1. BASIS OF PRESENTATION

Going Concern Issue

These financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis and do not include any adjustments to the measurement and classification of the recorded asset amounts and classification of liabilities that might be necessary should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern. The company has experienced several continuous years of operating losses. The Company's ability to realize its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of business is dependent upon continued support. The Company is also dependent on an infusion of equity from potential shareholders. The Company is currently attempting to obtain additional financing from its existing shareholders and other strategic investors to continue its operations. However, there can be no assurance that the Company will obtain sufficient additional funds from these sources.

The conditions cause substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. A failure to continue, as a going concern would require that stated amounts of assets and liabilities be reflected on a liquidation basis that could differ from the going concern basis.

Bulletin Board Listing

In January 2001, the Company completed a Registration Statement that has been filed with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission in order for the Company's shares to be eligible for trading in the United States on the National Association of Securities Dealings over-the-counter Bulletin Board.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

These financial statements have been prepared by management in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States, the more significant of which are outlined below.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with United States generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the year. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Foreign Currency Translation

The Company's reporting currency is the United States dollar because the Company is a United States corporation and it is trading publicly in the United States. The statements of operations are translated into United States dollars using the average exchange rate for the year. The balance sheets are translated into United States dollars using the year-end exchange rate.

Stock Option Plans

The Company applies the fair value based method of accounting prescribed by SFAS No. 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation in accounting for its stock options granted to both employees and non-employees. As such, compensation expense is recorded on the date of grant based on the fair value of the award and is recognized over the service period.

Impairment of Long-Lived Assets and Long-Lived Assets to be Disposed of

The Company accounts for long-lived assets in accordance with the provisions of SFAS No. 121, Accounting for the Impairment of Long-Lived Assets and Long-Lived Assets to be Disposed of. This statement requires that long-lived assets and certain identifiable intangibles be reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. Recoverability of assets to be held and used is measured by a comparison of the carrying amount of an asset to future net cash flows expected to be generated by the asset. If such assets are considered to be impaired, the impairment to be recognized is measured by the amount by which the carrying amount of the assets exceeds the fair value of the assets. Assets to be disposed of are reported at the lower of the carrying amount or fair value less costs to sell.

3. CAPITAL STOCK

The number of outstanding shares of the Company as at June 30, 2003 is computed as follows:

The Company's authorized capital stock consists of 950,000,000 shares of common stock and 25,000,000 shares of preferred stock each with a par value of $0.001 per share. The Company is in the process of increasing the authorized capital for its common shares. The 1,250,000 shares of issued preferred stock are voting, convertible as described further below to shares of common stock on a 3 for 1 basis at the option of the holder based on certain revenue targets being met and participate equally as to dividends with each share of common stock. If after five years the performance criteria have not been met, the remaining shares of preferred stock are convertible into one half of a share of common stock. Any dividends declared and paid by the Company would be declared and paid in United States dollars.

3. CAPITAL STOCK (continued)

The remaining 1,250,000 shares of preferred stock can be converted into 3,750,000 shares of common stock when the Company reaches $7,000,000 Canadian in cumulative revenue. For accounting purposes, the conversion of the shares of preferred stock includes both a non-performance element (equal to one half of the share of preferred stock converted) and a performance element (equal to the balance). If and when additional shares of common stock are issued based upon meeting the performance criteria, the fair value of any such additional shares of common stock will be recognized as a deemed distribution against equity in the period when the performance criteria is met. Until these targets are met, the shares of preferred stock remain outstanding with all rights and restrictions continuing.

Overview -----

Innofone.com Inc. currently operates out of Maryland with mailing address of 3470 Olney-Laytonsville Rd., Suite 118, Olney, MD 20832.

The Company currently does not have sufficient funds with which to sustain its operations. The company plans to issue restricted 144 stock to try and raise operating capital for the company. There is no assurance that this can be done. There is little chance that the company will receive a dividend from the bankruptcy of its previously owned subsidiary, Innofone Canada.

The Company is currently reviewing and implementing new disclosure controls and procedures to ensure that they fully comply with the new Securities Exchange Act Rules 13a-15 and 15d-15.

- (a) Plan of Operations
- (b) Acquisitions
- (c) Future

The company plans to look for new acquisitions and will not invest or operate any current or previously owned subsidiaries.

The company has relocated to Maryland and may change it's offices again if the company is successful in finding a new acquisition.

The Company currently has a going concern issue, as there are insufficient assets or prospective cash flows to fund its liabilities. While the Company is hopeful that it can raise money through the sale of stock, there are no assurances that this can be achieved, it cannot be determined if the company will be able to meet its current or future obligations.

Due to the going concern issues and lack of sufficient operating funds, Mr Richardson is currently funding operations.

Edgar Filing: INNOFONE COM INC - Form 10QSB

(b) Results of Operations

As reflected in the company's statement of operations the company has recorded no sales for the year and the company does not currently conduct any operations.

The company has paid off old debt holders with stock pursuant to the terms of a 2001 agreement. The current officers and directors are covering all expenses of the company via short-term loans and advances which have been and will continue to be paid off in stock until the company has the cash flow to cover these expenses. These services include the preparation of company filings, the search of acquisition targets and legal expenses.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

As previously mentioned, the company has a going concern issue, as there are insufficient assets or prospective cash flows to fund its liabilities. The effect of this on the company is grave and the future of the company is in great peril.
