CAUTIONARY STATEMENT

This Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q contains, or incorporates by reference, certain forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Such statements include, but are not limited to, (1) projections of revenues, expenses, income or loss, earnings or loss per share, cash flow projections or other financial items; (2) statements of our plans and objectives, including those relating to product releases; (3) statements of future economic performance; and (4) statements of assumptions underlying such statements. We generally use words such as anticipate, believe, could, estimate, expect, forecast, future, intend, may, outlook, plan, positioned, potential, project, remain, scheduled, set to, subject to, to be, upcoming, will and other similar expressions to help identify forward-looking statements. These forward-looking statements are subject to business and economic risk, reflect management's current expectations, estimates and projections about our business, and are inherently uncertain and difficult to predict. Our actual results could differ materially. The forward-looking statements contained herein speak only as of the date on which they were made, and we disclaim any obligation to update any forward-looking statements to reflect events or circumstances after the date of this Quarterly Report. Risks and uncertainties that may affect our future results include, but are not limited to, those discussed under the heading Risk Factors, included in Part I, Item 1A of our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2007. All references to we, us, our, Activision or the Company in the following discussion and analysis mean Activision, Inc. and its subsidiaries.

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Presentation

The accompanying Consolidated Financial Statements include the accounts of Activision, Inc. and its subsidiaries (Activision or we). The information furnished is unaudited and the adjustments included consist of only normal recurring adjustments that, in the opinion of management, are necessary to provide a fair statement of the results for the interim periods presented. The Consolidated Financial Statements should be read in conjunction with the Consolidated Financial Statements included in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2007 as filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) on June 14, 2007.

Software Development Costs and Intellectual Property Licenses

Software development costs include payments made to independent software developers under development agreements, as well as direct costs incurred for internally developed products.

We account for software development costs in accordance with SFAS No. 86, Accounting for the Costs of Computer Software to Be Sold, Leased, or Otherwise Marketed. Software development costs are capitalized once technological feasibility of a product is established and such costs are determined to be recoverable. Technological feasibility of a product encompasses both technical design documentation and game design documentation. For products where proven technology exists, this may occur early in the development cycle. Technological feasibility is evaluated on a product-by-product basis. Prior to a product's release, we expense, as part of cost of sales software royalties and amortization, capitalized costs when we believe such amounts are not recoverable. Capitalized costs for those products that are cancelled or abandoned are charged to product development expense in the period of cancellation. Amounts related to software development which are not capitalized are charged immediately to product development expense. We evaluate the future recoverability of capitalized amounts on a quarterly basis. The recoverability of capitalized software development costs is evaluated based on the expected performance of the specific products for which the costs relate. Criteria used to evaluate expected product performance include: historical performance of comparable products using comparable technology; orders for the product prior to its release; and estimated performance of a sequel product based on the performance of the product on which the sequel is based.

Commencing upon product release, capitalized software development costs are amortized to cost of sales software royalties and amortization based on the ratio of current revenues to total projected revenues, generally resulting in an amortization period of six months or less. For products that have been released in prior periods, we evaluate the future recoverability of capitalized amounts on a quarterly basis. The primary evaluation criterion is actual title performance.

Edgar Filing: ACTIVISION INC /NY - Form 10-Q

Significant management judgments and estimates are utilized in the assessment of when technological feasibility is established, as well as in the ongoing assessment of the recoverability of capitalized costs. In evaluating the recoverability of capitalized costs, the assessment of expected product performance utilizes forecasted sales amounts and estimates of additional costs to be incurred. If revised forecasted or actual product sales are less than, and/or revised forecasted or actual costs are greater than, the original forecasted amounts utilized in the initial recoverability analysis, the net realizable value may be lower than originally estimated in any given quarter, which could result in an impairment charge.

Intellectual property license costs represent license fees paid to intellectual property rights holders for use of their trademarks, copyrights, software, technology, or other intellectual property or proprietary rights in the development of our products. Depending upon the agreement with the rights holder, we may obtain the rights to use acquired intellectual property in multiple products over multiple years, or alternatively, for a single product.

ACTIVISION, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

(Unaudited)

We evaluate the future recoverability of capitalized intellectual property licenses on a quarterly basis. The recoverability of capitalized intellectual property license costs is evaluated based on the expected performance of the specific products in which the licensed trademark or copyright is to be used. As many of our intellectual property licenses extend for multiple products over multiple years, we also assess the recoverability of capitalized intellectual property license costs based on certain qualitative factors such as the success of other products and/or entertainment vehicles utilizing the intellectual property, whether there are any future planned theatrical releases or television series based on the intellectual property, and the rights holder's continued promotion and exploitation of the intellectual property. Prior to the related product's release, we expense, as part of cost of sales intellectual property licenses, capitalized intellectual property costs when we believe such amounts are not recoverable. Capitalized intellectual property costs for those products that are cancelled or abandoned are charged to product development expense in the period of cancellation. Criteria used to evaluate expected product performance include: historical performance of comparable products using comparable technology; orders for the product prior to its release; and estimated performance of a sequel product based on the performance of the product on which the sequel is based.

Commencing upon the related product's release, capitalized intellectual property license costs are amortized to cost of sales intellectual property licenses based on the ratio of current revenues for the specific product to total projected revenues for all products in which the licensed property will be utilized. As intellectual property license contracts may extend for multiple years, the amortization of capitalized intellectual property license costs relating to such contracts may extend beyond one year. For intellectual property included in products that have been released, we evaluate the future recoverability of capitalized amounts on a quarterly basis. The primary evaluation criterion is actual title performance.

Significant management judgments and estimates are utilized in the assessment of the recoverability of capitalized costs. In evaluating the recoverability of capitalized costs, the assessment of expected product performance utilizes forecasted sales amounts and estimates of additional costs to be incurred. If revised forecasted or actual product sales are less than, and/or revised forecasted or actual costs are greater than, the original forecasted amounts utilized in the initial recoverability analysis, the net realizable value may be lower than originally estimated in any given quarter, which could result in an impairment charge. Additionally, as noted above, as many of our intellectual property licenses extend for multiple products over multiple years, we also assess the recoverability of capitalized intellectual property license costs based on certain qualitative factors such as the success of other products and/or entertainment vehicles utilizing the intellectual property, whether there are any future planned theatrical releases or television series based on the intellectual property and the rights holder's continued promotion and exploitation of the intellectual property. Material differences may result in the amount and timing of charges for any period if management makes different judgments or utilizes different estimates in evaluating these qualitative factors.

Revenue Recognition

Edgar Filing: ACTIVISION INC /NY - Form 10-Q

We recognize revenue from the sale of our products upon the transfer of title and risk of loss to our customers, and once any performance obligations have been completed. Certain products are sold to customers with a street date (the earliest date these products may be sold by retailers). For these products we recognize revenue on the later of the street date or the sale date. Revenue from product sales is recognized after deducting the estimated allowance for returns and price protection. With respect to license agreements that provide customers the right to make multiple copies in exchange for guaranteed amounts, revenue is recognized upon delivery of a master copy. Per copy royalties on sales that exceed the guarantee are recognized as earned.

Some of our software products provide limited online features at no additional cost to the consumer. Generally, we consider such features to be incidental to the overall product offering and an inconsequential deliverable. Accordingly, we do not defer any revenue related to products containing these limited online features. In instances where online features or additional functionality is considered a substantive deliverable in addition to the software product, the company contemplates such when determining the appropriate revenue recognition. This evaluation is performed for each software product when it is released. We determined that one of our software titles released this quarter, Enemy Territory: Quake Wars (which is primarily an online multiplayer PC game), contains online functionality that constitutes a more-than-inconsequential separate service deliverable in addition to the product, principally because of its importance to game play. As such, our performance obligations for this title extend beyond the sale of the game, which is unique compared to other prior titles. Vendor-specific objective evidence of fair value (VSOE) does not exist for the online functionality, as we do not separately charge for this component of the title. As a result, we are recognizing all of the revenue from the sale of this title ratably over an estimated service period, which is estimated to be six months beginning the month after shipment. In addition, we are deferring the costs of sales for this title. Cost of sales includes: manufacturing costs, software royalties and amortization, and intellectual property licenses. Overall, online play functionality is still an emerging area for us. As we move forward, we will monitor this developing functionality and its significance for our products. Our assessment of our obligations with respect to this functionality and the resulting accounting may change in the future.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

With respect to online transactions, such as electronic downloads of titles or product add-ons, revenue is recognized when the fee is paid by the online customer to purchase online content and we are notified by the online retailer that the product has been downloaded. In addition, in order to recognize revenue for both product sales and licensing transactions, persuasive evidence of an arrangement must exist and collection of the related receivable must be probable.

Sales incentives or other consideration given by us to our customers is accounted for in accordance with the Financial Accounting Standards Board's Emerging Issues Task Force (EITF) Issue 01-9, Accounting for Consideration Given by a Vendor to a Customer (Including a Reseller of the Vendor's Products). In accordance with EITF Issue 01-9, sales incentives and other consideration that are considered adjustments of the selling price of our products, such as rebates and product placement fees, are reflected as reductions of revenue. Sales incentives and other consideration that represent costs incurred by us for assets or services received, such as the appearance of our products in a customer's national circular ad, are reflected as sales and marketing expenses.

Allowances for Returns, Price Protection, Doubtful Accounts, and Inventory Obsolescence

In determining the appropriate unit shipments to our customers, we benchmark our titles using historical and industry data. We closely monitor and analyze the historical performance of our various titles, the performance of products released by other publishers, and the anticipated timing of other releases in order to assess future demands of current and upcoming titles. Initial volumes shipped upon title launch and subsequent reorders are evaluated to ensure that quantities are sufficient to meet the demands from the retail markets but at the same time, are controlled to prevent excess inventory in the channel.

We may permit product returns from, or grant price protection to, our customers under certain conditions. In general, price protection refers to the circumstances when we elect to decrease the wholesale price of a product by a certain amount and, when granted and applicable, allows customers a credit against amounts owed by such customers to us with respect to open and/or future invoices. The conditions our customers must meet to be granted the right to return products or price protection are, among other things, compliance with applicable payment terms, and consistent delivery to us of inventory and sell-through reports. We may also consider other factors, including the facilitation of slow-moving inventory and other market factors. Management must make estimates of potential future product returns and price protection related to current period product revenue. We estimate the amount of future returns and price protection for current period product revenue utilizing historical experience and information regarding inventory levels and the demand and acceptance of our products by the end consumer. The following factors are used to estimate the amount of future returns and price protection for a particular title: historical performance of titles in similar genres, historical performance of the hardware platform, historical performance of the brand, console hardware life cycle, Activision sales force and retail customer feedback, industry pricing, weeks of on-hand retail channel inventory, absolute quantity of on-hand retail channel inventory, our warehouse on-hand inventory levels, the title's recent sell-through history (if available), marketing trade programs, and competing titles. The relative importance of these factors varies among titles depending upon, among other items, genre, platform, seasonality, and sales strategy. Significant management judgments and estimates must be made and used in connection with establishing the allowance for returns and price protection in any accounting period. Based upon historical experience we believe our estimates are reasonable. However, actual returns and price protection could vary materially from our allowance estimates due to a number of reasons including, among others, a lack of consumer acceptance of a title, the release in the same period of a similarly themed title by a competitor, or technological obsolescence due to the emergence of new hardware platforms. Material differences may result in the amount and timing of our revenue for any period if factors or market conditions change or if management makes different judgments or utilizes different estimates in determining the allowances for returns and price protection. For example, a 1% change in our September 30, 2007 allowance for returns and price protection would impact net revenues by $1.0 million.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Similarly, management must make estimates of the uncollectibility of our accounts receivable. In estimating the allowance for doubtful accounts, we analyze the age of current outstanding account balances, historical bad debts, customer concentrations, customer creditworthiness, current economic trends, and changes in our customers' payment terms and their economic condition, as well as whether we can obtain sufficient credit insurance. Any significant changes in any of these criteria would affect management's estimates in establishing our allowance for doubtful accounts.

We value inventory at the lower of cost or market. We regularly review inventory quantities on hand and in the retail channel and record a provision for excess or obsolete inventory based on the future expected demand for our products. Significant changes in demand for our products would impact management's estimates in establishing our inventory provision.

Stock-Based Compensation Expense

On April 1, 2006, we adopted Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 123 (revised 2004), Share-Based Payment, (SFAS No. 123R) which requires the measurement and recognition of compensation expense for all share-based payment awards made to employees and directors including employee stock options and employee stock purchases related to the Employee Stock Purchase Plan (employee stock purchases) based on estimated fair values. SFAS No. 123R supersedes our previous accounting under Accounting Principles Board Opinion No. 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees (APB No. 25). In March 2005, the Securities and Exchange Commission issued Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 107 (SAB 107) relating to SFAS No. 123R. We have applied the provisions of SAB 107 in our adoption of SFAS No. 123R.

SFAS No. 123R requires companies to estimate the fair value of share-based payment awards on the measurement date using an option-pricing model. The value of the portion of the award that is ultimately expected to vest is recognized as expense over the requisite service periods in our Consolidated Statement of Operations. Stock-based compensation expense recognized under SFAS No. 123R for the three and six months ended September 30, 2007 was $6.9 million and $15.0 million, respectively and for the three and six months ended September 30, 2006 was $4.9 million and $10.7 million, respectively. See Note 13 for additional information.

Edgar Filing: ACTIVISION INC /NY - Form 10-Q

Stock-based compensation expense recognized during the period is based on the value of the portion of share-based payment awards that is ultimately expected to vest during the period. Stock-based compensation expense recognized in our Consolidated Statement of Operations for the three and six months ended September 30, 2007, included compensation expense for share-based payment awards granted prior to, but not yet vested as of April 1, 2006, based on the grant date fair value estimated in accordance with the pro forma provisions of SFAS No. 123 and compensation expense for the share-based payment awards granted subsequent to April 1, 2006 based on the grant date fair value estimated in accordance with the provisions of SFAS No. 123R. Stock-based compensation expense recognized in the

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

(Unaudited)

Consolidated Statement of Operations is based on awards ultimately expected to vest and has been reduced for estimated forfeitures. SFAS No. 123R requires forfeitures to be estimated at the time of grant and revised, if necessary, in subsequent periods if actual forfeitures differ from those estimates.

We estimate the value of employee stock options on the date of grant using a binomial-lattice model. For additional information, see Note 13. Our determination of fair value of share-based payment awards on the date of grant using an option-pricing model is affected by our stock price as well as assumptions regarding a number of highly complex and subjective variables. These variables include, but are not limited to our expected stock price volatility over the term of the awards, and actual and projected employee stock option exercise behaviors.

2. Acquisitions

Bizarre Creations

On September 26, 2007, we acquired 100% of Bizarre Creations Limited (Bizarre Creations) for an aggregate purchase price of $67.4 million in cash. In addition, in the event that certain financial performance measures of Bizarre Creations' business over a certain period of time (currently estimated to be 5 years from fiscal 2008) exceeds specified target levels, the former shareholders of Bizarre Creations will be entitled to an additional amount of up to $40 million payable in shares of our common stock. The contingent consideration will be recorded as an addition to the purchase price if the specified target levels are met. Based in the United Kingdom (UK), Bizarre Creations is a video game developer focusing on the racing category with its multi-million unit selling franchise Project Gotham Racing, a series for the Microsoft Xbox (Xbox) and the Microsoft Xbox360 (Xbox360) platforms. Bizarre Creations has also developed and owns the Geometry Wars intellectual property. We expect that Bizarre Creations will play a role in our growth strategy as we develop intellectual property for the racing segment, expand our development capability and capacity for other genres and utilize Bizarre Creations' proprietary development technology.

The results of operations of Bizarre Creations and the estimated fair market values of the acquired assets and liabilities have been included in the Consolidated Financial Statements since the date of acquisition. Pro forma consolidated statements of operations for this acquisition are not shown, as they would not differ materially from reported results. The acquired finite-lived intangible assets are being amortized over the estimated useful life in proportion to the economic benefits consumed, which for some intangible assets are approximated by using the straight-line method. Goodwill has been included in the publishing segment of our business and is amortized over 15 years for tax purposes.

Preliminary Purchase Price Allocation

We accounted for this acquisition in accordance with SFAS No. 141, Business Combinations (SFAS No. 141). SFAS No. 141 addresses financial accounting and reporting for business combinations, requiring that the purchase method be used to account and report for all business combinations. The purchase price for the Bizarre Creations transaction was preliminarily allocated to assets acquired and liabilities assumed as set forth below (in thousands):

Current assets	$	4,352
Property and equipment, net		2,203

DemonWare

On May 11, 2007, Activision completed its acquisition of DemonWare, Ltd., a provider of network middleware technologies for console and personal computer (PC) games headquartered in Dublin, Ireland. The acquisition is expected to enable Activision to gain efficiencies related to online game development and to position us to take advantage of the growth in online gameplay that is expected to be driven by the next-generation consoles. The acquisition is expected to be immaterial to fiscal 2008 earnings per share and cash flow. Additionally, pro forma consolidated statements of operations for this acquisition are not shown, as they would not differ materially from reported results.

3. Inventories

Inventories are valued at the lower of cost (first-in, first-out) or market. Our inventories consist of the following (amounts in thousands):

	September 30, 2007		March 31, 2007
Finished goods	$	151,584	$	89,048
Purchased parts and components		37,449		2,183

Goodwill acquired during the period represents goodwill of $55.8 million and $2.8 million related to the acquisitions of Bizarre Creations and DemonWare, respectively. See Note 2 for additional information. Issuance of contingent consideration consists of additional purchase consideration related to the acquisition of RedOctane Inc. and Vicarious Visions Inc. for $22.6 million and $3.1 million, respectively, which was paid in shares of our common stock. Additional contingent purchase consideration of $3.1 million related to the acquisition of Vicarious Visions Inc. was earned on June 30, 2007 as a result of the achievement of certain sell through targets released during the second quarter of fiscal 2008. As a result, shares of our common stock with an aggregate value of $1.4 million were issued to the former stockholders of Vicarious Visions Inc. with the remaining $1.7 million accrued as of September 30, 2007.

5. Income Taxes

The income tax provision of $1.9 million for the three months ended September 30, 2007 reflects our effective income tax rate for the quarter of 73.0%, and the income tax provision of $15.7 million for the six months ended September 30, 2007 reflects our estimated effective income tax rate of 35.5% for the six months ended September 30, 2007. Due to our relatively small net income before tax provision for the three months ended September 30, 2007, small changes in discrete items resulted in a large effect on our effective income tax rate for the quarter ended September 30, 2007. The significant items that generated the variance between our effective rate for the three months ended September 30, 2007 and our statutory rate of 35% were federal and state research and development tax credits, the impact of foreign tax rate differentials, and the federal deduction for domestic production activities, partially offset by state taxes and the impact of a decrease in the tax benefit of deferred tax assets on the books of our UK affiliates due to the enactment of a decrease in the UK statutory tax rate.

The aforementioned effective income tax rate for the quarter of 73.0% differs from our effective income tax rate of 17.3% for the three months ended September 30, 2006 due to an increase in anticipated pretax income for fiscal 2008 determined at September 30, 2007 versus the anticipated pretax income for fiscal 2007 determined at September 30, 2006, without a corresponding increase in the benefit of book/tax differences, in addition to the impact of a decrease in the tax benefit of deferred tax assets on the books of our UK affiliates due to the recent enactment of a decrease in the UK statutory tax rate.

The income tax benefit of $5.1 million for the three months ended September 30, 2006 reflects our effective income tax rate for the quarter of 17.3%, which differs from our effective tax rate of 21.9% for the year ended March 31, 2007 due to (1) an increase in the federal research and development credit for the full year ended March 31, 2007 over the amount originally anticipated for the year at September 30, 2006 due to the Congressional reinstatement of the federal R&D credit in quarter ended December 31, 2006; and (2) the elimination of the valuation allowance for research and development tax credits, partially offset by the nondeductible portion of annual cash bonuses determined in the three months ended March 31, 2007 under Section 162(m), and the establishment of tax reserves for these credits and other deferred tax assets. The significant items that generated the variance between our effective rate and our statutory rate of 35% for the three months ended September 30, 2006 were research and development tax credits for state purposes, and the impact of foreign tax rate differentials, partially offset by state taxes.

We adopted the provisions of Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Interpretation No. 48 Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes (FIN 48) an interpretation of FASB Statement No. 109 (SFAS 109) on April 1, 2007. As a result of the implementation of FIN 48, we recognized no material adjustment in the liability for unrecognized income tax benefits. At the adoption date of April 1, 2007, we had $65.5 million of unrecognized tax benefits, of which $26.2 million would affect our effective tax rate if recognized. The liability for unrecognized tax benefits was unchanged during the three months ended September 30, 2007.

In addition, consistent with the provisions of FIN 48, we reclassified $15.6 million of income tax liabilities from current to non-current liabilities because payment of cash is not anticipated within one year of the balance sheet date. These non-current income tax liabilities are recorded in Other Liabilities in the Consolidated Balance Sheets.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

We recognize interest and penalties related to uncertain tax positions in income tax expense. As of April 1, 2007, we had approximately $296,000 of accrued interest related to uncertain tax positions. There were no material changes to the accrued interest expense related to estimated obligations for unrecognized tax benefits net of federal benefit during the three months ended September 30, 2007.

The tax years 2002 through 2007 remain open to examination by the major taxing jurisdictions to which we are subject, including U.S. and non-U.S. locations. We are currently under audit by the Internal Revenue Service and the California Franchise Tax Board, and it is possible that the current portion of our unrecognized tax benefits will significantly decrease within the next twelve months.

6. Software Development Costs and Intellectual Property Licenses

As of September 30, 2007, capitalized software development costs included $102.5 million of internally developed software costs and $42.2 million of payments made to third-party software developers. As of March 31, 2007, capitalized software development costs included $94.3 million of internally developed software costs and $36.6 million of payments made to third-party software developers. Capitalized intellectual property licenses were $81.8 million and $100.3 million as of September 30, 2007 and March 31, 2007, respectively. Amortization and write-offs of capitalized software development costs and intellectual property licenses were $101.7 million and $26.3 million for the six months ended September 30, 2007 and 2006, respectively.

10. Operations by Reportable Segments and Geographic Area

Based upon our organizational structure, we operate two business segments: (i) publishing of interactive entertainment software and peripherals and (ii) distribution of interactive entertainment software and hardware products.

Publishing refers to the development, marketing and sale of products, either directly, by license or through our affiliate label program with certain third-party publishers. In the United States and Canada, we primarily sell our products on a direct basis to mass-market retailers, consumer electronics stores, discount warehouses, and game specialty stores. We conduct our international publishing activities through offices in the United Kingdom (UK), Germany, France, Italy, Spain, Australia, Sweden, the Netherlands, Canada, South Korea, and Japan where products are sold on a direct-to-retail basis and through third-party distribution and licensing arrangements and through our wholly owned distribution subsidiaries.

Distribution refers to our operations in the UK, the Netherlands, and Germany that provide logistical and sales services to third-party publishers of interactive entertainment software, our own publishing operations and manufacturers of interactive entertainment hardware.

Resources are allocated to each of these segments using information on their respective net revenues and operating profits before interest and taxes.

The accounting policies of these segments are the same as those described in the Summary of Significant Accounting Policies in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended March 31, 2007. Revenue derived from sales between segments is eliminated in consolidation.

12. Commitments and Contingencies

Credit Facilities

We have revolving credit facilities with our Centresoft subsidiary located in the UK (the UK Facility) and our NBG subsidiary located in Germany (the German Facility). The UK Facility provided Centresoft with the ability to borrow up to GBP 12.0 million ($24.5 million), including issuing letters of credit, on a revolving basis as of September 30, 2007. The UK Facility bore interest at LIBOR plus 2.0% as of September 30, 2007, is collateralized by substantially all of the assets of the subsidiary and expires in January 2008. The UK Facility also contains various covenants that require the subsidiary to maintain specified financial ratios related to, among others, fixed charges. The German Facility provided for revolving loans up to EUR 0.5 million ($0.7 million) as of September 30, 2007, bore interest at a Eurocurrency rate plus 2.5%, is collateralized by certain of the subsidiary's property and equipment and has no expiration date. No borrowings were outstanding against the UK Facility and the German Facility as of September 30, 2007.

As of September 30, 2007, we maintained a $40.0 million irrevocable standby letter of credit. The standby letter of credit is required by one of our inventory manufacturers to qualify for payment terms on our inventory purchases. Under the terms of this arrangement, we are required to maintain on deposit with the bank a compensating balance, restricted as to use, of not less than the sum of the available amount of the letter of credit plus the aggregate amount of any drawings under the letter of credit that have been honored thereunder but not reimbursed. At September 30, 2007, the $40.0 million deposit is included in short-term investments as restricted cash. No borrowings were outstanding as of September 30, 2007.

As of September 30, 2007, our publishing subsidiary located in the UK maintained a EUR 4.0 million ($5.7 million) irrevocable standby letter of credit. The standby letter of credit is required by one of our inventory manufacturers to qualify for payment terms on our inventory purchases. The standby letter of credit does not require a compensating balance and is collateralized by substantially all of the assets of the subsidiary and expires in February 2008. No borrowings were outstanding as of September 30, 2007.

Commitments

In the normal course of business, we enter into contractual arrangements with third parties for non-cancelable operating lease agreements for our offices, for the development of products, and for the rights to intellectual property. Under these agreements, we commit to provide specified payments to a lessor, developer or intellectual property holder, as the case may be, based upon contractual arrangements. The payments to third-party developers are generally conditioned upon the achievement by the developers of contractually specified development milestones. Further, these payments to third-party developers and intellectual property holders typically are deemed to be advances and are recoupable against future royalties earned by the developer or intellectual property holder based on the sale of the related game. Additionally, in connection with certain intellectual property right acquisitions and development agreements, we will commit to spend specified amounts for marketing support for the related game(s) which is to be developed or in which the intellectual property will be utilized. Assuming all contractual provisions are met, the total future minimum commitments for these and other contractual arrangements in place as of September 30, 2007, are scheduled to be paid as follows (amounts in thousands):

(1) We have omitted FIN 48 liabilities from this table due to the inherent uncertainty regarding the timing of potential issue resolution. Specifically, either (a) the underlying positions have not been fully enough developed under audit to quantify at this time or, (b) the years relating to the issues for certain jurisdictions are not currently under audit. At the adoption date of April 1, 2007, the Company had $65.5 million of unrecognized tax benefits.

Compensation Guarantee

In June 2005, we entered into an employment agreement with the President and Chief Executive Officer of Activision Publishing, Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company and the Company's principal operating subsidiary, containing a guarantee related to his total compensation. The agreement guarantees that, if on May 15, 2010 his total compensation and any severance payments received by him has not exceeded $20.0 million, we will make a payment for the amount of the shortfall. The $20.0 million guarantee will be recognized as compensation expense over the term of the employment agreement and consists of salary payments, bonus payments, restricted stock expense, stock option expense, and an accrual for any anticipated remaining portion of the guarantee. The remaining portion of the guarantee is accrued over the term of the agreement in Other liabilities and will remain accrued until the end of the employment agreement, at which point it will be used to make a payment for any shortfall or reclassified into shareholders equity.

Legal Proceedings

In July 2006, individuals and/or entities claiming to be stockholders of the Company filed derivative lawsuits, purportedly on behalf of the Company, against certain current and former members of the Company's Board of Directors as well as several current and former officers of the Company. Three derivative actions have been filed in Los Angeles Superior Court: Vazquez v. Kotick, et al., L.A.S.C. Case No. BC355327 (filed July 12, 2006); Greuer v. Kotick, et al. L.A.S.C. Case No. SC090343 (filed July 12, 2006); and Amalgamated Bank v. Baker, et al., L.A.S.C. Case No. BC356454 (filed August 3, 2006). These actions have been consolidated by the court under the caption In re Activision Shareholder Derivative Litigation, L.A.S.C. Master File No. SC090343 (West, J.). Two derivative actions have been filed in the United States District Court for the Central District of California: Pfeiffer v. Kotick, et al., C.D. Cal. Case No. CV06-4771 MRP (JTLx) (filed July 31, 2006); and Hamian v. Kotick, et al., C.D. Cal. Case No. CV06-5375 MRP (JLTx) (filed August 25, 2006). These actions have also been consolidated, under the caption In re Activision, Inc. Shareholder Derivative Litigation, C.D. Cal. Case No. CV06-4771 MRP (JTLx) (Pfaelzer, J.). The consolidated complaints allege, among other things, purported improprieties in the Company's issuance of stock options. Plaintiffs seek various relief on behalf of the Company, including damages, restitution of benefits obtained from the alleged misconduct, equitable relief, including an accounting and rescission of option contracts; and various corporate governance reforms. The Company expects that defense expenses associated with the matters will be covered by its directors and officers insurance, subject to the terms and conditions of the applicable policies.

On May 24, 2007, the Superior Court granted the Company's motion to stay the state action. The court's order stays the action pending the resolution of motions to dismiss in the federal action, but is without prejudice to any party's right to seek modification of the stay upon a showing of good cause, including a showing that matters may be addressed in the Superior Court without the potential for conflict with or duplication of the federal court proceedings. On July 13, 2007, Plaintiffs filed their second amended complaint, which alleges substantially the same claims as the previous complaints, with new allegations related to Plaintiffs' standing, recent public facts and additional analyses. The parties are briefing the threshold issues and a hearing on them is scheduled for November 7, 2007.

The Company filed motions to dismiss in the federal action on June 1, 2007. A hearing on the motions has been continued to December 3, 2007.

The Company was also informed that, on June 1, 2007, a derivative case, Abdelnur vs. Kotick et al., was filed in the United States District Court for the Central District of California, C.D. Case No. CV07-3575 AHM (PJWx), by the same law firm that previously filed the Hamian case, alleging substantially the same claims. The action has now been consolidated with the existing federal consolidated action and the motions to dismiss filed June 1, 2007 have been deemed to have also been filed in response to the Abdelnur complaint.

On July 18, 2007, the Company was informed that another derivative case, Scarborough v. Kotick et al., was filed in the United States District Court for the Central District of California, Case No. CV07-4602 SVW (PLAx), also by the same law firm that previously filed the Hamian case, alleging substantially the same claims. This action has been consolidated with the federal consolidated case. The parties attended a mediation related to the consolidated federal case on November 1, 2007.

On July 24, 2006, the Company received a letter of informal inquiry from the SEC requesting certain documents and information relating to the Company's historical stock option grant practices. Thereafter, the SEC issued a formal order of non-public investigation, pursuant to which it has subpoenaed documents from the Company related to the investigation, and has subpoenaed testimony and documents from certain current and former directors, officers and employees of the Company.

The Company is cooperating with the SEC's investigation, and representatives of the special subcommittee of independent members of our Board of Directors established in July 2006 to review our historical stock option granting practices (the Special Subcommittee) and its legal counsel have met with members of the staff of the SEC on several occasions, in person and by telephone (as has the Company's outside legal counsel), to discuss the progress of the Special Subcommittee's investigation and to brief the SEC staff on the Special Subcommittee's findings and recommendations. A representative of the U.S. Department of Justice has attended certain of these meetings and requested copies of certain documents that we have provided to the staff of the SEC. At this time, the Company has not received any grand jury subpoenas or written requests from the Department of Justice.

In addition, we are party to other routine claims and suits brought by us and against us in the ordinary course of business, including disputes arising over the ownership of intellectual property rights, contractual claims, employment laws, regulations and relationships, and collection matters. In the opinion of management, after consultation with legal counsel, the outcome of such routine claims and lawsuits will not have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, or liquidity.

13. Stock-Based Compensation and Employee Benefit Plans

Equity Incentive Plans

On July 30, 2007, our Board of Directors adopted the Activision 2007 Incentive Plan (the 2007 Plan), subject to shareholder approval, and reserved 15,000,000 shares for issuance thereunder and, on September 27, 2007, the 2007 Plan was approved by our shareholders and became effective. The 2007 Plan authorizes the Compensation Committee of our Board of Directors to provide equity-based compensation in the form of stock options, share appreciation rights, restricted stock, restricted stock units, performance shares, performance units and other performance- or value-based awards structured by the Compensation Committee within parameters set forth in the 2007 Plan, including custom awards that are denominated or payable in, valued in whole or in part by reference to, or otherwise based on or related to, shares of our common stock, or factors that may influence the value of our common stock or that are valued based on our performance or the performance of any of our subsidiaries or business units or other factors designated by the Compensation Committee, as well as incentive bonuses, for the purpose of providing incentives and rewards for superior performance to the directors, officers, employees of, and consultants to, Activision and its subsidiaries.

While the Compensation Committee has broad discretion to create equity incentives, our equity-based compensation program currently primarily utilizes a combination of options, restricted stock and restricted stock units. Such awards generally have time-based vesting schedules, vesting annually over periods of three to five years, or vest in their entirety on an anniversary of date of grant, subject to possible earlier vesting if certain performance measures are met, and all such awards which are options generally expire ten years from the grant date. Under the terms of the 2007 Plan, the exercise price for the options, must be equal to or greater than the closing price per share of our common stock on the date the award is granted, as reported on the NASDAQ.

Upon the effective date of the 2007 Plan, we ceased to make awards under the following equity incentive plans (collectively, the Rolled-Up Plans), although such plans will remain in effect and continue to govern outstanding awards: (i) Activision, Inc. 1998 Incentive Plan, as amended; (ii) Activision, Inc. 1999 Incentive Plan, as amended; (iii) Activision, Inc. 2001 Incentive Plan, as amended; (iv) Activision, Inc. 2002 Incentive Plan, as amended; (v) Activision, Inc. 2002 Executive Incentive Plan, as amended; (vi) Activision, Inc. 2002 Studio Employee Retention Incentive Plan, as amended; and (vii) Activision, Inc. 2003 Incentive Plan, as amended.

The number of shares available for issuance under the 2007 Plan was increased by an additional 2,685,577 shares of our common stock to reflect the shares reserved for issuance but not subject to outstanding awards under the Rolled-Up Plans at the time the 2007 Plan became effective. Additionally, the number of shares of our common stock reserved for issuance under the 2007 Plan may be further increased from time to time by: (i) the number of shares relating to awards outstanding under any Rolled-Up Plan that: (a) expire, or are forfeited, terminated or cancelled, without the issuance of shares; (b) are settled in cash in lieu of shares; or (c) are exchanged, prior to the issuance of shares of our common stock, for awards not involving our common stock; and (ii) if the exercise price of any option outstanding under any Rolled-Up Plan is, or the tax withholding requirements with respect to any award outstanding under any Rolled-Up Plan are, satisfied by withholding shares otherwise then deliverable in respect of the award or the actual or constructive transfer to the Company of shares already owned, the number of shares equal to the withheld or transferred shares. As of September 30, 2007, we had approximately 17.7 million shares of our common stock reserved for future issuance under the 2007 Plan. Shares issued in connection with awards made under the 2007 Plan are generally issued as new stock issuances.

Restricted Stock Units and Restricted Stock

We grant restricted stock units and restricted stock (collectively referred to as restricted stock rights) under the 2007 Plans to employees around the world. Restricted stock units entitle the holders thereof to receive shares of our common stock at the end of a specified period of time. Restricted stock is issued and outstanding upon grant; however, restricted stock holders are restricted from selling the shares until they vest. Upon vesting of restricted stock rights, we may withhold shares otherwise deliverable to satisfy tax withholding requirements. Restricted stock rights are subject to forfeiture and transfer restrictions. Vesting for restricted stock rights is based upon the holders' continued employment with us. If the vesting conditions are not met, unvested restricted stock rights will be forfeited.

During the first quarter of fiscal 2008, we issued restricted stock rights of 8,000 shares to an employee with a total grant date fair value of $163,000. During the second quarter of fiscal 2008, we issued restricted stock rights of 75,333 shares to employees with a total grant date fair value of $1,513,000. The value of the shares is based on the closing market price of our common stock on the date of grant. In accordance with SFAS No. 123R, we will recognize compensation expense and increase additional paid in capital related to restricted stock rights over the requisite service period. For the three and six months ended September 30, 2007, we recorded expenses related to total restricted stock rights of approximately $548,000 and $879,000, respectively. For the three and six months ended September 30, 2006, we recorded expenses related to total restricted stock rights of approximately $175,000 and $350,000, respectively. Since the issuance dates, we have recognized $2.3 million of the $6.4 million total fair value, with the remainder to be recognized over a weighted-average period of 1.72 years.

Non-Plan Employee Stock Options

In connection with prior employment agreements between Activision and Robert A. Kotick, Activision's Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, and Brian G. Kelly, Activision's Co-Chairman, Mr. Kotick and Mr. Kelly were granted options to purchase our common stock. The Board of Directors approved the granting of these options. As of September 30, 2007, options to purchase approximately 8,304,800 shares under such grants were outstanding with a weighted-average exercise price of $1.74.

Employee Stock Purchase Plan

Effective October 1, 2005, the Board of Directors approved the Activision, Inc. Third Amended and Restated 2002 Employee Stock Purchase Plan and the Activision, Inc. Second Amended and Restated 2002 Employee Stock Purchase Plan for International Employees (together, the ESPP). Under the ESPP, up to an aggregate of 4,000,000 shares of our common stock may be purchased by eligible employees during two six-month offering periods that commence each April 1 and October 1 (the Offering Period). Common stock is purchased by the ESPP participants at a price per share generally equal to 85% of the lower of the fair market value of our common stock on the first day of the Offering Period and the fair market value of our common stock on the purchase date (the last day of the Offering Period). Employees may purchase shares having a value not exceeding 15% of their gross compensation during an Offering Period and are limited to a maximum of $10,000 in value for any two purchases within the same calendar year. On June 13, 2007, employees purchased 228,242 shares of our common stock at a purchase price of $12.835 per share. On September 28, 2007, the most recent purchase date, employees purchased 126,008 shares of our common stock at a purchase price of $16.099 per share. As of September 30, 2007, we had approximately 1.2 million shares of our common stock reserved for future issuance under the ESPP. Shares issued in connection with purchases made under the ESPP are generally issued as new stock issuances.

Non-Employee Warrants

In prior years, we have granted stock warrants to third parties in connection with the development of software and the acquisition of licensing rights for intellectual property. The warrants generally vest upon grant and are exercisable over the term of the warrant. The exercise price of third-party warrants is generally greater than or equal to the fair market value of our common stock at the date of grant. No third-party warrants were granted during the quarters or six months ended September 30, 2007 and 2006. As of September 30, 2007 and 2006, respectively, third-party warrants to purchase 919,800 and 936,000 shares of our common stock were outstanding with a weighted-average exercise price of $4.59 and $4.54 per share, respectively.

In accordance with EITF 96-18, we measure the fair value of the securities on the measurement date. The fair value of each warrant is capitalized and amortized to expense when the related product is released and the related revenue is recognized. Additionally, as more fully described in Note 1, the recoverability of capitalized software development costs and intellectual property licenses is evaluated on a quarterly basis with amounts determined as not recoverable being charged to expense. In connection with the evaluation of capitalized software development costs and intellectual property licenses, any capitalized amounts for related third-party warrants are additionally reviewed for recoverability with amounts determined as not recoverable being amortized to expense. As of March 31, 2006, capitalized amounts of third-party warrants had been fully amortized.

Employee Retirement Plan

We have a retirement plan covering substantially all of our eligible employees. The retirement plan is qualified in accordance with Section 401(k) of the Internal Revenue Code. Under the plan, employees may defer up to 92% of their pre-tax salary, up to the maximum amount allowed by law. We contribute an amount equal to 20% of each dollar contributed by a participant. Our matching contributions to the plan were approximately $278,020 and $867,600 during the three and six months ended September 30, 2007, respectively. Our matching contributions to the plan were approximately $284,500 and $744,200 during the three and six months ended September 30, 2006, respectively.

The following table sets forth the total stock-based compensation expense resulting from stock options, restricted stock rights, and ESPP included in our Consolidated Statements of Operations for the three and six months ended September 30, 2007 and 2006 (in thousands):

	Three Months Ended September 30, 2007	Six Months Ended September 30, 2007

Net cash proceeds from the exercise of stock options were $19.1 million and $30.3 million for the three and six months ended September 30, 2007, respectively. Net cash proceeds from the exercise of stock options were $7.1 million and $11.9 million for the three and six months ended September 30, 2006, respectively. Income tax benefit from stock option exercises was $8.8 million and $9.2 million for the three and six months ended September 30, 2007, respectively. Income tax benefit from stock option exercises was $3.1 million and $5.9 million for the three and six months ended September 30, 2006, respectively. In accordance with SFAS No. 123R, we present excess tax benefits from the exercise of stock options, if any, as financing cash flows rather than operating cash flows.

Consistent with SFAS No. 123R, data input into our model reflects expected future changes during the option's contractual term. The inputs required by our binomial lattice model include expected volatility, risk-free interest rate, risk-adjusted stock return, dividend yield, contractual term, and vesting schedule, as well as measures of employees' forfeiture, exercise, and post-vesting termination behavior. Statistical methods were used to estimate termination rates for specific types of employees. These termination rates, in turn, were used to model the number of options that are expected to vest and post-vesting termination behavior. Employee-type-specific estimates of Expected Time-To-Exercise (ETTE) were used to reflect employee exercise behavior. ETTE was estimated by using statistical procedures to first estimate the conditional probability of exercise occurring during each time period, conditional on the option surviving to that time period. These probabilities are then used to estimate ETTE. The model was calibrated by adjusting parameters controlling exercise and post-vesting termination behavior so that the measures output by the model matched values of these measures that were estimated from historical data. The weighted-average estimated value of employee stock options granted during the three months ended September 30, 2007 and 2006 was $8.16 and $5.66 per share, respectively, using the binomial-lattice model with the following weighted-average assumptions:

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

(Unaudited)

	Employee and Director Options and Warrants				Employee Stock Purchase Plan
	Three Months Ended		Three Months Ended		Three Months Ended		Three Months Ended
	September 30, 2007	September 30, 2006	September 30, 2007	September 30, 2006	September 30, 2007	September 30, 2006	September 30, 2007	September 30, 2006

Volatility	50.83%	54.60%	34.58%	41.40%
Dividend yield
Weighted-average fair value at grant date	$ 8.16	$ 5.66	$ 4.58	$ 3.55

	September 30, 2007	September 30, 2006	September 30, 2007	September 30, 2006	September 30, 2007	September 30, 2006	September 30, 2007	September 30, 2006
Expected term (in years)	5.43	4.67	0.5	0.5
Risk-free interest rate	4.81%	5.04%	5.07%	4.68%
Volatility	50.90%	54.33%	34.58%	41.40%
Dividend yield
Weighted-average fair value at grant date	$ 8.26	$ 5.44	$ 4.58	$ 3.55

To estimate volatility for the binomial-lattice model, we use methods or capabilities that are discussed in SFAS No. 123R and SAB No. 107. These methods included the implied volatility method based upon the volatilities for exchange-traded options on our stock to estimate short-term volatility, the historical method (annualized standard deviation of the instantaneous returns on Activision's stock) during the option's contractual term to estimate long-term volatility and a statistical model to estimate the transition or mean reversion from short-term volatility to long-term volatility. Based on these methods, for options granted during the three months ended September 30, 2007, the expected stock price volatility ranged from 45.56% to 51.95%, with a weighted-average volatility of 50.83% for options granted during the quarter ended September 30, 2007. For options granted during the three months ended September 30, 2006, the expected stock price volatility ranged from 50.70% to 55.84%, with a weighted-average volatility of 54.60% for options granted during the three months ended September 30, 2006.

As was the case for volatility, the risk-free rate is assumed to change during the option's contractual term. Consistent with the calculation required by a binomial lattice model, the risk-free rate reflects the interest from one time period to the next (forward rate) as opposed to the interest rate from the grant date to the given time period (spot rate). Since we do not currently pay dividends and are not expected to pay them in the future, we have assumed that the dividend yield is zero.

Edgar Filing: ACTIVISION INC /NY - Form 10-Q

The expected life of employee stock options represents the weighted-average period the stock options are expected to remain outstanding and is, as required by SFAS No. 123R, an output by the binomial-lattice model. The expected life of employee stock options depends on all of the underlying assumptions and calibration of our model. A binomial-lattice model can be viewed as assuming that employees will exercise their options when the stock price equals or exceeds an exercise boundary. The exercise boundary is not constant but continually declines as one approaches the option's expiration date. The exact placement of the exercise boundary depends on all of the model inputs as well as the measures that are used to calibrate the model to estimated measures of employees' exercise and termination behavior.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Stock-based compensation expense recognized in the Consolidated Statement of Operations is based on awards ultimately expected to vest and has been reduced for estimated forfeitures. SFAS No. 123R requires forfeitures to be estimated at the time of grant and revised, if necessary, in subsequent periods if actual forfeitures differ from those estimates.

Accuracy of Fair Value Estimates

The Company uses third-party analyses to assist in developing the assumptions used in the binomial lattice model, including model inputs and measures of employees' exercise and post-vesting termination behavior. However, we are responsible for the assumptions used to estimate the fair value of our share-based payment awards.

Our ability to accurately estimate the fair value of share-based payment awards as of the grant date depends upon the accuracy of the model and our ability to accurately forecast model inputs as long as ten years into the future. These inputs include, but are not limited to, expected stock price volatility, risk-free rate, dividend yield, and employee termination rates. Although the fair value of employee stock options is determined in accordance with SFAS No. 123R and SAB 107 using an option-pricing model, the estimates that are produced by this model may not be indicative of the fair value observed between a willing buyer/willing seller. Unfortunately, it is difficult to determine if this is the case, because markets do not currently exist that permit the active trading of employee stock option and other share-based instruments.

Stock option activity for the six months ended September 30, 2007 is as follows (in thousands, except per share amounts):

	Shares	Weighted-Average Exercise Price	Weighted-Average Remaining Contractual Term	Aggregate Intrinsic Value
Outstanding at March 31, 2007	49,429	$ 7.18

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

(Unaudited)

The aggregate intrinsic value in the table above represents the total pretax intrinsic value (i.e., the difference between our closing stock price on the last trading day of our second quarter of fiscal 2008 and the exercise price, times the number of shares) that would have been received by the option holders had all option holders exercised their options on September 30, 2007. This amount changes based on the fair market value of our common stock. Total intrinsic value of options exercised is $34.3 million and $46.4 million for the three and six months ended September 30, 2007, respectively. Total intrinsic value of options exercised is $9.0 million and $16.7 million for the three and six months ended September 30, 2006, respectively.

As of September 30, 2007, $69.7 million of total unrecognized compensation cost related to stock options is expected to be recognized over a weighted-average period of 1.8 years.

On June 8, 2007, with respect to unexercised options subject to Section 409A of the Internal Revenue Code held by employees who are not executive officers, Activision commenced an offer to amend the exercise price of these options to eliminate the grantee's Section 409A tax liability consistent with Internal Revenue Service guidance. Pursuant to the offer, which closed on July 6, 2007, the Company will make a cash payment in January 2008 to employees who have accepted the offer, totaling approximately $4.1 million, which represents the difference between the original exercise price of each amended option and the amended exercise price of each amended option. The offer with respect to all eligible options is considered a modification of those options for financial reporting purposes. Pursuant to the accounting standards in effect under SFAS No. 123R, the incremental fair value of approximately $1 million, created as a result of cash payments that become payable pursuant to the terms of the offer, was recognized as compensation expense at the expiration of the offer period on July 6, 2007.

14. Impact of Recently Issued Accounting Standards

In September 2006, the FASB issued Statement No. 157 (SFAS No. 157), Fair Value Measurements. SFAS No. 157 defines fair value, establishes a framework for measuring fair value in generally accepted accounting principles, and expands disclosures about fair value measurements. SFAS No. 157 applies to other accounting pronouncements that require or permit fair value measurements and does not require any new fair value measurements. SFAS No. 157 is effective for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2007. We do not expect that the adoption of SFAS No. 157 will have a material effect on our financial position or results of operations.

In February 2007, the FASB issued Statement No. 159, The Fair Value Option for Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities - Including an amendment of FASB Statement No. 115 (SFAS No. 159). SFAS No. 159 permits entities to choose to measure many financial instruments and certain other items at fair value that are not currently required to be measured at fair value. Subsequent unrealized gains and losses on items for which the fair value option has been elected will be reported in earnings. The provisions of SFAS No. 159 are effective for financial statements issued for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2007. We are evaluating if we will adopt the fair value option of SFAS No. 159 and what impact the adoption will have on our Consolidated Financial Statements if we adopt.

In June 2007, the FASB ratified the Emerging Issues Task Force's (EITF) consensus conclusion on EITF 07-03, Accounting for Advance Payments for Goods or Services to Be Used in Future Research and Development . EITF 07-03 addresses the diversity which exists with respect to the accounting for the non-refundable portion of a payment made by a research and development entity for future research and development activities. Under this conclusion, an entity is required to defer and capitalize non-refundable advance payments made for research and development activities until the related goods are delivered or the related services are performed. EITF 07-03 is effective for interim or annual reporting periods in fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2007 and requires prospective application for new contracts entered into after the effective date. We do not expect the adoption of EITF 07-03 to have a material impact on our Consolidated Financial Statements.

Overview

Our Business

We are a leading international publisher of interactive entertainment software products. We have built a company with a diverse portfolio of products that spans a wide range of categories and target markets and that are used on a variety of game hardware platforms and operating systems. We have created, licensed, and acquired a group of highly recognizable brands, which we market to a variety of consumer demographics. Our fiscal 2008 product portfolio includes titles such as Guitar Hero II for the Microsoft Xbox360, Spider-Man 3 The Game (Spider-Man 3), Shrek the Third, TRANSFORMERS: The Game, Enemy Territory: Quake Wars, Call of Duty 4: Modern Warfare, Tony Hawk's Proving Ground, Bee Movie Game, Spider-Man: Friend or Foe, and Guitar Hero III.

Our products cover diverse game categories including action/adventure, action sports, racing, role-playing, simulation, first-person action, music-based gaming, and strategy. Our target customer base ranges from casual players to game enthusiasts, children to adults, and mass-market consumers to value buyers. We currently offer our products primarily in versions that operate on the Sony PlayStation 2 (PS2), the Sony PlayStation 3 (PS3), the Nintendo Wii (Wii), and the Microsoft Xbox360 (Xbox360) console systems, the Nintendo Game Boy Advance (GBA), the Nintendo Dual Screen (NDS), and the Sony PlayStation Portable (PSP) hand-held devices, and the personal computer (PC). The installed base for the previous generation of hardware platforms (e.g., PS2, Microsoft Xbox) is significant and the fiscal 2006 release of the Xbox360 and the fiscal 2007 releases of the PS3 and the Wii will further expand the software market. During the third quarter of fiscal 2007, we had a successful and significant presence at the launches of the PS3 and the Wii with three launch titles for the PS3, Call of Duty 3, Marvel: Ultimate Alliance, and Tony Hawk's Project 8, and five launch titles for the Wii, Call of Duty 3, Marvel: Ultimate Alliance, World Series of Poker: Tournament of Champions, Rapala Tournament Fishing, and Tony Hawk's Downhill Jam. In the first quarter of fiscal 2008, we had strong releases of Guitar Hero II for the Xbox360, and multi platform releases of Spider-Man 3, Shrek the Third, and TRANSFORMERS: The Game in North America. In the second quarter of fiscal 2008, we continued the strong momentum of Guitar Hero II and released Guitar Hero: Rocks the 80s for the PS2. Further, we released TRANSFORMERS: The Game in Europe in the second quarter of fiscal 2008. Our plan is to continue to build on a significant presence on the PS3, Wii, and Xbox360 (the next-generation platforms) by continuing to expand the number of titles released on the next generation and hand-held platforms while continuing to market to the PS2 platform as long as economically attractive given their large installed base.

Our publishing business involves the development, marketing, and sale of products directly, by license, or through our affiliate label program with certain third-party publishers. In North America, we primarily sell our products on a direct basis to mass-market retailers, consumer electronics stores, discount warehouses, and game specialty stores. We conduct our international publishing activities through offices in the United Kingdom (UK), Germany, France, Italy, Spain, the Netherlands, Sweden, Australia, Canada, South Korea, and Japan. Our products are sold internationally on a direct-to-retail basis, through third party distribution and licensing arrangements, and through our wholly owned European distribution subsidiaries. Our distribution business consists of operations located in the UK, the Netherlands, and Germany that provide logistical and sales services to third-party publishers of interactive entertainment software, our own publishing operations, and manufacturers of interactive entertainment hardware.

Our profitability is directly affected by the mix of revenues from our publishing and distribution businesses. Operating margins realized from our publishing business are typically substantially higher than margins realized from our distribution business. Operating margins in our publishing business are affected by our ability to release highly successful or "hit" titles. Though many of these titles have substantial production or acquisition costs and marketing budgets, once a title recoups these costs, incremental net revenues directly and positively impact our operating margin. Operating margins in our distribution business are affected by the mix of hardware and software sales, with software typically producing higher margins than hardware.

Our Focus

With respect to future game development, we will continue to focus on our big propositions, products that are backed by strong brands and high quality development, for which we will provide significant marketing support.

Our fiscal 2008 releases include well-established brands, which are backed by high-profile intellectual property and/or highly anticipated motion picture releases. For example, we have a long-term relationship with Marvel Entertainment, Inc. through an exclusive licensing agreement for the Spider-Man and X-Men franchises through 2017. This agreement grants us the exclusive rights to develop and publish video games based on Marvel's comic book and movie franchises; Spider-Man and X-Men. Through September 30, 2007, games based on the Spider-Man and X-Men franchises have generated approximately $1.0 billion in net revenues worldwide. Under this agreement, in the first quarter of fiscal 2007 we released the video game, X-Men: The Official Game coinciding with the theatrical release of X-Men: The Last Stand. In the third quarter of fiscal 2007, we released Marvel: Ultimate Alliance across multiple platforms and Spider-Man: Battle for New York on the NDS and GBA. In the first quarter of fiscal 2008 we released Spider-Man 3 based on Columbia Pictures/Marvel Entertainment, Inc.'s feature film Spider-Man 3, which was released in May 2007 through our licensing agreement with Spider-Man Merchandising, LP. Our agreement with Spider-Man Merchandising, LP grants us exclusive worldwide publishing rights to publish entertainment software products based on subsequent Spider-Man movie sequels or new television series through 2017.

We also have an exclusive licensing agreement with professional skateboarder Tony Hawk. The agreement grants us exclusive rights to develop and publish video games through 2015 using Tony Hawk's name and likeness. Through September 30, 2007, we have released eight successful titles in the Tony Hawk franchise with cumulative net revenues of $1.2 billion, including the two fiscal 2007 third quarter releases, Tony Hawk's Project 8, which was released on the PSP, Xbox360, PS2, and PS3, and Tony Hawk's Downhill Jam which was released on the Wii, NDS, and GBA. According to the NPD Group, which is a provider of consumer and retail market research information for a wide range of industries, for the eighth consecutive year in 2007 the Tony Hawk franchise had a top 10 best-selling game in the U.S. for the month of December. We will continue to build on the highly successful Tony Hawk franchise with the third quarter fiscal 2008 release of Tony Hawk's Proving Ground.

We have continued our focus on establishing and maintaining relationships with talented and experienced software development and publishing teams. In June 2006, we acquired RedOctane, Inc. (RedOctane), the publisher of the popular Guitar Hero franchise. In the third quarter of fiscal 2007, we released Guitar Hero II on the PS2, which according to the NPD Group was the #1 game in dollars for the U.S. for the month of December and the #2 game overall for the third quarter of fiscal 2007. In the first quarter of fiscal 2008 we released Guitar Hero II for the Xbox360. Additionally, further strengthening the Guitar Hero franchise, in the second quarter of fiscal 2008, we released our first expansion pack, Guitar Hero: Rocks the 80s on the PS2. We plan on continuing to build on this franchise by investing in future development of Guitar Hero titles across a variety of platforms. In September 2007, we acquired U.K.-based video game developer Bizarre Creations, a leader in the racing category. With more than 10 years experience in the racing genre, Bizarre Creations was the developer of the innovative multi-million unit selling franchise, Project Gotham Racing, a critically-acclaimed series for the Xbox and Xbox360. Bizarre Creations and its games have won numerous industry awards including: Best Racing Game for Project Gotham Racing 2 from the prestigious British Academy of Film and Television Arts (BAFTA); the Industry Grand Prix Award from Develop; MCV's UK Development Team 2006 award; Best Racing/Driving Game from IGN; Game of the Year from OXM and Gamespy for Project Gotham Racing 3; and IGN's Best XBLA Game for Geometry Wars: Retro Evolved. Bizarre Creations will play role in our growth strategy as we develop intellectual property for the racing segment, expand our development capability and capacity for other genres and utilize Bizarre Creations' proprietary development technology. We also have development agreements with other top-level, third-party developers such as id Software, Inc., Splash Damage, Ltd., and Next Level Games.

We will also continue to evaluate and exploit emerging brands that we believe have potential to become successful game franchises. For example, we have a multi-year, multi-property, publishing agreement with DreamWorks Animation LLC that granted us the exclusive rights to publish video games based on DreamWorks Animation SKG's theatrical release Shrek 2, which was released in the first quarter of fiscal 2005, Shrek the Third, which was released in the second quarter of fiscal 2005, Madagascar, which was released in the first quarter of fiscal 2006, Over the Hedge, which was released in the first quarter of fiscal 2007, Shrek the Third which was released in the first quarter of fiscal 2008, and all of their respective sequels. In addition, our multi-year agreement with DreamWorks Animation LLC also grants us the exclusive video game rights to the recently released The Bee Movie and three upcoming feature films, including Kung Fu Panda, Monsters vs Aliens as well as potential future films in the Shrek franchise beyond Shrek the Third.

Additionally, we have a strategic alliance with Harrah's Entertainment, Inc. that grants us the exclusive, worldwide interactive rights to develop and publish World Series of Poker video games based on the popular World Series of Poker Tournament. In the second quarter of fiscal 2006, we released our first title under this alliance, World Series of Poker, which became the number one poker title of calendar 2005. Further building on this franchise, in the second quarter of fiscal 2007, we released our second title under this alliance, World Series of Poker: Tournament of Champions. Further, we released our third title under this alliance, World Series of Poker: Battle for the Bracelet in the second quarter of fiscal 2008.

We also continue to build on our portfolio of licensed intellectual property. In February 2006, we signed an agreement with Hasbro Properties Group granting us the exclusive global rights (excluding Japan) to develop console, hand-held, and PC games based on Hasbro's Transformers brand. We had a strong initial release of our first game in late June 2007 concurrently with the early July 2007 movie release of the live action Transformers film from DreamWorks Pictures and Paramount Pictures. In April 2006, we signed an agreement with MGM Interactive and EON Productions Ltd. granting us the exclusive rights to develop and publish interactive entertainment games based on the James Bond license through 2014. In April 2006, we signed a multi-year agreement with Mattel, Inc. which grants us the exclusive worldwide distribution rights for the catalog of video games based on Mattel, Inc.'s Barbie brand on all platforms. In the third quarter of fiscal 2007, we distributed six Barbie titles: Barbie in the 12 Dancing Princesses, The Barbie Diaries: High School Mystery, Barbie Fashion Show, Barbie Horse Adventures: Mystery Ride, Barbie and the Magic of Pegasus, and Barbie as the Princess and the Pauper. Based on the success of this distribution, we signed multi-year license agreements with Mattel, Inc. in January 2007 which grant us the exclusive worldwide rights to develop and publish new video games based on Mattel Inc.'s Barbie and Hot Wheels brands on all platforms. In the second quarter of fiscal 2008, we released Hot Wheels: Beat That!. In September 2006, we entered into a distribution agreement with MTV Networks Kids and Family Group's Nickelodeon, a division of Viacom Inc., to be the exclusive distributor of three new Nick Jr. PC CD-ROM titles, published by Nickelodeon and based on the top preschool series on commercial television, Dora The Explorer, The Backyardigans, and Go, Diego, Go!.

We are utilizing these developer relationships, new intellectual property acquisitions, new original intellectual property creations, and our existing library of intellectual property to further focus our game development on product lines that will deliver significant, lasting, and recurring revenues and operating profits.

Critical Accounting Policies and Estimates

We have identified the policies below as critical to our business operations and the understanding of our financial results. The impact and any associated risks related to these policies on our business operations is discussed throughout Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations where such policies affect our reported and expected financial results. For a detailed discussion on the application of these and other accounting policies, see Note 1 to the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 1. The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Revenue Recognition. We recognize revenue from the sale of our products upon the transfer of title and risk of loss to our customers, and once any performance obligations have been completed. Certain products are sold to customers with a street date (the earliest date these products may be sold by retailers). For these products we recognize revenue on the later of the street date or the sale date. Revenue from product sales is recognized after deducting the estimated allowance for returns and price protection. With respect to license agreements that provide customers the right to make multiple copies in exchange for guaranteed amounts, revenue is recognized upon delivery of a master copy. Per copy royalties on sales that exceed the guarantee are recognized as earned.

Some of our software products provide limited online features at no additional cost to the consumer. Generally, we consider such features to be incidental to the overall product offering and an inconsequential deliverable. Accordingly, we do not defer any revenue related to products containing these limited online features. In instances where online features or additional functionality is considered a substantive deliverable in addition to the software product, the company contemplates such when determining the appropriate revenue recognition. This evaluation is performed for each software product when it is released. We determined that one of our software titles released this quarter, Enemy Territory: Quake Wars (which is primarily an online multiplayer PC game), contains online functionality that constitutes a more-than-inconsequential separate service deliverable in addition to the product, principally because of its importance to game play. As such, our performance obligations for this title extend beyond the sale of the game, which is unique compared to other prior titles. Vendor-specific objective evidence of fair value (VSOE) does not exist for the online functionality, as we do not separately charge for this component of the title. As a result, we are recognizing all of the revenue from the sale of this title ratably over an estimated service period, which is estimated to be six months beginning the month after shipment. In addition, we are deferring the costs of sales for this title. Cost of sales includes: manufacturing costs, software royalties and amortization, and intellectual property licenses. Overall, online play functionality is still an emerging area for us. As we move forward, we will monitor this developing functionality and its significance for our products. Our assessment of our obligations with respect to this functionality and the resulting accounting may change in the future.

With respect to online transactions, such as electronic downloads of titles or product add-ons, revenue is recognized when the fee is paid by the online customer to purchase online content and we are notified by the online retailer that the product has been downloaded. In addition, in order to recognize revenue for both product sales and licensing transactions, persuasive evidence of an arrangement must exist and collection of the related receivable must be probable.

Sales incentives or other consideration given by us to our customers is accounted for in accordance with the Financial Accounting Standards Board's Emerging Issues Task Force (EITF) Issue 01-9, Accounting for Consideration Given by a Vendor to a Customer (Including a Reseller of the Vendor's Products). In accordance with EITF Issue 01-9, sales incentives and other consideration that are considered adjustments of the selling price of our products, such as rebates and product placement fees, are reflected as reductions of revenue. Sales incentives and other consideration that represent costs incurred by us for assets or services received, such as the appearance of our products in a customer's national circular ad, are reflected as sales and marketing expenses.

Allowances for Returns, Price Protection, Doubtful Accounts, and Inventory Obsolescence. In determining the appropriate unit shipments to our customers, we benchmark our titles using historical and industry data. We closely monitor and analyze the historical performance of our various titles, the performance of products released by other publishers and the anticipated timing of other releases in order to assess future demands of current and upcoming titles. Initial volumes shipped upon title launch and subsequent reorders are evaluated to ensure that quantities are sufficient to meet the demands from the retail markets but at the same time, are controlled to prevent excess inventory in the channel.

We may permit product returns from, or grant price protection to, our customers under certain conditions. In general, price protection refers to the circumstances when we elect to decrease the wholesale price of a product by a certain amount and, when granted and applicable, allows customers a credit against amounts owed by such customers to us with respect to open and/or future invoices. The conditions our customers must meet to be granted the right to return products or price protection are, among other things, compliance with applicable payment terms, and consistent delivery to us of inventory and sell-through reports. We may also consider other factors, including the facilitation of slow-moving inventory and other market factors. Management must make estimates of potential future product returns and price protection related to current period product revenue. We estimate the amount of future returns and price protection for current period product revenue utilizing historical experience and information regarding inventory levels and the demand and acceptance of our products by the end consumer. The following factors are used to estimate the amount of future returns and price protection for a particular title: historical performance of titles in similar genres, historical performance of the hardware platform, historical performance of the brand, console hardware life cycle, Activision sales force and retail customer feedback, industry pricing, weeks of on-hand retail channel inventory, absolute quantity of on-hand retail channel inventory, our warehouse on-hand inventory levels, the title's recent sell-through history (if available), marketing trade programs, and competing titles. The relative importance of these factors varies among titles depending upon, among other items, genre, platform, seasonality, and sales strategy. Significant management judgments and estimates must be made and used in connection with establishing the allowance for returns and price protection in any accounting period. Based upon historical experience we believe our estimates are reasonable. However, actual returns and price protection could vary materially from our allowance estimates due to a number of reasons including, among others, a lack of consumer acceptance of a title, the release in the same period of a similarly themed title by a competitor, or technological obsolescence due to the emergence of new hardware platforms. Material differences may result in the amount and timing of our revenue for any period if factors or market conditions change or if management makes different judgments or utilizes different estimates in determining the allowances for returns and price protection. For example, a 1% change in our September 30, 2007 allowance for returns and price protection would impact net revenues by $1.0 million.

Similarly, management must make estimates of the uncollectibility of our accounts receivable. In estimating the allowance for doubtful accounts, we analyze the age of current outstanding account balances, historical bad debts, customer concentrations, customer creditworthiness, current economic trends, and changes in our customers' payment terms and their economic condition, as well as whether we can obtain sufficient credit insurance. Any significant changes in any of these criteria would affect management's estimates in establishing our allowance for doubtful accounts.

We value inventory at the lower of cost or market. We regularly review inventory quantities on hand and in the retail channel and record a provision for excess or obsolete inventory based on the future expected demand for our products. Significant changes in demand for our products would impact management's estimates in establishing our inventory provision.

Software Development Costs. Software development costs include payments made to independent software developers under development agreements, as well as direct costs incurred for internally developed products.

We account for software development costs in accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standard (SFAS) No. 86, Accounting for the Costs of Computer Software to Be Sold, Leased, or Otherwise Marketed. Software development costs are capitalized once the technological feasibility of a product is established and such costs are determined to be recoverable. Technological feasibility of a product encompasses both technical design documentation and game design documentation. For products where proven technology exists, this may occur early in the development cycle. Technological feasibility is evaluated on a product-by-product basis. Prior to a product's release, we expense, as part of cost of sales software royalties and amortization, capitalized costs when we believe such amounts are not recoverable. Capitalized costs for those products that are cancelled or abandoned are charged to product development expense in the period of cancellation. Amounts related to software development which are not capitalized are charged immediately to product development expense. We evaluate the future recoverability of capitalized amounts on a quarterly basis. The recoverability of capitalized software development costs is evaluated based on the expected performance of the specific products for which the costs relate. Criteria used to evaluate expected product performance include: historical performance of comparable products using comparable technology; orders for the product prior to its release; and estimated performance of a sequel product based on the performance of the product on which the sequel is based.

Commencing upon product release, capitalized software development costs are amortized to cost of sales software royalties and amortization based on the ratio of current revenues to total projected revenues, generally resulting in an amortization period of six months or less. For products that have been released in prior periods, we evaluate the future recoverability of capitalized amounts on a quarterly basis. The primary evaluation criterion is actual title performance.

Significant management judgments and estimates are utilized in the assessment of when technological feasibility is established, as well as in the ongoing assessment of the recoverability of capitalized costs. In evaluating the recoverability of capitalized costs, the assessment of expected product performance utilizes forecasted sales amounts and estimates of additional costs to be incurred. If revised forecasted or actual product sales are less than, and/or revised forecasted or actual costs are greater than, the original forecasted amounts utilized in the initial recoverability analysis, the net realizable value may be lower than originally estimated in any given quarter, which could result in an impairment charge.

Intellectual Property Licenses. Intellectual property license costs represent license fees paid to intellectual property rights holders for use of their trademarks, copyrights, software, technology, or other intellectual property or proprietary rights in the development of our products. Depending upon the agreement with the rights holder, we may obtain the rights to use acquired intellectual property in multiple products over multiple years, or alternatively, for a single product.

We evaluate the future recoverability of capitalized intellectual property licenses on a quarterly basis. The recoverability of capitalized intellectual property license costs is evaluated based on the expected performance of the specific products in which the licensed trademark or copyright is to be used. As many of our intellectual property licenses extend for multiple products over multiple years, we also assess the recoverability of capitalized intellectual property license costs based on certain qualitative factors such as the success of other products and/or entertainment vehicles utilizing the intellectual property, whether there are any future planned theatrical releases or television series based on the intellectual property, and the rights holder's continued promotion and exploitation of the intellectual property. Prior to the related product's release, we expense, as part of cost of sales intellectual property licenses, capitalized intellectual property costs when we believe such amounts are not recoverable. Capitalized intellectual property costs for those products that are cancelled or abandoned are charged to product development expense in the period of cancellation. Criteria used to evaluate expected product performance include: historical performance of comparable products using comparable technology; orders for the product prior to its release; and estimated performance of a sequel product based on the performance of the product on which the sequel is based.

Commencing upon the related product's release, capitalized intellectual property license costs are amortized to cost of sales intellectual property licenses based on the ratio of current revenues for the specific product to total projected revenues for all products in which the licensed property will be utilized. As intellectual property license contracts may extend for multiple years, the amortization of capitalized intellectual property license costs relating to such contracts may extend beyond one year. For intellectual property included in products that have been released, we evaluate the future recoverability of capitalized amounts on a quarterly basis. The primary evaluation criterion is actual title performance.

Significant management judgments and estimates are utilized in the assessment of the recoverability of capitalized costs. In evaluating the recoverability of capitalized costs, the assessment of expected product performance utilizes forecasted sales amounts and estimates of additional costs to be incurred. If revised forecasted or actual product sales are less than, and/or revised forecasted or actual costs are greater than, the original forecasted amounts utilized in the initial recoverability analysis, the net realizable value may be lower than originally estimated in any given quarter, which could result in an impairment charge. Additionally, as noted above, as many of our intellectual property licenses extend for multiple products over multiple years, we also assess the recoverability of capitalized intellectual property license costs based on certain qualitative factors such as the success of other products and/or entertainment vehicles utilizing the intellectual property, whether there are any future planned theatrical releases or television series based on the intellectual property and the rights holder's continued promotion and exploitation of the intellectual property. Material differences may result in the amount and timing of charges for any period if management makes different judgments or utilizes different estimates in evaluating these qualitative factors.

Stock-based Compensation Expense

On April 1, 2006, we adopted Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 123 (revised 2004), Share-Based Payment, (SFAS No. 123R) which requires the measurement and recognition of compensation expense for all share-based payment awards made to our employees and directors including employee stock options and employee stock purchases related to the Employee Stock Purchase Plan based on estimated fair values. Stock-based compensation expense recognized under SFAS No. 123R for the three and six months ended September 30, 2007 was $6.9 million and $15.0 million, respectively and for the three and six months ended September 30, 2006 was $4.9 million and $10.7 million, respectively. See Note 13 to the consolidated financial statements for additional information.

The Company estimates the value of employee stock options on the date of grant using a binomial-lattice model. The fair value of a share-based payment as of the grant date estimated by an option pricing model depends upon our future stock price as well as assumptions concerning expected volatility, risk-free interest rate, and risk-adjusted stock return, as well as measures of employees' forfeiture, exercise, and post-vesting termination behavior. Statistical methods were used to estimate employee type specific termination rates. These termination rates, in turn, were used to model the number of options that are expected to vest and post-vesting termination behavior. Employee type specific estimates of Expected Time-To-Exercise (ETTE) were used to reflect employee exercise behavior. ETTE was estimated by using statistical procedures to first estimate the conditional probability of exercise occurring during each time period, conditional on the option surviving to that time period. These probabilities were then used to estimate ETTE. The model was calibrated by adjusting parameters controlling exercise and post-vesting termination behavior so that the measures output by the model matched values of these measures that were estimated from historical data. The weighted-average estimated value of employee stock options granted during the three months ended September 30, 2007 was $8.16 per share using the binomial-lattice model with the following weighted-average assumptions:

	Three Months Ended September 30, 2007	Six Months Ended September 30, 2007
Expected volatility	50.83%	50.90%
Risk-free interest rate	4.81%	4.81%
Expected dividends

To estimate volatility for the binomial-lattice model, we use methods or capabilities that are discussed in SFAS No. 123R and Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 107 (SAB 107). These methods included the implied volatility method based upon the volatilities for exchange-traded options on our stock to estimate short-term volatility, the historical method (annualized standard deviation of the instantaneous returns on Activision's stock) during the option's contractual term to estimate long-term volatility and a statistical model to estimate the transition or mean reversion from short-term volatility to long-term volatility. Based on these methods, for options granted during the three months ended September 30, 2007, the expected stock price volatility ranged from 45.56% to 51.95%, with a weighted-average volatility of 50.83% for options granted during the quarter ended September 30, 2007. For options granted during the three months ended September 30, 2006, the expected stock price volatility ranged from 50.70% to 55.84%, with a weighted-average volatility of 54.60% for options granted during the three months ended September 30, 2006.

As was the case for volatility, the risk-free rate is assumed to change during the option's contractual period. As required by a binomial lattice model, the risk-free rate reflects the interest from one time period to the next (forward rate) as opposed to the interest rate from the grant date to the given time period (spot rate). Since we do not currently pay dividends and do not currently expect to pay them in the future, we have assumed that the dividend yield is zero.

Edgar Filing: ACTIVISION INC /NY - Form 10-Q

The expected life of employee stock options represents the weighted-average period the stock options are expected to remain outstanding and is, as required by SFAS No. 123R, output by the binomial-lattice model. The expected life of employee stock options depends on all of the underlying assumptions and calibration of our model. The binomial-lattice model assumes that employees will exercise options when the stock price equals or exceeds an exercise boundary. The exercise boundary is not constant but continually declines as one approaches the option's expiration date. The exact placement of the exercise boundary depends on all of the model inputs as well as the measures that were used to calibrate the model to estimated measures of employees' exercise and termination behavior.

Stock-based compensation expense recognized in the Consolidated Statement of Operations is based on awards ultimately expected to vest and has been reduced for estimated forfeitures. SFAS No. 123R requires forfeitures to be estimated at the time of grant and revised, if necessary, in subsequent periods if actual forfeitures differ from those estimates.

If factors change and we employ different assumptions in the application of SFAS No. 123R in future periods, the compensation expense that we record under SFAS No. 123R may differ significantly from what we have recorded in the current period.

Selected Consolidated Statements of Operations Data

The following table sets forth certain Consolidated Statements of Operations data for the periods indicated as a percentage of total net revenues and also breaks down net revenues by territory, business segment and platform, as well as operating income (loss) by business segment as a percentage of segment net revenues (amounts in thousands):

Results of Operations Three and Six Months Ended September 30, 2007 and 2006*Net Revenues*

We primarily derive revenue from sales of packaged interactive software games designed for play on video game consoles (such as the PS3, PS2, Xbox360, and Wii), PCs, and hand-held game devices (such as the GBA, NDS, and PSP). We also derive revenue from our distribution business in Europe, which provides logistical and sales services to third-party publishers of interactive entertainment software, to our own publishing operations, and to third-party manufacturers of interactive entertainment hardware.

The following table details our consolidated net revenues by business segment and our publishing net revenues by territory for the three months ended September 30, 2007 and 2006 (in thousands):

Consolidated Net Revenues	$ 317,746	$ 188,172	$ 129,574	69%

Consolidated net revenues increased 69% from $188.2 million for the three months ended September 30, 2006 to $317.7 million for the three months ended September 30, 2007.

Commencing with this fiscal quarter, we have determined that for one of our titles released this quarter, Enemy Territory: Quake Wars (which is primarily an online multiplayer PC game), that all of the net revenue from the sale of this title will be recognized on a deferred basis straight-line over an estimated service period, which we estimate to be six months beginning in the month after shipment. As a result, $8.9 million of net revenues was not included for the three months ended September 30, 2007. We do not anticipate any material amounts to be deferred from fiscal year 2008 into fiscal year 2009. Further, we do not anticipate deferrals for any other titles in fiscal year 2008.

Overall, the increase of consolidated net revenues for the three months ended September 30, 2007, was primarily the result of the following:

Our total publishing net revenues increased by $128.4 million. This was primarily due to the worldwide release of Guitar Hero: Rocks the 80s for PS2, and the Europe release of TRANSFORMERS: The Game in the second quarter of fiscal 2008. Further, the continued momentum from Guitar Hero II, and the North American and Asian release of TRANSFORMERS: The Game late in the first quarter of fiscal 2008 contributed to the increase in overall publishing net revenues. This compares to the release of an affiliate title, LucasArts Lego Star Wars II: The Original Trilogy in Europe in the second quarter of fiscal 2007.

International net revenues were impacted by a year over year strengthening of the Euro (EUR), Australian Dollar (AUD), and Great Britain Pound (GBP) in relation to the United States Dollar (USD). Foreign exchange rates increased reported consolidated net revenues by approximately $12.5 million for the three months ended September 30, 2007. Excluding the impact of changing foreign currency rates, our consolidated net revenues increased 62% year over year.

Consolidated net revenues increased 116% from $376.2 million for the six months ended September 30, 2006 to $813.2 million for the six months ended September 30, 2007.

Commencing with this fiscal quarter, we have determined that for one of our titles released this quarter, Enemy Territory: Quake Wars (which is primarily an online multiplayer PC game), that all of the net revenue from the sale of this title will be recognized on a deferred basis straight-line over an estimated service period, which we estimate to be six months beginning in the month after shipment. We do not anticipate any material amounts to be deferred from fiscal year 2008 into fiscal year 2009. Further, we do not anticipate deferrals for any other titles in fiscal year 2008.

Overall, the increase of consolidated net revenues, for the six months ended September 30, 2007, was primarily the result of the following:

Our overall publishing net revenues increased by $422.8 million. This was primarily attributable to the successful worldwide release of titles for the first six months of fiscal 2008, such as, Guitar Hero II for Xbox360, Guitar Hero: Rocks the 80s for PS2, Spider-Man 3, TRANSFORMERS: The Game, and Shrek the Third. The continued momentum of Guitar Hero II for PS2 which was released in the third quarter of fiscal 2007 further contributed to the increase in consolidated net revenues. This compares to the releases in the first six months of fiscal 2007 of Over the Hedge, X-Men: The Official Game, and the release of an affiliate title, LucasArts Lego Star Wars II: The Original Trilogy in Europe.

International net revenues were impacted by a year over year strengthening of the Euro (EUR), Australian Dollar (AUD), and Great Britain Pound (GBP) in relation to the USD. Foreign exchange rates increased reported consolidated net revenues by approximately $27.6 million for the six months ended September 30, 2007. Excluding the impact of changing foreign currency rates, our consolidated net revenues increased 109% year over year.

North America publishing net revenues increased 118% from $74.2 million for the three months ended September 30, 2006 to $161.8 million for the three months ended September 30, 2007. The increase was primarily attributable to the releases of Guitar Hero: Rocks the 80s on the PS2 in the second quarter of fiscal 2008, and continued strong momentum from our key title releases, Guitar Hero II for the Xbox360 and TRANSFORMERS: The Game in the first quarter of fiscal 2008, and Guitar Hero II for the PS2 released in the third quarter of fiscal 2007. There were no major releases in North America in the second quarter of fiscal 2007.

For the six months ended September 30, 2007, North America publishing net revenues were $471.3 million, an increase of 171% from $173.9 million for the six months ended September 30, 2006. The increase was mainly due to the strong performance of several key titles, Guitar Hero II for the Xbox360, Spider-Man 3, Shrek the Third, and TRANSFORMERS: The Game. Publishing net revenues were further increased by the strong momentum of Guitar Hero II for the PS2 released in the third quarter of fiscal 2007. This compares to the six months ended September 30, 2006 when we released Over the Hedge and X-Men: The Official Game.

According to the NPD Group, we have three of the top 10 titles in the U.S. for the quarter ended September 30, 2007, Guitar Hero II, Guitar Hero: Rocks the 80s, and TRANSFORMERS: The Game which is also the #1 action title. TRANSFORMERS: Decepticon and TRANSFORMERS: Autobots were ranked the #1 third party NDS titles for the second quarter of fiscal 2008. The Guitar Hero franchise is the #1 best-selling franchise in the U.S. for the calendar year 2007 to date, and the #3 franchise in the U.S. for the quarter ended September 30, 2007, according to the NPD Group.

North America publishing net revenues also increased as a percentage of consolidated net revenues from 40% and 46% for the three and six months ended September 30, 2006, respectively, to 51% and 58% for the three and six months ended September 30, 2007, respectively. The increases in the percentages of total consolidated net revenues are a result of the stronger net revenue growth for the publishing segment than that of the distribution segment during the same period.

International publishing net revenues increased by 80% from $51.2 million for the three months ended September 30, 2006, to $92.0 million for the three months ended September 30, 2007. $8.9 million of net revenues was not included as of result of deferring net revenues for the three months ended September 30, 2007. Our international publishing operations recorded an increase of net revenue of 80%, mainly resulting from the release of TRANSFORMERS: The Game in Europe in the second quarter of fiscal 2008, concurrent with the movie release dates in those geographies, and the continued momentum from the release of TRANSFORMERS: The Game in Asia late in the first quarter of fiscal 2008, which outperformed our fiscal 2007 second quarter releases of Over the Hedge in several European countries and an affiliate title, LucasArts Lego Star Wars II: The Original Trilogy in Europe. International publishing net revenues were further increased by a quarter over quarter strengthening of the EUR, AUD, and GBP in relation to the USD of approximately $7.8 million for the three months ended September 30, 2007 as compared to the three months ended September 30, 2006. Excluding the impact of changing foreign currency rates, our international publishing net revenues increased 64% year over year. As a percentage of consolidated net revenues, international publishing net revenues increased from 27% for the three months ended September 30, 2006 to 29% for the three months ended September 30, 2007. The increases in the percentages of total consolidated net revenues are a result of the stronger net revenue growth for the publishing segment than that of the distribution segment during the same period.

International publishing net revenues increased from $86.3 million for the six months ended September 30, 2006 to $211.6 million for the six months ended September 30, 2007. $8.9 million of net revenues was not included as of result of deferring net revenues for the six months ended September 30, 2007. The significant increase in international publishing net revenues was primarily attributable to our European publishing business which released, Spider-Man 3, Shrek the Third, Guitar Hero II for the Xbox360 and TRANSFORMERS: The Game. This compares to releases of Over the Hedge, X-Men: The Official Game, and an affiliate title, LucasArts Lego Star Wars II: The Original Trilogy in Europe in the first six months of fiscal 2007. International publishing net revenues was further increased by the year over year strengthening of the EUR, AUD, and GBP in relation to the USD of approximately $17.8 million for the six months ended September 30, 2007 as compared to the six months ended September 30, 2006. Excluding the impact of changing foreign currency rates, our international publishing net revenues increased 125% year over year. As a percentage of consolidated net revenues, international publishing net revenues increased from 23% for the six months ended September 30, 2006 to 26% for the six months ended September 30, 2007. The increases in the percentage of total consolidated net revenues are a result of the stronger net revenue growth for the publishing segment than that of the distribution segment during the same period.

Net revenues from sales of titles for the PC decreased 20% from $18.1 million or 14% of publishing net revenues for the three months ended September 30, 2006 to $14.5 million or 6% of publishing net revenues for the three months ended September 30, 2007. $8.9 million of net revenues, or 4% of publishing net revenues, was not included as of result of deferring net revenues for the three months ended September 30, 2007. We released TRANSFORMERS: The Game on the PC in Europe in the second quarter of fiscal 2008. This compares to the release of our European affiliate title, LucasArts Lego Star Wars II: The Original Trilogy in the second quarter of fiscal 2007.

Net revenues from sales of titles for the PC decreased 21% from $36.1 million or 14% of publishing net revenues for the six months ended September 30, 2006 to $28.4 million or 4% of publishing net revenues for the six months ended September 30, 2007. $8.9 million of net revenues, or 1% of publishing net revenues, was not included as of result of deferring net revenues for the six months ended September 30, 2007. The decreases were due to a stronger base period of our first two quarters of fiscal 2007 releases which consisted of The Movies: Stunts and Effects, X-Men: The Official Game, Over the Hedge, and our European affiliate title LucasArts Lego Star Wars II: The Original Trilogy. This compares to the first six months of fiscal 2008 where net revenues were primarily derived from Spider-Man 3, Shrek the Third, and TRANSFORMERS: The Game.

The PS3 was released in North America in November 2006 and in Europe in March 2007. For the three months ended September 30, 2007, we released TRANSFORMERS: The Game on PS3 in Europe. For the six months ended September 30, 2007, PS3 net revenues were primarily derived from the worldwide sales of Spider-Man 3 and TRANSFORMERS: The Game. These titles were released at premium retail pricing (i.e. $59.99 in the United States).

Over the last six months, Sony has cut prices and introduced lower priced models for the PS3. It is uncertain how these price reductions will impact consumer demand for the platform. However, we expect net revenues from sales of titles for the PS3 to increase as the installed base of hardware grows. We have a robust slate of titles for the PS3 and expect net revenues from this platform to represent a larger proportion of total publishing net revenues for the remainder of fiscal 2008.

Sony PlayStation 2 Net Revenues (in thousands)

Net revenues from sales of titles and accessories (primarily consisting of hardware associated with Guitar Hero II) for the PS2 increased 112% from $56.0 million for the three months ended September 30, 2006 to $118.6 million for the three months ended September 30, 2007. For the six months ended September 30, 2007 net revenues from sales of titles for the PS2 were $265.4 million, an increase of 147% from the six months ended September 30, 2006. The strong performance of TRANSFORMERS: The Game released in Europe and the release of Guitar Hero: Rocks the 80s in the second quarter of fiscal 2008, and continued strong sales of Guitar Hero II for PS2 contributed to the increase in PS2 net revenues. This compares to the release of an affiliate label title, LucasArts Lego Star Wars II: The Original Trilogy in the second quarter of fiscal 2007. For the six months ended September 30, 2007, the increase in absolute dollars is primarily due to continued momentum for our fiscal 2007 third quarter title, Guitar Hero II for PS2 (game and accessories), as well as strong performance of our worldwide releases of Spider-Man 3, Shrek the Third, Tony Hawk's Downhill Jam, Guitar Hero: Rocks the 80s, and TRANSFORMERS: The Game during the six months ended September 30, 2007. This compares to the releases during the first six months of fiscal 2007 of our PS2 versions of Over the Hedge, X-Men: The Official Game, and Lego Star Wars II: The Original Trilogy in Europe. As a percentage of publishing net revenues, net revenues from the sale of titles for the PS2 increased from 45% to 47% for the quarters ended September 30, 2006 and 2007, respectively. The increase is the result of the release of Guitar Hero: Rocks the 80s exclusively on the PS2 in the second quarter of fiscal 2008. Net revenues from the sale of titles for the PS2 as a percentage of publishing net revenues decreased from 41% to 39% for the six months ended September 30, 2006 and 2007, respectively. This is due to the strong fiscal 2008 first quarter performance of the Xbox360 platform with the release of Guitar Hero II for Xbox360, and a shift to the next generation PS3 platform of 5% of total publishing net revenues.

Although we expect net revenues from sales of titles for the PS2 to decline over time as consumers transition to next generation platforms, we continue to expect significant net revenues for PS2 for fiscal 2008 as we plan to develop and release many of our key titles on this platform.

The Xbox360, the first of the next-generation hardware, was released in November 2005. For the three months ended September 30, 2007, net revenues from sales of titles for the Xbox360 increased to $58.1 million from $18.3 million for the three months ended September 30, 2006. Net revenues from sales of titles for the Xbox360 increased from $30.1 million for the six months ended September 30, 2006 to $208.7 million for the six months ended September 30, 2007. As a percentage of publishing net revenues, net revenues from the sale of titles for the Xbox360 increased from 14% to 23% for the quarter ended September 30, 2006 and 2007, respectively, and from 12% to 31% for the six months ended September 30, 2006 and 2007, respectively. The significant growth of the installed base since the introduction of the Xbox360 and our successful title releases contributed to the increase in Xbox360 net revenues. The increase in net revenues on the Xbox360 is the result from our Xbox360 release of TRANSFORMERS: The Game in Europe in the second quarter of fiscal 2008 and the continued net revenues from Guitar Hero II released in the first quarter of fiscal 2008. This compares to the release of the European affiliate title release of LucasArts Lego Star Wars II: The Original Trilogy in the second quarter of fiscal 2007. We continued to increase our presence in the Xbox360 by publishing Guitar Hero II (game and accessories), Spider-Man 3, Shrek the Third, and TRANSFORMERS: The Game during the first two quarters of fiscal 2008. For the same period of fiscal 2007, we released X-Men: The Official Game and Lego Star Wars II: The Original Trilogy.

Microsoft announced reduction of the retail price of Xbox360 by $50 in the United States market and by 50 euros in European markets on August 2007. It is uncertain how this price reduction will impact consumer demand for the platform. However, we expect net revenues from sales of titles for the Xbox360 to increase significantly in fiscal 2008 as compared to fiscal 2007 due to the growing installed base and our strong slate of Xbox360 titles.

The Nintendo Wii was released in November 2006 and quickly gained strong consumer acceptance due to its innovative technology and mass market appeal. We released TRANSFORMERS: The Game in Europe and a value title Hot Wheels: Beat That! for the Wii in the second quarter of fiscal 2008 which are the primary revenue drivers for the three months ended September 30, 2007. For the six months ended September 30, 2007, net revenues were derived from Spider-Man 3, Shrek the Third, TRANSFORMERS: The Game, Hot Wheels: Beat That! and continued catalog sales of our fiscal 2007 third quarter releases, Call of Duty 3, Marvel: Ultimate Alliance, World Series of Poker: Tournament of Champions, Rapala Tournament Fishing, and Tony Hawk's Downhill Jam.

We expect net revenues from sales of titles for the Wii to significantly increase with the growth of the installed base and our strong slate of key titles for fiscal 2008.

Six Months Ended	95,686	14%	49,786	19%	45,900	92%

Net revenues from sales of titles for hand-held platforms for the three and six months ended September 30, 2007 increased 68% and 92% from the same period of prior fiscal year. Net revenues increased from $23.2 million and $49.8 million for the three and six months ended September 30, 2006, respectively, to $39.1 million and $95.7 million for the three and six months ended September 30, 2007, respectively. The increase in absolute dollars is primarily due to the fiscal 2008 second quarter European releases of two products, TRANSFORMERS: Decepticon and TRANSFORMERS: Autobots exclusively on the NDS, TRANSFORMERS: The Game on the PSP, and the release of several value titles, Animal Genius, Puppy Luv Spa & Resort, and Jewel Quest Expedition on the NDS. Further, we released Spider-Man 3, Shrek the Third, and two products, TRANSFORMERS: Decepticon and TRANSFORMERS: Autobots exclusively on the NDS and TRANSFORMERS: The Game on the PSP in North America and Asia in the first quarter of fiscal 2008. This compares to the second quarter of fiscal 2007, when we had new releases of World Series of Poker: Tournament of Champions and Rapala Trophies in North America on the PSP and our European affiliate title, LucasArts Lego Star Wars II: The Original Trilogy on the NDS and the GBA, and our first quarter fiscal 2007 releases of Over the Hedge and X-Men: The Official Game on the PSP and GBA.

With the installed base of the PSP and NDS continuing to increase, we expect that fiscal 2008 hand-held net revenues will continue to increase year over year.

Overall

The platform mix of our future publishing net revenues will likely be impacted by a number of factors, including the ability of hardware manufacturers to continue to increase their installed hardware base for the next-generation platforms, as well as the performance of key product releases. According to the NPD Group, Activision was the #2 third party publisher in the United States on next-generation platforms for the six months ended September 30, 2007. We expect that net revenues from console titles will continue to represent the largest component of our publishing net revenues with Xbox360 having the largest percentage of that business in fiscal 2008 due to its larger installed hardware base and our strong slate of titles. We expect significant growth in net revenues from PS3, Xbox360 and Wii next-generation console systems and a decrease in the percentage of PS2 business in fiscal 2008. Our net revenues from PC and hand-held titles will be primarily driven by our product release schedule.

A significant portion of our revenues and profits are derived from a relatively small number of popular titles and brands each year, so revenues and profits are significantly affected by our ability to release highly successful hit titles. For example, for the three months ended September 30, 2007, 58% of our consolidated net revenues and 72% of publishing net revenues were derived from net revenues from the releases of Guitar Hero II (including Guitar Hero: Rocks the 80s), Spider-Man 3, Shrek the Third and TRANSFORMERS: The Game. For the six months ended September 30, 2007, 67% of our consolidated net revenues and 80% of publishing net revenues were derived from net revenues from those same titles. Though many of our titles have substantial production or acquisition costs and marketing budgets, once a title recoups these costs, incremental net revenues directly and positively impact operating profits resulting in a disproportionate amount of operating income being derived from these select titles. We expect that a limited number of titles and brands will continue to produce a disproportionately large amount of our net revenues and profits.

Three key factors that could affect future publishing and distribution net revenue performance are console hardware pricing, software pricing, and transitions in console platforms. As console hardware moves through its life cycle, hardware manufacturers typically enact price reductions. Reductions in the price of console hardware typically result in an increase in the installed base of hardware owned by consumers. Historically, we have also seen that lower console hardware prices put downward pressure on software pricing. However, we expect console software launch pricing for the Xbox360 and PS3 to hold at current levels as a result of the strong consumer acceptance of these price points that has occurred since the launch of the next-generation platforms and the greater product capability and value of next generation titles. We continue to expect software pricing on the PS2 to hold at $39.99 with continued momentum on this platform.

Distribution Net Revenues (in thousands)

	September 30, 2007	% of Consolidated Net Revenues	September 30, 2006	% of Consolidated Net Revenues	Increase/ (Decrease)	Percent Change

Six Months Ended	130,220	16%	116,075	31%	14,145	12%

Distribution net revenues for the three months ended September 30, 2007 increased 2% from the same period of the prior fiscal year. For the six months ended September 30, 2007 distribution net revenues increased 12% from the same period of prior fiscal year. Distribution net revenues as a percentage of consolidated net revenues decreased from 33% and 31% for the three and six months ended September 30, 2006, respectively, to 20% and 16% for the three and six months ended September 30, 2007, respectively, primarily due to the significant increase in publishing net revenues. Foreign exchange rates increased reported distribution net revenues by approximately $4.7 million and $9.8 million for the three months and six months ended September 30, 2007, respectively. Excluding the impact of changing foreign currency rates, distribution net revenues decreased 5% and increased 4% year over year from the three and six months ended September 30, 2006, respectively. The increase in absolute dollars of distribution net revenues for the three and six months ended September 30, 2007 is primarily due to the acquisition of a significant new customer and the effect of foreign currency rates, more than offsetting the termination of a significant customer at the end of July.

The mix of distribution net revenues between hardware and software sales varied slightly year over year with approximately 20% of distribution net revenues from hardware sales in the first two quarters of fiscal 2008 as compared to 16% in the prior year first two quarters. Prior year results included sales for the PSP, NDS, and Xbox360 hardware platforms. Current year first and second quarters net revenues included PS3, NDS, Wii, and Xbox360 hardware sales. The mix of future distribution net revenues will be driven by a number of factors including the occurrence of further hardware price reductions instituted by hardware manufacturers, and our ability to establish and maintain distribution agreements with hardware manufacturers, third-party software publishers and retail customers. For the remainder of fiscal 2008, we expect distribution net revenues to decrease in absolute dollars and as a percentage of consolidated net revenues when compared to fiscal 2007. This is a result of having exited a line of distribution business that was not meaningful to earnings and the strong growth of our publishing business.

Cost of sales product costs represented 48% and 68% of consolidated net revenues for the three months ended September 30, 2007 and 2006, respectively. $0.4 million was not included in the cost of sales product costs for the three months ended September 30, 2007 as a result of deferring cost of sales product costs. The decrease in cost of sales product costs as a percentage of consolidated net revenues is partially due to a higher percentage of net revenues for the three months ended September 30, 2007 relating to our publishing business which in general carries a lower percentage cost of sales product costs than our distribution business. Further, the second quarter of fiscal 2008 publishing net revenues included a larger mix of next-generation product sales which carries a higher gross margin than the other console platforms. Net revenues from our publishing business were 80% of total net revenues for the three months ended September 30, 2007 as compared to 67% for the three months ended September 30, 2006. In absolute dollars, cost of sales product costs increased 19% from $127.4 million for the three months ended September 30, 2006 to $152.0 million for the three months September 30, 2007. Cost of sales product costs increased with the mix of our revenue growth in our publishing and distribution businesses.

Cost of sales product costs represented 45% and 63% of consolidated net revenues for the six months ended September 30, 2007 and 2006, respectively. $0.4 million was not included in the cost of sales product costs for the six months ended September 30, 2007 as a result of deferring cost of sales product costs. The decrease in cost of sales product costs as a percentage of consolidated net revenues is partially due to a higher percentage of net revenues for the six months ended September 30, 2007 being attributable to our publishing business which in general carries a lower percentage cost of sales product costs than our distribution business. Further, the first six months of fiscal 2008 publishing net revenues included a larger mix of next-generation product sales which carries a higher gross margin than the other console platforms. Net revenues from our publishing business composed 84% of total net revenues for the six months ended September 30, 2007 as compared to 69% of total net revenues for the six months ended September 30, 2006. In absolute dollars, cost of sales product costs increased by $133.2 million as compared to the first six months of fiscal 2007. Cost of sales product costs increased with the mix of our revenue growth in our publishing and distribution businesses.

We expect cost of sales product costs as a percentage of consolidated net revenues for fiscal 2008 to be lower than fiscal 2007 due to a larger portion of our business being derived from the publishing segment and the continued migration of consumers to next generation products.

Cost of Sales Software Royalties and Amortization (in thousands)

	September 30, 2007	% of Publishing Net Revenues	September 30, 2006	% of Publishing Net Revenues	Increase/ (Decrease)	Percent Change

Six Months Ended	116,679	17%	28,609	11%	88,070	308%

Cost of sales software royalties and amortization as a percentage of publishing net revenues increased from 7% for the three months ended September 30, 2006 to 15% for the three months ended September 30, 2007 and from 11% for the six months ended September 30, 2006 to 17% for the six months ended September 30, 2007. In absolute dollars, cost of sales software royalties and amortization increased 311% from $9.3 million for the three months ended September 30, 2006 to $38.4 million for the three months ended September 30, 2007. For the six months ended September 30, 2007 cost of sales software royalties and amortization increased to $116.7 million or by 308% compared to the same period of fiscal 2007. $4.0 million was not included in the cost of sales software royalties and amortization for the three and six months ended September 30, 2007 as a result of deferring cost of sales software royalties and amortization. The increase in absolute dollars and the increase as a percentage of publishing net revenues, for the three and six months ended September 30, 2007, is primarily driven by a larger slate of titles in our publishing business versus the same period of prior year. For the first six months of fiscal 2008, we launched Spider-Man 3, Guitar Hero II for the Xbox360, Shrek the Third, and TRANSFORMERS: The Game, as compared to the first quarter fiscal 2007 releases of Over the Hedge and X-Men: The Official Game, and the second quarter of fiscal 2007 release of Lego Star Wars II: The Original Trilogy in Europe. Additionally, our publishing business was a larger portion of our overall consolidated net revenues in relation to our distribution business, which drove a higher level of cost of sales software royalties and amortization, given that this is a significant cost component of our publishing business.

For fiscal 2008, we expect costs of sales software royalties and amortization as a percentage of publishing net revenues to be in line with fiscal 2007 levels.

Six Months Ended	47,012	7%	14,272	5%	32,740	229%

Cost of sales intellectual property licenses increased 234% from $4.4 million or 3% of publishing net revenues for the three months ended September 30, 2006 to $14.5 million or 6% of publishing net revenues for the three months ended September 30, 2007. Cost of sales intellectual property licenses increased in both absolute dollars and as a percentage of publishing net revenues from $14.3 million or 5% of publishing net revenues to $47.0 million or 7% of publishing net revenues for the six months ended September 30, 2006 and 2007, respectively. $1.4 million was not included in the cost of sales intellectual property licenses for the three and six months ended September 30, 2007 as a result of deferring cost of sales intellectual property licenses.

The increases in absolute dollars for both the three and six month periods ended September 30, 2007 were primarily the result of the releases of TRANSFORMERS: The Game in Europe in the second quarter of fiscal 2008, and amortization of intellectual property licenses expenses relating to Spider-Man 3 and Shrek the Third released worldwide in the first quarter fiscal 2008 and TRANSFORMERS: The Game released in North America and Asia in first quarter fiscal 2008. This compares to titles associated with intellectual property released in the first quarter of fiscal 2007, Over the Hedge and X-Men: The Official Game. The increase in cost of sales intellectual property licenses as a percentage of publishing net revenues was due to the increased number of titles with intellectual property costs released in the three and six months periods ended September 30, 2007 when compared to the three and six months periods ended September 30, 2006.

Six Months Ended	65,982	10%	51,233	20%	14,749	29%

Product development expenses for the three months ended September 30, 2007 increased 29%, from $25.6 million to $33.1 million, as compared to the three months ended September 30, 2006. For the six months ended September 30, 2007 product development expenses increased $14.7 million, or 29%, from $51.2 million for the six months ended September 30, 2006 to $66.0 million for the six months ended September 30, 2007. As a percentage of publishing net revenues, product development expenses decreased from 20% for the three and six months ended September 30, 2006, respectively, to 13% and 10% for the three and six months ended September 30, 2007, respectively. This is primarily due to more consumers migrating to the next-generation console platforms, where we are able to charge premium pricing, and our successful titles in the next-generation console platforms. As a result, the growth in publishing net revenues outweighed the increase in product development expenses. The increase in absolute dollars primarily resulted from higher development, quality assurance, and outside developer costs incurred during the first two quarters of fiscal 2008 to support the greater number of titles in development and the more technologically advanced nature of those titles.

Edgar Filing: ACTIVISION INC /NY - Form 10-Q

We expect product development costs for fiscal 2008 to be higher in absolute dollars than fiscal 2007, although lower as a percentage of publishing net revenues, due to the increased costs related to developing more technologically advanced titles for the next-generation console systems offset by the more than proportionate projected increase in publishing net revenues. Over time, we intend to decrease the development costs of the next-generation console systems by leveraging technologies and tools across multiple platforms, increasing our development schedules to facilitate a longer pre-production phase and more predictable workflow times, and increasing the amount of game development in lower cost locations.

Sales and marketing expenses for the three months ended September 30, 2007 increased 59%, from $32.6 million to $51.9 million, as compared to the three months ended September 30, 2006. For the six months ended September 30, 2007, sales and marketing expenses increased $51.9 million, or 75%, from $68.7 million for the six months ended September 30, 2006 to $120.6 million for the six months ended September 30, 2007. As a percentage of publishing net revenues, sales and marketing expenses decreased from 17% and 18% for the three and six months ended September 30, 2006, respectively, to 16% and 15% for the three and six months ended September 30, 2007, respectively. The increases in absolute dollars were a result of higher spending associated with the larger fiscal 2008 first and second quarter releases which included three major movie-based releases, Spider-Man 3 and Shrek the Third worldwide releases in the first quarter of fiscal 2008, and TRANSFORMERS: The Game released in North America and Asia in the first quarter of fiscal 2008 and in Europe in the second quarter of fiscal 2008. This compares to the same period of the prior fiscal year which included Over the Hedge and X-Men: The Official Game in the first quarter of fiscal 2007, and our European release of Lego Star Wars II: The Original Trilogy in the second quarter of fiscal 2007.

We expect sales and marketing expenses to be higher on both an absolute basis and as a percentage of consolidated net revenues for the remainder of fiscal 2008 versus the comparable period of fiscal 2007 due to a larger slate and our anticipation of a highly competitive environment during the upcoming holiday season.

General and administrative expenses for the three months ended September 30, 2007 increased 42%, from $26.3 million to $37.4 million, as compared to the three months ended September 30, 2006. For the six months ended September 30, 2007, general and administrative expenses increased $24.9 million, or 52%, from $48.3 million for the six months ended September 30, 2006 to $73.2 million for the six months ended September 30, 2007, respectively. Expenses were higher than prior periods primarily due to an increase in headcount related costs, higher legal and professional fees, the consolidation of RedOctane and DemonWare (acquired in June 2006 and May 2007, respectively) into our results of operations for the quarter, amortization of intangible assets related to the acquisitions and the impact of changes in foreign currency rates.

Publishing operating loss for the three months ended September 30, 2007 decreased $26.9 million or 74% from the same period prior fiscal year, from $36.6 million to $9.7 million, while the percentage of operating loss to segment net revenues decreased from 29% to 4%. For the six months ended September 30, 2007 publishing operating income increased $87.6 million from the same period prior fiscal year, from an operating loss of $68.1 million to operating income of $19.5 million. These increases in operating income are primarily attributable to:

Stronger performance of our title releases for the first three and six months ended September 30, 2007.

Faster growth in our publishing segment, which in general has a higher operating margin than our distribution segment.

Cost control relative to significant growth in net revenues.

Partially offset by:

Higher cost of sales software royalties and amortization and cost of sales intellectual property licenses associated with our larger fiscal 2008 slate of titles for the three and six months ended September 30, 2007.

Higher general and administrative costs due to the increased headcount in our international geographies and at Red Octane, and higher legal and professional fees.

For the three months ended September 30, 2007 distribution operating income was $0.1 million or 0% of segment net revenues, which compares to operating loss of $0.8 million or (1)% of segment net revenues for the three months ended September 30, 2006. For the six months ended September 30, 2007 distribution operating income was $1.1 million or 1% of segment net revenues, which compares to operating loss of $2.7 million or (2)% of segment net revenues for the six months ended September 30, 2006. The results from distribution business have improved primarily due to the strong performance of Activision titles for the three and six months ended September 30, 2007, lower required reserves for returns and price protection, and a lower percentage of net revenues being comprised of hardware sales, which is a lower margin category when compared to sales of software.

The income tax provision of $1.9 million for the three months ended September 30, 2007 reflects our effective income tax rate for the quarter of 73.0%, and the income tax provision of $15.7 million for the six months ended September 30, 2007 reflects our estimated effective income tax rate of 35.5% for the six months ended September 30, 2007. Due to our relatively small net income before tax provision for the three months ended September 30, 2007, small changes in discrete items resulted in a large impact on our effective income tax rate for the quarter ended September 30, 2007. The significant items that generated the variance between our effective rate for the three months ended September 30, 2007 and our statutory rate of 35% were federal and state research and development tax credits, the impact of foreign tax rate differentials, and the federal deduction for domestic production activities, partially offset by state taxes and the impact of a decrease in the tax benefit of deferred tax assets on the books of our UK affiliates due to the recent enactment of a decrease in the UK statutory tax rate.

The aforementioned effective income tax rate for the quarter of 73.0% differs from our effective income tax rate of 17.3% for the three months ended September 30, 2006 due to an increase in anticipated pretax income for fiscal 2008 determined at September 30, 2007 versus the anticipated pretax income for fiscal 2007 determined at September 30, 2006, without a corresponding increase in the benefit of book/tax differences, in addition to the impact of a decrease in the tax benefit of deferred tax assets on the books of our UK affiliates due to the recent enactment of a decrease in the UK statutory tax rate.

The income tax benefit of $5.1 million for the three months ended September 30, 2006 reflects our effective income tax rate for the quarter of 17.3%, which differs from our effective tax rate of 21.9% for the year ended March 31, 2007 due to (1) an increase in the federal research and development credit for the full year ended March 31, 2007 over the amount originally anticipated for the year at September 30, 2006 due to the Congressional reinstatement of the federal R&D credit in quarter ended December 31, 2006; and (2) the elimination of the valuation allowance for research and development tax credits, partially offset by the nondeductible portion of annual cash bonuses determined in the three months ended March 31, 2007 under Section 162(m), and the establishment of tax reserves for these credits and other deferred tax assets. The significant items that generated the variance between our effective rate and our statutory rate of 35% for the three months ended September 30, 2006 were research and development tax credits for state purposes, and the impact of foreign tax rate differentials, partially offset by state taxes.

As of September 30, 2007, our primary source of liquidity is comprised of $392.5 million of cash and cash equivalents and $569.2 million of short-term investments. Over the last two years, our primary sources of liquidity have included cash on hand at the beginning of the year and cash flows generated from continuing operations. We have also generated significant cash flows from the issuance of our common stock to employees through the exercise of options which is described in more detail below in Cash Flows from Financing Activities. We have not utilized debt financing as a significant source of cash flows. However, we do have credit facilities available at certain of our international locations, which are described below in Credit Facilities, that can be utilized if needed.

Our investment portfolio consists of government and corporate securities with effective maturities less than 30 months. The longer the term or holding period of the securities, the more susceptible they are to changes in market rates of interest, yields on bonds, and market price volatility. Investments are reviewed periodically to identify possible impairment. When evaluating the investments, we review factors such as the length of time and extent to which fair value has been below cost basis, the financial condition of the issuer, and our ability and intent to hold the investment for a period of time which may be sufficient for anticipated recovery in market value. Gross unrealized losses of $0.8 million and $1.5 million as of September 30, 2007 and March 31, 2007, respectively, were comprised mostly of unrealized losses on U.S. agency issues, commercial paper, corporate bonds, and mortgage-backed securities. We have the intent and ability to hold these securities for a reasonable period of time sufficient for a forecasted recovery of fair value up to (or beyond) the initial cost of the investment. We expect to realize the full value of all of these investments upon maturity or sale.

We believe that we have sufficient working capital ($1,053.6 million at September 30, 2007), in combination with proceeds available from our international credit facilities, to finance our operational requirements for at least the next twelve months, including purchases of inventory and equipment, the funding of the development, production, marketing and sale of new products, and the acquisition of intellectual property rights for future products from third parties.

Cash Flows from Operating Activities

The primary drivers of cash flows from operating activities typically have included the collection of customer receivables generated by the sale of our products, offset by payments to vendors for the manufacture, distribution and marketing of our products, third-party developers and intellectual property holders and our own employees. A significant operating use of our cash relates to our continued investment in software development and intellectual property licenses. We spent approximately $88.8 million and $84.6 million in the six months ended September 30, 2007 and 2006, respectively, primarily in connection with internal development efforts and in support of third-party developers for our business. We expect that we will continue to make significant expenditures relating to our investment in software development and intellectual property licenses. Our future cash commitments relating to these investments are detailed below in Commitments. Cash flows from operations are affected by our ability to release highly successful, or hit, titles. Though many of these titles have substantial production or acquisition costs and marketing budgets, once a title recoups these costs, incremental net revenues typically will directly and positively impact cash flows.

For the six months ended September 30, 2007, cash flow provided by operating activities was $46.4 million as compared to cash flow used in operating activities of $169.3 million for the six months ended September 30, 2006. The principal components comprising the increased cash flows from operating activities for the six months ended September 30, 2007 included a decrease in accounts receivables as a result of stronger collections and an increase in accounts payable partially offset by the increase in inventory for upcoming holiday season releases. An analysis of the change in key balance sheet accounts is below in Key Balance Sheet Accounts. We expect that a primary source of future liquidity, both short-term and long-term, will be the result of cash flows from continuing operations.

Cash Flows from Investing Activities

The primary drivers of cash used in investing activities typically have included capital expenditures, acquisitions of privately held interactive software development and publishing companies, and the net effect of purchases and sales/maturities of short-term investment vehicles. The goal of our short-term investments is to maximize return while minimizing risk, maintaining liquidity, coordinating with anticipated working capital needs, and providing for prudent investment diversification.

For the six months ended September 30, 2007 and 2006, cash flows used in investing activities were $81.9 million and $16.9 million, respectively. For the six months ended September 30, 2007, cash flows used in investing activities were primarily the result of capital expenditures, cash paid for acquisitions, and purchases of short-term investments partially offset by proceeds from sales and maturities of short-term investments. We have historically financed our acquisitions through the issuance of shares of our common stock, cash or a combination of our common stock and cash. We will continue to evaluate potential acquisition candidates as to the benefit they bring to us.

Cash Flows from Financing Activities

The primary sources of cash provided by financing activities have historically related to transactions involving our common stock, including the issuance of shares of our common stock to employees. We have not utilized debt financing as a significant source of cash flows. However, we do have available credit facilities at certain of our international locations, which are described below in Credit Facilities, that can be utilized if needed.

For the six months ended September 30, 2007 and 2006, cash flows from financing activities were $38.4 million and $16.3 million, respectively. The cash provided by financing activities for the six months ended September 30, 2007 primarily is the result of the issuance of our common stock related to employee stock option and stock purchase plans. The increase in cash provided by financing activities is due to increase in stock option exercises during the six months ended September 30, 2007.

During fiscal 2003, our Board of Directors authorized a buyback program under which we can repurchase up to $350.0 million of our common stock. Under the program, shares may be purchased as determined by management and within certain guidelines, from time to time, in the open market or in privately negotiated transactions, including privately negotiated structured stock repurchase transactions and through transactions in the options markets. Depending on market conditions and other factors, these purchases may be commenced or suspended at any time or from time to time without prior notice. As of September 30, 2007, we had approximately $226.2 million available for utilization under the buyback program. We actively manage our capital structure as a component of our overall business strategy. Accordingly, in the future, when we determine that market conditions are appropriate, we may seek to achieve long term value for the shareholders through, among other things, new debt or equity financings or refinancings, share repurchases and other transactions involving our equity or debt securities.

Key Balance Sheet Accounts

Accounts Receivable

(amounts in thousands)	September 30, 2007	March 31, 2007	Increase/ (Decrease)
Gross accounts receivable	$ 216,344	$ 240,112	$ (23,768)
Net accounts receivable	109,725	148,694	(38,969)

The decrease in gross accounts receivable was primarily the result of collecting receivables related to the March 2007 launch of the PS3 in Europe.

The decrease in net accounts receivable from $148.7 million at March 31, 2007 to $109.7 million at September 30, 2007, was greater than the decrease in gross accounts receivable due to the increase in reserves for returns, price protection, and bad debt from $91.4 million at March 31, 2007 to $106.6 million at September 30, 2007. Reserves for returns and price protection are a function of the number of units and pricing of titles in retail inventory (see description of Allowances for Returns, Price Protection, Doubtful Accounts, and Inventory Obsolescence in Item 2: Critical Accounting Policies and Estimates).

Inventories

(amounts in thousands)	September 30, 2007	March 31, 2007	Increase/ (Decrease)
Inventories	$ 189,033	$ 91,231	$ 97,802

The increase in inventories at September 30, 2007 compared to March 31, 2007 is the result of additional inventories to support third quarter fiscal 2008 title releases such as Guitar Hero III.

Software Development

Increase/

Edgar Filing: ACTIVISION INC /NY - Form 10-Q

(amounts in thousands)	September 30, 2007	March 31, 2007	(Decrease)
Software development	$ 144,669	$ 130,922	$ 13,747

Software development increased from $130.9 million at March 31, 2007 to $144.7 million at September 30, 2007. The effect of deferring cost of sales software royalties and amortization increased software development by $4.0 million. The increase in software development was primarily the result of an increase in capitalization of third quarter fiscal 2008 titles releases and stock option expenses which was partially offset by the amortization of our movie-related titles released, such as Spider-Man 3, Shrek the Third, and TRANSFORMERS: The Game during the six months ended September 30, 2007.

Intellectual Property Licenses

(amounts in thousands)	September 30, 2007	March 31, 2007	Increase/ (Decrease)
Intellectual property licenses	$ 81,790	$ 100,274	$ (18,484)

Intellectual property licenses decreased from $100.3 million at March 31, 2007 to $81.8 million at September 30, 2007. The effect of deferring cost of sales intellectual property licenses increased intellectual property licenses by $1.4 million. The decrease in intellectual property licenses primarily result from the amortization of intellectual property licenses upon releases of titles during the first six months of fiscal 2008.

Accounts Payable

(amounts in thousands)	September 30, 2007	March 31, 2007	Increase/ (Decrease)
Accounts payable	$ 158,059	$ 136,517	$ 21,542

The increase in accounts payables of $21.5 million from March 31, 2007 to September 30, 2007 primarily reflects increased inventory purchases to support increased holiday sales volume in both our publishing and distributing segments.

Accrued Expenses and Other Liabilities

(amounts in thousands)	September 30, 2007	March 31, 2007	Increase/ (Decrease)
Accrued expenses and other liabilities	$ 255,266	$ 204,652	$ 50,614

The increase in accrued expenses was primarily due to the reclassification of a long-term liability to a current liability of $39.0 million of deferred consideration related to the acquisition of RedOctane, Inc. payable before June 6, 2008 in our common stock, and the increase in accruals for marketing and royalties related to first quarter 2008 title releases which was partially offset by the payment of accrued taxes payable.

Credit Facilities

We have revolving credit facilities with our Centresoft subsidiary located in the UK (the UK Facility) and our NBG subsidiary located in Germany (the German Facility). The UK Facility provided Centresoft with the ability to borrow up to GBP 12.0 million ($24.5 million), including issuing letters of credit, on a revolving basis as of September 30, 2007. The UK Facility bore interest at LIBOR plus 2.0% as of

Edgar Filing: ACTIVISION INC /NY - Form 10-Q

September 30, 2007, is collateralized by substantially all of the assets of the subsidiary and expires in January 2008. The UK Facility also contains various covenants that require the subsidiary to maintain specified financial ratios related to, among others, fixed charges. The German Facility provided for revolving loans up to EUR 0.5 million ($0.7 million) as of September 30, 2007, bore interest at a Eurocurrency rate plus 2.5%, is collateralized by certain of the subsidiary's property and equipment and has no expiration date. No borrowings were outstanding against the UK Facility and the German Facility as of September 30, 2007.

As of September 30, 2007, we maintained a $40.0 million irrevocable standby letter of credit. The standby letter of credit is required by one of our inventory manufacturers to qualify for payment terms on our inventory purchases. Under the terms of this arrangement, we are required to maintain on deposit with the bank a compensating balance, restricted as to use, of not less than the sum of the available amount of the letter of credit plus the aggregate amount of any drawings under the letter of credit that have been honored thereunder but not reimbursed. At September 30, 2007, the $40.0 million deposit is included in short-term investments as restricted cash. No borrowings were outstanding as of September 30, 2007.

As of September 30, 2007, our publishing subsidiary located in the UK maintained a EUR 4.0 million ($5.7 million) irrevocable standby letter of credit. The standby letter of credit is required by one of our inventory manufacturers to qualify for payment terms on our inventory purchases. The standby letter of credit does not require a compensating balance and is collateralized by substantially all of the assets of the subsidiary and expires in February 2008. No borrowings were outstanding as of September 30, 2007.

Commitments

In the normal course of business, we enter into contractual arrangements with third parties for non-cancelable operating lease agreements for our offices, for the development of products, and for the rights to intellectual property. Under these agreements, we commit to provide specified payments to a lessor, developer or intellectual property holder, based upon contractual arrangements. Typically, the payments to third-party developers are conditioned upon the achievement by the developers of contractually specified development milestones. These payments to third-party developers and intellectual property holders typically are deemed to be advances and are recoupable against future royalties earned by the developer or intellectual property holder based on the sale of the related game. Additionally, in connection with certain intellectual property right acquisitions and development agreements, we will commit to spend specified amounts for marketing support for the related game(s) which is to be developed or in which the intellectual property will be utilized. Assuming all contractual provisions are met, the total future minimum commitments for these and other contractual arrangements in place as of September 30, 2007, are scheduled to be paid as follows (amounts in thousands):

Fiscal year ending March 31,	Contractual Obligations(1)
	Facility and Equipment Leases	Developer and IP	Marketing	Total
2008 (remaining six months)	$ 9,268	$ 29,080	$ 8,741	$ 47,089
2009	19,265	55,572	46,015	120,852
2010	17,454	23,036	11,100	51,590
2011	15,045	30,586	13,100	58,731
2012	10,772	16,586		27,358
Thereafter	41,879	47,587		89,466
Total	$ 113,683	$ 202,447	$ 78,956	$ 395,086

(1) We have omitted FIN 48 liabilities from this table due to the inherent uncertainty regarding the timing of potential issue resolution. Specifically, either (a) the underlying positions have not been fully enough developed under audit to quantify at this time or, (b) the years relating to the issues for certain jurisdictions are not currently under audit. At the adoption date of April 1, 2007, the Company had $65.5 million of unrecognized tax benefits.

Financial Disclosure

We maintain internal controls over financial reporting, which generally include those controls relating to the preparation of our financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. We also are focused on our disclosure controls and procedures, which as defined by the SEC are generally those controls and procedures designed to ensure that financial and non-financial information required to be disclosed in our reports filed with the SEC is reported within the time periods specified in the SEC's rules and forms, and that such information is communicated to management, including our principal executive and financial officers, as appropriate, to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

Our Disclosure Committee, which operates under the Board approved Disclosure Committee Charter and Disclosure Controls & Procedures Policy, includes senior management representatives and assists executive management in its oversight of the accuracy and timeliness of our disclosures, as well as in implementing and evaluating our overall disclosure process. As part of our disclosure process, senior finance and operational representatives from all of our corporate divisions and business units prepare quarterly reports regarding their current quarter operational performance, future trends, subsequent events, internal controls, changes in internal controls and other accounting and disclosure-relevant information. These quarterly reports are reviewed by certain key corporate finance executives. These corporate finance representatives also conduct quarterly interviews on a rotating basis with the preparers of selected quarterly reports. The results of the quarterly reports and related interviews are reviewed by the Disclosure Committee. Finance representatives also conduct reviews with our senior management team, our internal and external counsel and other appropriate personnel involved in the disclosure process, as appropriate. Additionally, senior finance and operational representatives provide internal certifications regarding the accuracy of information they provide that is utilized in the preparation of our periodic public reports filed with the SEC. Financial results and other financial information also are reviewed with the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors on a quarterly basis. As required by applicable regulatory requirements, the principal executive and financial officers review and make various certifications regarding the accuracy of our periodic public reports filed with the SEC, our disclosure controls and procedures, and our internal control over financial reporting. With the assistance of the Disclosure Committee, we will continue to assess and monitor our disclosure controls and procedures, and our internal control over financial reporting, and will make refinements as necessary.

Recently Issued Accounting Standards

In September 2006, the FASB issued Statement No. 157 (SFAS No. 157), Fair Value Measurements. SFAS No. 157 defines fair value, establishes a framework for measuring fair value in generally accepted accounting principles, and expands disclosures about fair value measurements. SFAS No. 157 applies to other accounting pronouncements that require or permit fair value measurements and does not require any new fair value measurements. SFAS No. 157 is effective for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2007. We do not expect that the adoption of SFAS No. 157 will have a material effect on our financial position or results of operations.

In February 2007, the FASB issued Statement No. 159, The Fair Value Option for Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities - Including an amendment of FASB Statement No. 115 (SFAS No. 159). SFAS No. 159 permits entities to choose to measure many financial instruments and certain other items at fair value that are not currently required to be measured at fair value. Subsequent unrealized gains and losses on items for which the fair value option has been elected will be reported in earnings. The provisions of SFAS No. 159 are effective for financial statements issued for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2007. We are evaluating if we will adopt the fair value option of SFAS No. 159 and what impact the adoption will have on our Consolidated Financial Statements if we adopt.

In June 2007, the FASB ratified the Emerging Issues Task Force's (EITF) consensus conclusion on EITF 07-03, Accounting for Advance Payments for Goods or Services to Be Used in Future Research and Development. EITF 07-03 addresses the diversity which exists with respect to the accounting for the non-refundable portion of a payment made by a research and development entity for future research and development activities. Under this conclusion, an entity is required to defer and capitalize non-refundable advance payments made for research and development activities until the related goods are delivered or the related services are performed. EITF 07-03 is effective for interim or annual reporting periods in fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2007 and requires prospective application for new contracts entered into after the effective date. We do not expect the adoption of EITF 07-03 to have a material impact on our Consolidated Financial Statements.

Factors Affecting Future Performance

In connection with the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 (the Litigation Reform Act), we are hereby disclosing certain cautionary information to be used in connection with written materials (including this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q) and oral statements made by or on behalf of our employees and representatives that may contain forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Litigation Reform Act. Such statements consist of any statement other than a recitation of historical fact and can be identified by the use of forward-looking terminology such as may, expect, anticipate, estimate, or continue or the negative thereof or other variations thereon or comparable terminology. You are cautioned that all forward-looking statements are necessarily speculative and there are numerous risks and uncertainties that could cause actual events or results to differ materially from those referred to in such forward-looking statements. These forward-looking statements are subject to business, economic and legal risks and reflect management's current expectations and are inherently uncertain and difficult to predict. For a discussion that highlights some of the more important risks identified by management, but which should not be assumed to be the only factors that could affect future performance, see the discussion under the heading Risk Factors, included in Part I, Item 1A of our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2007, which is incorporated herein by reference and subsequent filings with the SEC. You are cautioned that we do not have a policy of updating or revising forward-looking statements, and thus you should not assume that silence by the Company over time means that actual events are bearing out as estimated in such forward-looking statements.

Item 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures about Market Risk

Market risk is the potential loss arising from fluctuations in market rates and prices. Our market risk exposures primarily include fluctuations in interest rates, foreign currency exchange rates and market prices. All of our market risk sensitive instruments are classified as instruments entered into for purposes other than trading. Our views on market risk are not necessarily indicative of actual results that may occur and do not represent the maximum possible gains and losses that may occur, since actual gains and losses will differ from those estimated based upon actual fluctuations in interest rates, foreign currency exchange rates and market prices and the timing of transactions.

Interest Rate Risk

Our exposure to market rate risk for changes in interest rates relates primarily to our investment portfolio. We do not use derivative financial instruments in our investment portfolio. We manage our interest rate risk by maintaining an investment portfolio consisting primarily of debt instruments with high credit quality and relatively short average maturities generally between three and thirty months. We also manage our interest rate risk by maintaining sufficient cash and cash equivalent balances such that we are typically able to hold our investments to maturity. As of September 30, 2007, our cash equivalents and short-term investments included debt securities and certificates of deposit of $724.0 million.

The following table presents the amounts and related weighted average interest rates of our investment portfolio as of September 30, 2007 (amounts in thousands):

Edgar Filing: ACTIVISION INC /NY - Form 10-Q

	Average Interest Rate	Amortized Cost	Fair Value
Cash equivalents:
Fixed rate	5.77%	$ 52,317	$ 52,301
Variable rate	5.24%	143,384	143,384
Short-term investments:
Fixed rate	5.37%	$ 528,828	$ 528,318

Foreign Currency Exchange Rate Risk

We transact business in many different foreign currencies and may be exposed to financial market risk resulting from fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates, particularly the EUR, GBP and AUD. The volatility of the EUR, GBP and AUD (and all other applicable currencies) will be monitored frequently throughout the coming year. When appropriate, we enter into hedging transactions in order to mitigate our risk from foreign currency fluctuations. We will continue to use hedging programs in the future and may use currency forward contracts, currency options and/or other derivative financial instruments commonly utilized to reduce financial market risks if it is determined that such hedging activities are appropriate to reduce risk. We do not hold or purchase any foreign currency contracts for trading purposes. As of September 30, 2007, we had outstanding foreign currency exchange forward contracts of approximately $33.7 million. In addition, accrued expenses included approximately $677,000 of pre-tax unrealized losses for the estimated fair value of outstanding foreign currency exchange forward contracts, which was recorded in earnings as the contracts did not qualify as hedging instruments.

Item 4. Controls and Procedures

1) Definition and Limitations of Disclosure Controls and Procedures.

Our disclosure controls and procedures (as such term is defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Exchange Act) are designed to ensure that: (i) information required to be disclosed in our reports filed under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 is recorded, processed, summarized, and reported within the time periods specified in the Securities and Exchange Commission's rules and forms and (ii) information is accumulated and communicated to management, including our Chief Executive Officers and Chief Financial Officer, as appropriate to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosures. A control system, no matter how well designed and operated, can provide only reasonable, not absolute, assurance that it will detect or uncover failures within the Company to disclose material information otherwise required to be set forth in our periodic reports. Inherent limitations to any system of disclosure controls and procedures include, but are not limited to, the possibility of human error and the circumvention or overriding of such controls by one or more persons. In addition, we have designed our system of controls based on certain assumptions, which we believe are reasonable, about the likelihood of future events, and our system of controls may therefore not achieve its desired objectives under all possible future events.

2) Evaluation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures.

Our management, with the participation of our Chief Executive Officers and Chief Financial Officer, evaluated the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Exchange Act) as of September 30, 2007. Management recognizes that any controls and procedures, no matter how well designed and operated, can provide only reasonable assurance of achieving their objectives, and management necessarily applies its judgment in evaluating the cost-benefit relationship of possible controls and procedures. Based on the evaluation of our disclosure controls and procedures as of September 30, 2007, our Chief Executive Officers and Chief Financial Officer concluded that, as of such date, our disclosure controls and procedures were effective to provide reasonable assurance that information required to be disclosed by the Company in the reports that it files or submits under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized, and reported on a timely basis.

3) Changes in Internal Control Over Financial Reporting.

There was no change in our internal control over financial reporting (as such term is defined in Rules 13a-15(f) and 15(d)-15(f) under the Exchange Act) during the quarter ended September 30, 2007 that has materially affected or is reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.

PART II. OTHER INFORMATION

Item 1. Legal Proceedings

In July 2006, individuals and/or entities claiming to be stockholders of the Company filed derivative lawsuits, purportedly on behalf of the Company, against certain current and former members of the Company's Board of Directors as well as several current and former officers of the Company. Three derivative actions have been filed in Los Angeles Superior Court: Vazquez v. Kotick, et al., L.A.S.C. Case No. BC355327 (filed July 12, 2006); Greuer v. Kotick, et al. L.A.S.C. Case No. SC090343 (filed July 12, 2006); and Amalgamated Bank v. Baker, et al., L.A.S.C. Case No. BC356454 (filed August 3, 2006). These actions have been consolidated by the court under the caption In re Activision Shareholder Derivative Litigation, L.A.S.C. Master File No. SC090343 (West, J.). Two derivative actions have been filed in the United States District Court for the Central District of California: Pfeiffer v. Kotick, et al., C.D. Cal. Case No. CV06-4771 MRP (JTLx) (filed July 31, 2006); and Hamian v. Kotick, et al., C.D. Cal. Case No. CV06-5375 MRP (JLTx) (filed August 25, 2006). These actions have also been consolidated, under the caption In re Activision, Inc. Shareholder Derivative Litigation, C.D. Cal. Case No. CV06-4771 MRP (JTLx) (Pfaelzer, J.). The consolidated complaints allege, among other things, purported improprieties in the Company's issuance of stock options. Plaintiffs seek various relief on behalf of the Company, including damages, restitution of benefits obtained from the alleged misconduct, equitable relief, including an accounting and rescission of option contracts; and various corporate governance reforms. The Company expects that defense expenses associated with the matters will be covered by its directors and officers insurance, subject to the terms and conditions of the applicable policies.

On May 24, 2007, the Superior Court granted the Company's motion to stay the state action. The court's order stays the action pending the resolution of motions to dismiss in the federal action, but is without prejudice to any party's right to seek modification of the stay upon a showing of good cause, including a showing that matters may be addressed in the Superior Court without the potential for conflict with or duplication of the federal court proceedings. On July 13, 2007, Plaintiffs filed their second amended complaint, which alleges substantially the same claims as the previous complaints, with new allegations related to Plaintiffs' standing, recent public facts and additional analyses. The parties are briefing the threshold issues and a hearing on them is scheduled for November 7, 2007.

The Company filed motions to dismiss in the federal action on June 1, 2007. A hearing on the motions has been continued to December 3, 2007.

The Company was also informed that, on June 1, 2007, a derivative case, Abdelnur vs. Kotick et al., was filed in the United States District Court for the Central District of California, C.D. Case No. CV07-3575 AHM (PJWx), by the same law firm that previously filed the Hamian case, alleging substantially the same claims. The action has now been consolidated with the existing federal consolidated action and the motions to dismiss filed June 1, 2007 have been deemed to have also been filed in response to the Abdelnur complaint.

On July 18, 2007, the Company was informed that another derivative case, Scarborough v. Kotick et al., was filed in the United States District Court for the Central District of California, Case No. CV07-4602 SVW (PLAx), also by the same law firm that previously filed the Hamian case, alleging substantially the same claims. This action has been consolidated with the federal consolidated case. The parties attended a mediation related to the consolidated federal case on November 1, 2007.

On July 24, 2006, the Company received a letter of informal inquiry from the SEC requesting certain documents and information relating to the Company's historical stock option grant practices. Thereafter, the SEC issued a formal order of non-public investigation, pursuant to which it has subpoenaed documents from the Company related to the investigation, and has subpoenaed testimony and documents from certain current and former directors, officers and employees of the Company.

The Company is cooperating with the SEC's investigation, and representatives of the special subcommittee of independent members of our Board of Directors established in July 2006 to review our historical stock option granting practices (the Special Subcommittee) and its legal counsel have met with members of the staff of the SEC on several occasions, in person and by telephone (as has the Company's outside legal counsel), to discuss the progress of the Special Subcommittee's investigation and to brief the SEC staff on the Special Subcommittee's findings and recommendations. A representative of the U.S. Department of Justice has attended certain of these meetings and requested copies of certain documents that we have provided to the staff of the SEC. At this time, the Company has not received any grand jury subpoenas or written requests from the Department of Justice.

In addition, we are party to other routine claims and suits brought by us and against us in the ordinary course of business, including disputes arising over the ownership of intellectual property rights, contractual claims, employment laws, regulations and relationships, and collection matters. In the opinion of management, after consultation with legal counsel, the outcome of such routine claims and lawsuits will not have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, or liquidity.

Item 4. Submission of Matters to a Vote of Security Holders

We held our 2007 Annual Meeting of the Stockholders on September 27, 2007 in Beverly Hills, California. The following five items were submitted to a vote of the stockholders:

1. the election of eight directors to hold office until the next annual meeting of Activision's stockholders and until their respective successors are duly elected and qualified;
2. the approval of the Activision, Inc. 2007 Incentive Plan;
3. the ratification of the appointment of PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP as our independent registered public accounting firm for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2008;
4. the approval of a stockholder proposal regarding diversity of our Board of Directors; and
5. the approval of a stockholder proposal regarding a stockholder advisory vote on executive compensation.

All eight director nominees, each of whom was then a member of the Board of Directors and was recommended by the Board, were elected. Set forth below are the results of the voting,

Item 5. Other Information

Pursuant to an agreement dated September 12, 2007, Nintendo of America Inc. (Nintendo) and Activision Publishing, Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company and the Company's principal operating subsidiary, entered into a Confidential License Agreement for the Wii Console (Western Hemisphere), which is filed herewith as Exhibit 10.9. Pursuant to the agreement, Nintendo has granted to Activision Publishing a nonexclusive license to use intellectual property rights of Nintendo to develop, manufacture, advertise, market and sell video game software for the Wii Console until October 12, 2009 (subject to earlier termination in certain events). Under the agreement, Nintendo has the right to approve each game, including the artwork and the printed materials distributed with the game. The amounts to be paid by Activision Publishing to Nintendo under the agreement will be based on Nintendo's then current pricing schedule, and will include a royalty for the use of Nintendo's intellectual property rights.

Pursuant to an amendment dated July 16, 2007, filed herewith as Exhibit 10.6, Activision Publishing and Nintendo have extended the term of the parties' October 11, 2004 Confidential License Agreement for Nintendo DS (Western Hemisphere) for an additional two years, to October 10, 2009.
