Tyson Foods' Acquisition of IBP Clears Waiting Period Under
Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act

Springdale, AR (January 29, 2001) Tyson Foods, Inc. (NYSE: TSN) today announced that the waiting period for federal regulatory review of its planned acquisition of IBP, inc. (NYSE: IBP) has expired without any further actions being taken by the Department of Justice. The company had previously responded to two requests for additional information concerning the transaction.

In recognizing this milestone, John Tyson, Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer, said "We have always been confident that the combination of Tyson's poultry business with the beef and pork processing operations of IBP would not hamper the competitive nature of our markets or restrict sales opportunities for farmers and ranchers. The strategic intent of the acquisition is and always has been, to stimulate greater worldwide consumer demand for beef and pork by developing convenient new products and sound branding principles."

About Tyson Foods, Inc.

Tyson Foods, Inc., headquartered in Springdale, Ark., is the world's largest fully integrated producer, processor and marketer of chicken and chicken-based convenience foods, with 68,000 team members and 7,400 contract growers in 100 communities. Tyson has operations in 18 states and 15 countries and exports to 73 countries worldwide. Tyson is the recognized market leader in almost every retail and foodservice market it serves. Through its Cobb-Vantress subsidiary, Tyson is also a leading chicken breeding stock supplier. In addition, Tyson is the nation's second largest maker of corn and flour tortillas under the Mexican Original(R) brand, as well as a leading provider of live swine.
