Petrobras concludes acquisition of Shell assets in Uruguay

(Rio de Janeiro, June 1, 2006). PETRÓLEO BRASILEIRO S/A - PETROBRAS, [Bovespa: PETR3/PETR4, NYSE: PBR/PBRA, Latibex: XPBR/XPBRA, BCBA: APBR/APBRA], a Brazilian international energy company, announces that concluded today the acquisition of Shell's assets in Uruguay, comprising fuel distribution and sale operations. The acquisition includes service stations all over the Uruguayan territory, in addition to aviation fuel, maritime products, and lubricants sale facilities.

As from today, the service stations will operate under Petrobras' responsibility. Changing Shell's brand to Petrobras standard will take twelve months.

The public relationship line shall also be the same, in order to strengthen businesses in that country.

Because of its geographical position, Uruguay is strategic to Petrobras, as it is close to Brazil, Argentina, and Paraguay. That location represents a great potential of growth and synergy with current company's assets at the South Cone.

The business involved acquisitions in Paraguay, Colombia and Uruguay, an operation around 140 million dollars.

The operation is in line with Petrobras' Strategic Planning objectives, i.e., consolidate itself as an integrated energy company.
