AT&T-BellSouth Merger

Questions and Answers

May 25, 2006

Q1: In how many states are the companies required to file for approval of the transaction?

A: We have filed applications for merger approval in 18 states. We have also filed with the Federal Communications Commission and with the U.S. Department of Justice.

Q2: Which states?

A: We've filed for some form of approval of the transaction in Arizona, Delaware, Florida, Hawaii, Kentucky, Louisiana, Minnesota, Mississippi, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Utah, Vermont, West Virginia, Wyoming.

Q3: What do you mean by some form of approval?

A: States have different requirements and levels of review or approval. Some states require full applications and a formal regulatory process; others simply require that operating certificates or licenses be transferred to the new owner. We will follow the rules in each state.

Q4: I understand that BellSouth has filed to withdraw its operating certificates in one or more states. How come?

A: You'll have to address that question to BellSouth.

Q5: Which foreign countries require an approval or notification?

A: Filings have been made in Norway, Germany and the United Kingdom.

Q6: Has the merger been approved by any of these commissions or countries?

A: Yes. So far, we have met the statutory requirements for state commission review in seven states: Delaware, Minnesota, New Hampshire, New York, North Carolina, Utah and Wyoming. In these states, regulators have either voted to approve it or elected to take no action. Internationally, Germany and Norway have cleared the merger.

Q7: When do you think the approval process will be completed?

A: We expect the merger to close by the end of 2006.
