If an emerging growth company, indicate by check mark if the registrant has elected not to use the extended transition period for complying with any new or revised financial accounting standards provided pursuant to Section 13(a) of the Exchange Act.

Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On February 6, 2019, Zogenix International Limited, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Zogenix, Inc. (collectively, the “Company”) entered into a Master Supply Agreement (the “Agreement”) with Aptuit (Oxford) Limited, an Evotec company (“Aptuit”), pursuant to which Aptuit will be the commercial manufacturer and supplier of the fenfluramine active pharmaceutical ingredient (“API”) used in the Company’s product candidate FINTEPLA®. The Agreement is effective as of January 31, 2019 (the “Effective Date”).

Pursuant to the Agreement, Aptuit will provide the Company with the API for a specified price, which price may be adjusted, subject to specified limitations. Aptuit has been providing the API to the Company for several years for the Company’s clinical trial material supply needs and registration batches. Under the Agreement, the API will be supplied pursuant to purchase orders which the Company may deliver to Aptuit from time to time. At least 30 days before the anticipated approval of FINTEPLA by a regulatory agency, and then each month following approval, the Company is required to deliver a 24-month forecast of its expected commercial orders, a portion of which will be considered a binding, firm order.

The term of the Agreement is five years from the Effective Date, which term shall be automatically extended for successive two year periods thereafter, unless terminated earlier. Either party may terminate the Agreement (1) upon specified written notice to the other party, subject to advance notice periods of at least 12 months, if terminated by the Company, and at least 24 months, if terminated by Aptuit, (2) upon written notice if the other party has failed to remedy a material breach of any of its representations, warranties or other obligations under the Agreement within a specified period following receipt of written notice of such breach, and (3) immediately upon written notice to the other party in the event that the other party files for bankruptcy, reorganization, liquidation or receivership proceedings, or a substantial portion of the assets of such party is assigned for the benefit of such party’s creditors. The Agreement will also terminate automatically if FINTEPLA is withdrawn as a result of regulatory review or the Company decides to cease development activities of FINTEPLA.

The foregoing description of the Agreement does not purport to be complete and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the Agreement, a copy of which will be filed as an exhibit to the Company’s Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the period ending March 31, 2019. The Company intends to seek confidential treatment for certain portions of the Agreement.
