On July 9, 2003, Evolving Systems, Inc. (the "Company") published a press release containing certain financial information about the Company as follows:

EVOLVING SYSTEMS REPORTS BOOKINGS FOR SECOND QUARTER 2003

Englewood, Colorado Evolving Systems, Inc. (Nasdaq-EVOL), a provider of innovative software solutions for operations, enhanced services and systems integration to many of the largest communications companies in the U.S., today announced bookings for products and services for the second quarter of 2003 valued at approximately $4,000,000. Evolving Systems received orders from major wireline and wireless carriers in the United States for software licenses and integration services related to the Company's number portability and number inventory solutions.

"We are pleased with our order activity and momentum in the second quarter," said George Hallenbeck, chairman and CEO. "We believe that it validates our business model of offering high quality solutions that satisfy our customers' needs exactly, as quickly as possible, at the lowest possible price." The Company will report second quarter results and conduct its regularly scheduled earnings call in late July 2003.

About Evolving Systems

Evolving Systems, Inc. (NASDAQ: EVOL) provides innovative software solutions for operations, enhanced services and systems integration to many of the largest communications companies in the U.S. The Company is the nation's leading provider of local number portability solutions and offers software products that enable carriers to comply with the FCC's number conservation mandates intended to extend the life of the North American Numbering Plan. The Company's ServiceXpress methodology and offering is used to accelerate development and integration efforts. Evolving Systems' unique competence as an integration and solutions provider for both operations support system (OSS) and enhanced services software positions the Company to accelerate the automation and availability of tomorrow's services for today's tier one carriers and application service providers.
