September 30, 2008 (Unaudited)

To Our Investors:

The underlying value of the Clough Global Allocation Fund, defined as the change in net asset value adjusted for reinvested distributions, is down 37.1% for the calendar year-to-date period through October 31, 2008. The return on the Fund s market price for the same period was -40.8%. The Morgan Stanley World Index declined 38.3% and the S&P 500 declined 32.8% over the same period. Since inception, the Fund s compound annual total return including distributions is 1.5% compared to 0.8% for the Morgan Stanley World Index and - 1.1% for the S&P 500 through October 31, 2008. The Fund s compound annual return since inception on market price was - 3.1%.

The last six months have been particularly challenging for global investors and our Funds have not been immune. The well publicized and analyzed credit crisis emanating from the US and other highly indebted large economies pressured all asset classes. Equity, corporate bonds and commodity markets virtually all declined, across nearly all geographic regions. Much of these declines were driven by forced selling as part of an ongoing deleveraging process.

This difficult period has undoubtedly created many investment opportunities for our Funds. The ongoing deflation of the credit structure in the developed world will moderate and legitimate investment cycles should reemerge. We believe that equities provide a far better value proposition today and we have begun to move our equity allocations higher. One thing we feel certain of is debt will not be so easily accessible in the future, and the default structure will migrate to other sectors of the economy besides housing. All of this implies a long period of weak economic activity so having a global perspective and a willingness to focus the Fund on a narrow list of themes that provide an earnings tailwind will be critical to performance.

First, we think equities in emerging markets, which benefit from high levels of private savings and low debt levels, will bottom first and lead global markets higher. Asia and Brazil remain our areas of greatest interest and both rallied strongly in early November. Brazil s market in particular intrigues us. We believe equities are cheap there and corporate activity is awakening. Banco Itau is acquiring Unibanco, creating South America s largest financial institution. Our investment focus there is on the banking and consumer sectors. Even as developed economies slow, Brazil s well capitalized banking sector continues to grow in excess of 20% annually.

Secondly, we think global infrastructure could be a major market theme looking ahead. We are beginning to build an important position in a group of industrial stocks which we believe will be beneficiaries of such a pickup. President Elect Obama has announced federal government spending on infrastructure will accelerate as the needs are legion and a new administration will have every incentive to bring forth stimulus spending in response to the credit crisis. Other governments will likely join in. Strong investment spending is already being planned in emerging economies. China is reducing interest rates and in contrast to a year ago when government policy was aimed at slowing real estate development, policy today has turned 180 degrees to regenerate both investment and exports. What makes the theme especially appealing is that many infrastructure stocks are down 60 80% off their highs and in many cases are back to their 2002 2003 levels. Alcoa and Freeport McMoran both trade at just 0.7 price-to-book ratio (ratio of market price to book value). Because the recent cycle has been so strong their balance sheets are flush with cash.

Thirdly, the stocks of oil and gas producers are close to a bottom, we think. The world s large oil fields are depleting and the sharp drop in energy prices has slowed much of the investment in new wells. Over time, that will only exacerbate supply problems while softer commodity prices have already begun to stimulate demand.

Finally, a number of large capitalization issues that generate high free cash flow levels appear to have begun to bottom. Because of the overall equity market collapse, many stocks offer free cash flow yields of 8% or higher.

The dislocation in credit markets has also provided opportunities for us to enhance the yield generated by our asset allocation to fixed income markets. Corporate bond yields, both investment grade and non-investment grade, have increased significantly as structured finance vehicles such as Collateralized Loan Obligations (CLOs) are being forced to unwind and the bonds they hold search for a home. We have historically not had significant exposure to corporate credit, as we have generally not felt the risk adjusted returns were sufficiently attractive. That is no longer the case. We are seeing similarly attractive yield and return opportunities from high quality mortgage bonds which are also trading at much higher than normal spreads. We expect to shift the portfolio into these higher yielding securities over the coming months.

Ultimately the economy cannot operate properly until the financial system is functioning again. Central banks are generally slow to respond to deflationary pressures. The strong dollar and weak gold price attest to the fact that when the Fed reflates to stem a credit collapse, the results are not inflationary. Central banks appear to be coming to realize that the process of stuffing liquidity into the financial system did not undue the logjam which was restricting credit. It may have forestalled an immediate meltdown because it relieved short term funding needs, but it did not address the more fundamental issue of solvency and declining asset values. Now Federal Reserve spokespeople are signaling that quantitative easing is being considered, if not already being effectively put in place. Yield curves are still inverted in the U.K. and in Europe and that signals that money rates have a long way to fall there as well.

2008 Semi-Annual Report

We believe there are two dynamics the financial markets have to navigate through. First, the demise of the large broker dealers did more than end an era on Wall Street. It removed liquidity and depth from the markets and minor changes in sentiment are now reflected in large changes in price so market volatility has picked up dramatically. Secondly, the economy has to negotiate its way through a major debt liquidation for the first time in decades and that signals a long period of weak earnings.
Investors responded to these factors by liquidating securities of all stripes in October and our question is where did they put the money? We think money rates will decline to near zero and remain there for years as banking system consolidation picks up, reducing the need for, and price of deposits. Yields on high quality long-term bonds will also likely decline to unattractive levels. Leveraged investment strategies in both fixed income and private equity may never be what they were. We believe that leaves global equities as the default strategy, the only securities class that offers reasonably high returns. As money rates fall, equities are likely to be the prime beneficiaries. We believe the Fund is invested in the areas to which the money will migrate.
If you have any questions or comments, please feel free to call me 877-256-8445 or visit the website at www.cloughglobal.com.
Sincerely,
Charles I. Clough, Jr.
