PART III. NARRATIVE

State below in reasonable detail the reasons why the Form 10-K, 11-K, 20-F, 10-Q, N-SAR or the transition report portion thereof could not be filed within the prescribed time period. (Attach extra sheets if needed.)

Prior to the filing deadline for the Company's annual report on Form 10-K, the Company negotiated certain significant financing transactions: (i) a consent, waiver and third amendment to credit agreement with its lender group, to, among other things, waive a default of a financial covenant under the Company's senior secured credit facility; (ii) a securities purchase agreement, securities registration agreement, convertible notes and warrants to purchase common stock, pursuant to which the Company issued convertible notes in the principal amount of $10 million; and (iii) a promissory note and deed of trust for a mortgage loan in the principal amount of $14 million.

The proceeds of the convertible notes and the mortgage loan will be applied to reduce indebtedness under the Company's senior secured credit facility from $30 million to $6 million. The aforementioned financing transactions were negotiated and agreed to prior to the filing deadline for the annual report on Form 10-K; however, most of the definitive instruments and agreements, and commitment letters in the case of the third amendment, were finalized, executed and delivered soon after the filing deadline. Because these instruments and agreements were executed and delivered just before or just after the filing deadline, the length and scope of the detailed descriptions of the financing transactions in the annual report and associated notes to consolidated financial statements, the Company could not without unreasonable effort or expense incorporate the material terms of the transactions into the annual report on Form 10-K or edgarize and attach copies of the transaction documents prior to the filing deadline. The Company believes the referenced financing transactions were material events negotiated prior to the filing deadline for the annual report on Form 10-K, and a description of the transactions was necessary to present a meaningful discussion of the Company's capital structure and liquidity as of the filing deadline.

Accordingly, the Company was not able to file the portion of its Form 10-K relating to its financing transactions and the related discussion necessary to an understanding of the Company's capital structure and liquidity on a timely basis without unreasonable effort or expense.
