Item 2.01 Completion of acquisition or disposition of assets.

On October 1, 2006, The Bank of New York Company, Inc. (the "Company") completed the sale of its retail and regional middle market banking businesses to JPMorgan Chase & Co. ("JPMorgan") (the "Retail Bank Sale"). The Company also completed its acquisition of the corporate trust business from JPMorgan. See Item 8.01 below.

The Bank of New York (the "Bank"), a subsidiary of the Company, sold its retail and regional middle market banking businesses to JPMorgan for the net asset value plus a premium of $2.3 billion. At closing, the retail branches and related employees transferred to JPMorgan, which expects to convert the branches to the JPMorgan Chase name and technology platform in 2007.

The Bank's retail bank consists of 338 branches in the tri-state region, serving approximately 700,000 consumer households and small businesses with approximately $14.5 billion in deposits and $15.4 billion in assets. The Bank's regional middle market businesses provide financing, banking and treasury services for middle market clients, serving more than 2,000 clients in the tri-state region. Together, the units have approximately 4,000 employees located in New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Delaware.

All of the necessary regulatory approvals and other customary approvals for the closing of the sale have been received.
