) payment of obligations, and (iii) notification of certain events.

Financial covenants in the Credit Agreement also require the Company not to permit:

the Interest Coverage Ratio for any period of four consecutive fiscal quarters of the Company of less than 3.0 to 1.0; and the Leverage Ratio for any four consecutive fiscal quarters of the Company to be greater than (i) 3.50 to 1.0 for each fiscal quarter ending after December 10, 2010 through December 31, 2011, (ii) 3.25 to 1.0 for each fiscal quarter ending from March 31, 2012 through December 31, 2012 and (iii) 3.00 to 1.00 for each fiscal quarter thereafter.

The Credit Agreement contains various customary restrictive covenants, subject to certain exceptions, that prohibit the Company and its subsidiaries from, among other things, incurring additional indebtedness or guarantees, creating liens or other encumbrances on property, entering into certain sale and lease-back transactions, entering into a merger or similar transaction, selling or transferring certain property, making certain restricted payments and entering into transactions with affiliates.

The failure to comply with the foregoing covenants will constitute an event of default (subject, in the case of certain covenants, to applicable notice and/or cure periods) under the Credit Agreement. Other events of default under the Credit Agreement include, among other things, (i) the failure to timely pay principal or interest, (ii) the inaccuracy of representations or warranties in any material respect, (iii) the occurrence of certain bankruptcy or insolvency events, (iv) loss of lien perfection or priority and (v) the occurrence of a change in control. The occurrence and continuance of an event of default could result in, among other things, termination of the Lenders' commitments and acceleration of all amounts outstanding. The Company's obligations under the Credit Agreement are guaranteed by certain of the Company's U.S. subsidiaries. The obligations of the Canadian Borrowers under the Credit Agreement are guaranteed by the Company and certain of its non-U.S. subsidiaries. In addition, the Company's obligations under the Credit Agreement, subject to certain exceptions, are secured on a first-priority basis by liens on substantially all of the material personal property of the Company and the Company's U.S. subsidiaries. The Canadian Borrowers' obligations under the Credit Agreement, subject to certain exceptions, are secured on a first-priority basis by liens on substantially all of the material personal property of the Canadian Borrowers and certain of the Company's non-U.S. subsidiaries.
