SECTION 2. FINANCIAL INFORMATION.Item 2.02. Results of Operations and Financial Condition.

Attached as Exhibit 99.1 and incorporated herein by reference is a copy of FedEx Corporation's press release, dated June 4, 2012, relating to the matters described below in Items 2.05 and 2.06 of this report, which will be included in FedEx's financial results for the fourth quarter ended May 31, 2012. The press release is being furnished pursuant to Item 2.02 of Form 8-K and General Instruction B.2 thereunder. The information in the release shall not be deemed filed for purposes of Section 18 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, or otherwise subject to the liabilities of that section, nor shall it be deemed incorporated by reference in any filing under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended.

Item 2.05. Costs Associated with Exit or Disposal Activities.Item 2.06. Material Impairments.

On June 4, 2012, the Board of Directors of FedEx Corporation approved the decision of management of Federal Express Corporation (FedEx Express) during May 2012 to permanently retire from service 18 Airbus A310-200 aircraft and 26 related engines, as well as six Boeing MD10-10 aircraft and 17 related engines. The majority of these aircraft are currently parked and not in revenue service. As a consequence, a non-cash impairment charge of $134 million ($84 million, net of tax, or $0.26 per diluted share) was recorded in the fourth quarter. The decision to permanently retire these aircraft will better align the U.S. domestic air network capacity of FedEx Express to match current and anticipated shipment volumes.

In addition, FedEx Express is shortening the depreciable lives of the following aircraft and related engines: 31 additional Boeing MD10-10 aircraft, 18 additional Airbus A310-200 aircraft, four Boeing 727-200 aircraft and one Boeing MD10-30 aircraft. This will accelerate the retirement of these aircraft to align with the delivery schedule for replacement Boeing 767-300F aircraft and Boeing 757-200 aircraft. The accelerated depreciation on these aircraft is expected to total $196 million over the next three fiscal years, including $69 million to be recorded in the fiscal year ending May 31, 2013. This accelerated depreciation will be partially offset by the avoidance of depreciation related to the aircraft retirements, as estimated below:

Total Impact on Fleet Depreciation Decrease/(Increase)

(in millions)

	FY13	FY14	FY15	FY16	FY17- FY25	Total
Depreciation Avoided Due to Retirements	$ 24	$ 22	$ 18	$ 16	$ 54	$ 134
Accelerated Depreciation Impact	(69)	(70)	(57)	10	186
Net Impact on Depreciation	($ 45)	($ 48)	($ 39)	$ 26	$ 240	$ 134

These conclusions were made in response to FedEx Express management's completion of its new fleet plan, a long-range forecast of aircraft utilization based on current volume projections combined with planned aircraft deliveries and retirements, during the fourth quarter of the fiscal year ended May 31, 2012. FedEx does not expect to be required to make any current or future cash expenditures as a result of these aircraft actions.

SECTION 9. CORPORATE GOVERNANCE AND MANAGEMENT.

Item 5.02. Departure of Directors or Certain Officers; Election of Directors; Appointment of Certain Officers; Compensatory Arrangements of Certain Officers.

FY2012 AIC Compensation Plan Exclusion of Certain Non-Recurring Items from AIC Program. In addition to the non-cash impairment charge outlined in Items 2.05 and 2.06 above, FedEx Corporation recorded an immaterial gain in the fourth quarter of the fiscal year ended May 31, 2012 related to the sale of the Japanese operations of FedEx Office. On June 4, 2012, the Board of Directors of FedEx Corporation, upon the recommendation of its Compensation Committee, decided that it was in the best interests of the company and its shareowners to exclude these non-recurring items from fiscal 2012 pre-tax income for purposes of determining annual incentive compensation (AIC) payouts for the fiscal year ended May 31, 2012, including for FedEx s named executive officers. The AIC program provides a cash payment opportunity at the conclusion of the fiscal year based upon the achievement of AIC plan objectives for company financial and individual performance, which are established at the beginning of the year. By excluding these two items, the AIC payout will more accurately reflect FedEx s core financial performance in fiscal 2012. No adjustments were made to FedEx s long-term incentive compensation plans as a result of these non-recurring items.
